Jobless rate lifts hope of snaring LPW grant

Canton officials hope to cash in on the Detroit area's high unemployment rate by snaring $1 1/2 to $3 million in federal funds.

Confident that a Local Public Works program (LPW) will win reinstatement, grant coordinator Terry Carroll is weighing a list of possible projects for submission to a federal grants agency.

A community recreation center, featuring a gymnasium and indoor swimming pool, are among the proposed projects which stand the best chance of approval, Carroll maintains. Other possible winners include a third fire station for the township or a new police facility.

Carroll will ask for Township Board ranking of those and other projects later this month.

THE TOWNSHIP received a $2.7 million LPW grant in 1976 for construction of a new administration building on Canton Center and Proctor.

At that time, a national unemployment rate of 6.5 percent triggered availability of LPW funds from the federal Economic Development Administration (EDA).

Although unemployment now exceeds those figures, conflicting U.S. House and Senate legislation has stymied reauthorization of the job-producing program, Carroll said.

The Senate and House bills reinstate expired legislation which established the EDA. But the Senate bill, endorsed by President Carter, failed to renew the agency's LPW program.

Carroll said Washington observers now believe that lobbying efforts of the financially plagued construction industry has changed Carter's mind on LPW funding.

"It looks pretty good right now," said Carroll regarding the Senate bill's chance of passage.

According to Carroll, Westland and other nearby communities have compiled their applications for LPW grants already.

Carroll said Canton should complete its priority list of projects and estimate costs by the end of this month.

"In 1976, we had only three or four weeks reaction time after we were notified (that LPW applications would be accepted.)"

NATIONWIDE competition for federal grants is stiff.

But Carroll believes that Canton stands a good chance of snaring $1 1/2 to $3 million from the LPW program.

Michigan should receive a large share of the appropriation because of its soaring unemployment rate, Carroll said. March figures from the Michigan Employment Security Commission estimated Canton's unemployment rate at 9 percent.

Attorney cited for poison in U.S. mail

A Canton Township attorney faces federal charges of sending a toxic powder found in tear gas through the U.S. mail in an alleged attempt to seek revenge against a Southfield restaurant manager.

Michael Joseph Blake, with law offices on Ford Road, east of Canton Center, faces a grand jury investigation following his arrest on the charge, U.S. Attorney James K. Robinson said Monday.

Blake and a companion were escorted out of T.G.I. Friday's restaurant by police officers at 12:35 a.m. May 4 when they refused to voluntarily comply with management's order to leave, according to Southfield Public Information Officer Steve Zultowski.

Blake and another man were ejected from the restaurant and lounge after they "became abusive," the federal complaint states.

Michael Rossi, assistant restaurant manager, said Monday he recalls that one man identified himself as an attorney when he was ordered out, then asked for Rossi's business card and vowed to "get even."

Rossi said he shrugged off the alleged threat, "because it happens all the time."

On May 25 and 26 several postal workers in the main Detroit office suffered symptoms of nausea, runny noses, burning eyes, sore throats and skin irritation while sorting mail at the facility, states Paul Groza Jr. in a federal complaint lodged by U.S. Attorney James K. Robinson.

On May 27, the complaint states, a first-class letter with no return address, addressed to Mike Rossi at T.G.I. Friday's, 26299 Evergreen, Southfield, was isolated as "the source of the irritation."

Man faces break-in charge

Members of several area police departments believe a raid on a Plymouth apartment early this week is the missing link to recent home burglaries in at least four neighboring communities.

Canton Police believe a Plymouth man is responsible for at least 13 of 19 recent cat burglaries there since mid-May, says Canton Police Chief Jerry Cox.

Christopher Burkhardt, 18, was arraigned Wednesday afternoon before Judge James Garber in 35th District Court on the count of breaking and entering. That charge stemmed from a June 22 case on Boulder Court in Canton.

Burkhardt was turned over to Canton Police Tuesday night following his arrest by Plymouth Police at his home at 369 W. Ann Arbor Trail early Tuesday morning.

Among the confiscated items were: a pair of dueling swords, a 35-mm camera, a sawed-off shotgun, calculators, a gold wedding band and engagement ring, a radio, a cassette recorder, a wrist watch and a pair of hockey skates.

In Canton Township, police believe some $2,500 in cash was taken in the 19 burglaries since mid-May. The most recent occurred June 21-22 in Canton's Parklane subdivision when $1,200 was reported missing from seven homes.

Meanwhile, in Plymouth Township, some six home break-ins have occurred in recent weeks in the Mayflower and Lake Pointe subdivisions.

In all but one case, only cash was taken from women's purses in the homes. The purses were later discarded ed on surrounding lawns.

Wayne County Sheriffs report the most recent cases, on Thornridge and Woodbrook streets in Lake Pointe, occurred in the early morning hours June 25 while residents were sleeping.

There were no firm estimates on the amount of money taken but deputies said they believed the total was less than a couple thousand dollars.

Sheriffs had been investigating these break-ins concurrently with similar ones in Livonia and Canton Township.

Cox said their investigation is being coordinated with four or five other suburban Detroit communities including Plymouth Township, Livonia and West Bloomfield.

Plymouth police in mid-week were still in the process of identifying the owners of the believed stolen merchandise.

Dancer hops from job to hobby

By ARLENE FUNKE

Trying to keep up with Deborah Gaffke of Westland just might be too much activity for hot, summer days when energy conservation is a blessing.

The 25-year-old Ms. Gaffke — better known as Mickie — wears many hats: owner of a Canton dance school, performer and teacher.

Soon Ms. Gaffke will be taking on a new task when she begins sharing her collection of some 100 films with students and community groups. She plans to run the movies, which run the gamut from early silent films to musical comedies during registration next month for classes at her Mickie's Dance Company.

The films, protected by copyright, will be shown free of charge. The group includes both full-length early films and "editions" or condensed versions of later ones which could cost several hundred dollars if complete.

"MOST KIDS have never seen Fred Astaire," said Ms. Gaffke. "He's smooth, cool and precise. (Charlie) Chaplin is my favorite. He's an innovator."

Why would a young woman invest up to $1,700 in a collection of films which she orders from catalogs? Why would she spend hours looking at old films and pinch pennies to buy them?

Ms. Gaffke said early film stars are an inspiration. She enjoys watching the range of emotions expressed on the faces of silent screen stars and gets dancing ideas from musical productions. "If I'm interested, I'm going to put my whole heart into it," said Ms. Gaffke, who graduated from Franklin High School in Livonia. "You get what you put into something."

"I'm energetic," she added.

Ms. Gaffke's hobby developed three years ago after she read a book about the early comedy team of Laurel and Hardy. She soon began reading other books and ordering films from catalogs.

"I'd like to meet other film collectors, especially women," said Ms. Gaffke.

IN THE MEANTIME, her other activities were bubbling. A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, Ms.

Gaffke has a degree in dance and drama education.

She has owned Mickie's Dance Studio on Lilley and Warren for two years. She teaches contemporary dance at Schoolcraft College and is set to teach aerobic dance through the Plymouth-Canton school district's community education program in the fall.

Aerobic dance uses dancing as a means of strengthening muscles, heart and lungs. In addition, she and her partner, Rick Montes of Livonia, give dance performances.

Ms. Gaffke's green eyes flash and her wheat-colored pigtails bob as she discusses how she juggles hobby and career.

Trustee hopefuls square off

Eugene Daley

Eugene Daley says Canton's farmland preservation program "has come 20 years too late."

He opposed farmland preservation during his successful campaign for a trustee job in 1976. Daley, 57, continues to oppose it now.

A 30-year resident of Canton Township, Daley is seeking re-election on the Democratic ticket. He will compete with 14 other candidates for four available positions.

He maintains that Canton's best farmland in the eastern half of the township already has been developed.

Township taxpayers cannot afford the cost of a development rights program, he says.

"I THINK THIS farmland preservation issue has to be settled once and for all.

"I favor forgetting it," said Daley. "The people voted once, and they didn't approve a millage. (The Township Board) has already explored state funds, federal funds and private foundations (as funding sources.)"

"I've yet to see a single farmer say, 'Save my farmland,'" Daley said.

The incumbent says Township

EUGENE DALEY

Board members "should come up with an alternative plan for growth control" in western Canton. The plan could include large-acre homesites and limited development of sewer and water extensions in five-year segments.

Daley adds, however, that he has "no qualms" in reducing the taxes of farmers at the current time.

Mary Dingeldey

Mary Dingeldey grew up with township politics.

Her father served as supervisor of a rural township in Minnesota. Her father-in-law, Philip Dingeldey, was Canton's supervisor and treasurer in the '60s and early '70s. Her husband, Jake, is superintendent of Canton's DPW.

Ms. Dingeldey, a Democratic trustee candidate, has attended almost every Canton board meeting during the last five years.

"I've always been interested in it," Ms. Dingeldey said of government issues. "If you have an interest in it, I think you'll do a good job."

She must compete with 14 other trustee candidates who are vying for four available positions. Ms. Dingeldey lost her bid for an appointed Township Board seat last spring following the resignation of Trustee Lynne Goldsmith.

MS. DINGELDEY served as executive secretary of the Canton Chamber of Commerce from 1975 to 1979. During that time, the business community blasted township government for the sign ordinance and other issues.

But Ms. Dingeldey, 38, says her former job with the chamber would not translate into adamant pro-business campaigns as a Township Board member.

"I think things have really quieted down. I have no personal vendetta.

"I really think that business has got to be promoted, endorsed and encouraged," she said. "But I think the Township Board has made some concessions and are on the right

August primary candidate forums scheduled for Plymouth, Canton

Candidate forums have been scheduled to acquaint residents with public office seekers in the August primary in Canton and Plymouth townships.

The candidate nights are being sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton, Novi. Plymouth Township candidates will meet the public on July 23 and Canton Township candidates will appear on July 24.

Candidates for the Wayne County

Commission and for the charter commission in the 27th District (which includes Plymouth and Canton Townships and the city of Plymouth) also will appear on July 23.

Both candidate forums will be held in the little theater of Plymouth Canton High School on Canton Center Road just south of Joy.

"On July 23, from 7:30 to 8 p.m., the county commission and charter commission candidates will be given two minutes each to speak.

Starting at 8 p.m. Plymouth Township candidates for supervisor and trustee will speak for a maximum of three minutes each to promote his/her candidacy.

After opening statements a question-answer period will follow and then each candidate will be given two minutes for a closing statement.

THE CANTON candidates' forum will begin at 7 p.m. July 24.

Candidates for supervisor, clerk and treasurer will answer questions from the audience during one-half hour period, and trustee candidates will answer questions for another half-hour period.

After the question-answer period, each candidate will be allowed one minute to make a closing statement.

Because of the large number of Canton candidates in the August primary there will be no opening statements.

Plymouth-Canton OBITUARIES

CLARISSA COCKRUM

Funeral services for Mrs. Cockrum, 72, of Harding Avenue, Plymouth, were held recently in Schrader Funeral Home, Plymouth, with burial in Cadillac Memorial Gardens, Westland. Officiating was the Rev. John N. Grenfell Jr.

Mrs. Cockrum, who died June 27 in Annapolis Hospital, Wayne, was a lifelong resident of Plymouth who was baptized at Perrinville United Methodist Church. Survivors include: brothers, Gerald Hix of Plymouth and Arnold Hix of Northville; several stepchildren; nieces and nephews.

EARL W. LYKE

Students earn math honors

A couple of students from Pioneer Middle School have earned honors in math competition held recently at Eastern Michigan University.

Eighth grader Jin Soo Kim and seventh grader Bob Johnson were participants in this year's Michigan Math Contest, sponsored by EMU under the leadership of Eastern professor Dr. Donald A. Buckeye.

Both students won the Pioneer School contest, along with sixth graders Barb Clark and Bill Boyd, seventh graders Craig Morton and Ken Pletzer, and eighth grader Steve Arlow.

Jin Soo went on to place seventh out of 25 in his grade level and Bob went onto place ninth out of the top 25 in his grade level in the regional contest held at EMU.

The statewide contest took place in June. Jin Soo Kim placed eighth out of the top 25 winners in his grade level in the entire state.

Winners were determined by scores achieved on a standardized mathematics test.

Train mishap injures teen

A Livonia teen was in stable condition at St. Mary Hospital early this week after he drove his car into a moving train at Five Mile near Ridge Road in Plymouth Township, say Wayne County sheriffs.

David Montgomery Strong, 17, was recovering with a broken right leg and severe cuts to his face and neck.

Police say the accident happened about 11 a.m. when Strong failed to stop at the railroad crossing, which was marked with crossing lights and bells.

The train was moving about 25-30 mph from Grand Rapids to Detroit.

Strong was driving west on Five Mile at the time of the collision. He was not ticketed.

There were no injuries to any of the crew members on board.

Blake faces mail charge

A WHITE powder-like substance leaked out of the corners of the envelope onto other pieces of mail in the sorting bin, the complaint alleges.

Postal authorities contacted Rossi, who authorized the opening of the envelope, the complaint states. Inside the envelope, Robinson said, postal supervisors found an obscenity printed on a yellow, legal size sheet of paper and a quantity of white powder.

The powder was sent to the Michigan State Police Crime Laboratory in Madison Heights where it was identified as orthochlorobenzylidenemelononitrile, commonly known as C.S. gas, an agent found in tear gas, according to the federal complaint.

Four fingerprints found on the exterior of the envelope and two fingerprints on the sheet of paper matched fingerprints of Blake on file after his 1979 application for a concealed weapon permit from the Michigan State Police, the complaint alleges.

Attempts on Tuesday and Wednesday to reach Blake for comment were unsuccessful. Conviction on the charge of sending the toxic substance through the mail with intent to injure another carries a maximum penalty of 20 years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

Official eyes federal grants

In compiling Canton's list of grant-eligible projects, Carroll anticipates that programs involving construction will be viewed in the most favorable light by federal officials.

He will present the Township Board with a list of building and non-building projects later this month.

Proposed non-building programs include cleaning of ditches in Canton's western half to promote the township's goal of promoting agricultural activities. Other proposals include street paving at the cost of $1 million per mile and improvements to the water distribution system to alleviate problems of low water pressure.

Department heads were asked to submit their own proposals for LPW building projects last January.

Recreation superintendent Mike Gouin suggested construction of a 30,000-square-foot community center behind Township Hall. The facility would include an indoor swimming pool, gymnasium, exercise room and meeting areas. Cost was estimated at $2.3 million.

Cost of a third fire station was estimated at $1 million. Police Chief Jerry Cox suggested a new police facility.

"This renovated building (old township hall) is neither adequate in space nor in structural layout for the efficient operation of a police department," Cox said in a memo last winter. "Normal growth of the department within the next two to five years will create a serious overcrowding problem."

Forgotten are her sprained wrist and blistered toes, battle scars of a dance show which she and her students performed last week at Plymouth-Canton High School auditorium.

"DANCING RELEASES tension," she said. "If more people would dance, there would be fewer problems in the world."

"It's a great way to express yourself — you can't go wrong," she added.

Performing and teaching "all go together," she continued. "This isn't work to me. Why bother doing something if you can't do it right?"

Current goals include making her studio a "smash success," giving more performances, getting married and having "one girl."

"I would know what to do with a girl," said Ms. Gaffke. "I'm not used to having a brother. I can't cook or sew, and I hate housework."

Comments corrected:

Due to a production error, three paragraphs in the profiles of two trustee candidates were transposed in Monday's edition.

The errors occurred on Page 4A, where stories about Jim Bridenthal and Thom Carman were continued from the front page.

The story about Bridenthal should have read:

BRIDENTHAL lists as a need for industrial development as one of the most crucial issues facing the Township Board.

He favors waiving some zoning restrictions in industrial districts in order to attract large taxpayers.

He says the Township Board must treat developers "like human beings."

CARMAN ENDORSED a look into cityhood. His story should have read:

Carman added, however, that many citizens — including his own wife — "view city as a dirty word."

"Some people just don't like the term," he said. "There's a connotation that says, 'Hey, we're a city. Where do you find a city that has farmland preservation?'"

"But all that happens is the rules change a little. You have a little more control over your own destiny."

Dingeldey cites Canton issues

road. I think we should maintain what we've got and continue down that road."

Ms. Dingeldey says "applying pressure on the Wayne County Road Commission" should be "super important" issue during the next four years.

She is particularly upset over the rut-filled condition of Canton's unpaved roads.

"Paving will come, but we've got to get maintenance right away."

Ms. Dingeldey views increased industrial development as a must. The township should make its industrially-zoned property more attractive to developers by providing utilities to the land.

The township should sell the property at Warren and Haggerty, she says.

"We don't need to be in the real estate business."

SHE SAYS MORE should be spent on recreation.

"We have to develop the parks that we have. We have to expand our programs."

Profits from the township-owned Fellows Creek Golf Course should be used for recreation, Ms. Dingeldey maintains. The township should research the availability of federal grants and other monies.

Ms. Dingeldey supports the township's farmland preservation program.

But she opposes any efforts to ask voters for a development rights millage in the near future.

"No one can develop without sewer or water anyway," she said. "We're really not holding it up."

"We have a definite problem — money. Voters turned it down once. We've tried other areas, and there is no funding. With the state of the economy, I really can't see a solution right now."

Canton's police and fire chiefs should be given more authority to run their departments, Ms. Dingeldey maintains.

"I think we have a fantastic police and fire department. If we have enough confidence to hire them, we have to trust them."

AS A FREQUENT member of the audience at Township Board meetings, Ms. Dingeldey expresses irritation with long drawn-out discussions which often result in a tabling action.

"I don't say a lot, but I do listen. If and when I become a trustee, I'd be prepared to make decisions."

Ms. Dingeldey said she would abstain on personnel matters which single out her husband, who is DPW superintendent.

She promises an open trustee term and frequent discussions with citizens regarding their concerns.

Ms. Dingeldey has lived in Canton for the past 18 years. She currently serves as secretary of the Canton Historical Society. She has served on the Canton Beautiful Committee, and the Canton Library Election Committee.

Daley seeks another term

Daley lists the need for industrial development as a major concern.

"We have to increase our industrial tax base, or the people won't be able to afford to live here anymore."

The candidate favors township construction of sewer and water extensions on industrially-zoned land as a way to attract developers.

"I think the attitude and atmosphere of the Township Board has to change," he added.

"Developers get hassled by board members. They try to comply, but the board is always asking for more. I think that's driving a lot of business people out. People only have so much money to invest."

DALEY FAVORS more funding of recreational programs.

The Township Board has banked profits from Fellows Creek Golf Course, he said. The money originally was earmarked for expansion of recreational programs.

"The township should consider purchasing other recreational land while it's still available."

Daley believes senior citizen housing will become an issue during the next four years. The township should plan ahead for those types of projects.

"A lot of people think there's all young people in Canton. But that's not true," he said.

Daley first ran for trustee in 1976 as a running mate of former Supervisor Harold Stein and former Treasurer Anna Bradley. He says the decision for that slate was based on economic reasons.

He now is seeking re-election as an "independent" — a term which always has applied to his voting record, Daley says.

Backgammon in the park

Backgammon players from southeastern Michigan gathered in Plymouth's Kellogg Park Saturday for a tournament. They brought along their own boards and played at long tables set up by members of the American Backgammon Club, sponsor of the tournament. Play began at 1 p.m. and continued throughout the afternoon. Players and those who came to watch enjoyed the shade of the trees and the cool breezes in the park. Maria Polleta of Canton Township (left) was one of the participants. Players at one of the long tables is shown at right. (Staff photos by Gary Caskey)

Barton-Malow will manage jail site

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has tentatively approved a contract with the Barton-Malow construction firm to manage completion of the new county jail for a $37 million maximum.

Under the contract, approved by the commissioners while sitting as the Ways and Means Committee on June 27, the $37 million maximum includes cost of all remaining construction, fees, permits, testing and a $1.1-million charge for the service, all secured by bond.

Under recommendation of the Buildings Division of the County Board of Auditors and the Public Works Committee, the commissioners have favored the construction manager approach since confronted with some costly and lengthy delays on the jail project.

Site selection, unexpected water problems underground and discovery of a buried basement interfering with foundation work are among the chief obstacles encountered since the jail project began two years ago.

THE SWITCH to a construction management firm, rather than a general contractor to guide the project, is calculated to save the county about $1.7 million, according to estimates from the auditors' Buildings Division.

Savings from the change would be due to payment on a fixed-fee basis instead of a percentage under the general contractor system.

In its recommendation, the Public Works Committee said Barton-Malow must stay within the original design, and even minor deviation must be approved in advance by the Board of Commissioners. Regardless of any alterations, total expense for the county will not exceed the $37 million, the contract requires.

Final action on the contract still needs approval of the full Board of Commissioners, although the Ways and Means Committee consists of all 27 members of the board.

ALSO AT THEIR Ways and Means meeting, commissioners endorsed three proposals for lessening or elimination of a projected $20-22 million deficit by the end of fiscal year on Nov. 30. These include three resolutions to "pursue with vigor" plans that would:

- Provide a new schedule increasing statutory fees for many county services.

- Change tax abatement laws to provide reimbursement to the county for property tax loss due to abatements approved by the cities or the state which the county has no authority to prevent.

- Allow collection of increased mileage in December 1980, if voters approve a tax allocation proposal in November.

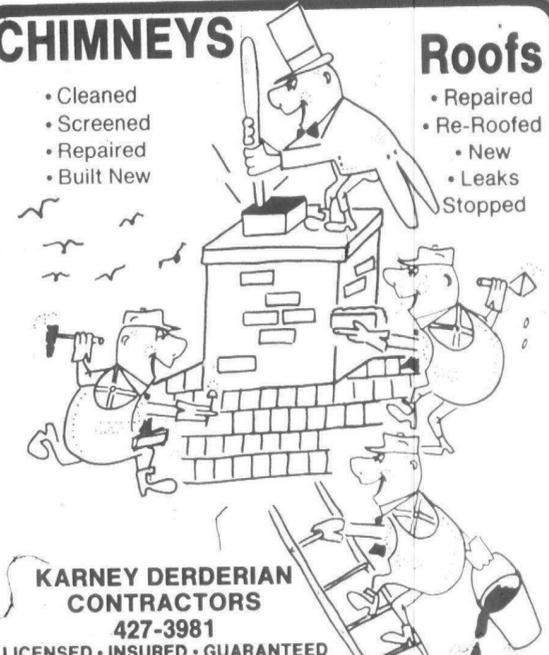

Under present legislation, the county could not collect until next year any revenue from increased tax allocation if approved in November.

BOARD CHAIRMAN Samuel A. Turner said that a package of 12 bills to raise Wayne County fees is already under consideration in the House in Lansing. It includes services ranging from swimming pool inspections to taxes on property transfers.

Other revenue-raising in the package include increases for kennel licenses, taxes on inheritances, campground approvals, waste disposal licenses, filing of petitions, certification of deeds and mortgages and registration of plats.

Watch for highway slowdowns

A number of highway construction sites along metropolitan area freeways and major thoroughfares may snarl heavy Fourth of July holiday weekend traffic.

The areas of "potential slowdowns," according to the Michigan Department of Transportation (M-DOT), include:

- I-96 between I-275 in Farmington Hills and Novi Road, Novi. The inside lane of I-96 is closed in both directions for construction of a median barrier.

- Telegraph Road — intermittent lane closures in both directions between 12 Mile in Southfield and Maple in Bloomfield Hills.

The only freeway detour is at the Chrysler (I-75) and Ford (I-94) interchange in Detroit. The I-75 northbound and southbound ramps to eastbound I-94 are closed for bridge repair. The detour is posted.

Grote gets new pact

Schoolcraft College President C. Nelson Grote recently received a $4,000 raise and a four-year contract extension.

The college's Board of Trustees last week granted Grote a 7 1/2 percent raise to $57,000, effective July 1. Now in his 10th year, the Schoolcraft president had his base salary increased $2,800. The remaining $1,200 of the raise will be placed in a tax-sheltered annuity.

The board also extended Grote's contract through June 30, 1984. Grote, 52, began at Schoolcraft in 1971.

THE BOARD annually reviews Grote's performance as president. Board chairman Harry Greenleaf of Livonia said Grote received "high marks" in the past year's review, based largely on accomplishment of goals set previously with the trustees.

"We hold the president accountable for the operation of that college," said Greenleaf. "He (Grote) has a great deal of respect statewide."

Grote was recently considered for state superintendent of public instruction.

AT LAST week's meeting, the board also adopted auxiliary 1980-81 budgets for the college store, $688,650, food service, $296,366; child care center, $21,340, and two other services.

Fees for the services are expected to cover the budgets except for the food service, which will need a nearly $14,000 subsidy. The total auxiliary budget is slightly over $1 million.

A $15,000 gift

The Plymouth Salvation Army recently received a check for $15,000 for its capital fund to help pay for the new headquarters on Main just south of Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth Township. The $15,000 was a contribution from the Plymouth Community Fund which supported the Army's capital fund drive because the proposed multi-purpose building and recreational facilities will, upon completion, be available for use by other community agencies supported by the Community Fund such as the Plymouth Family YMCA. The $15,000 gift to the capital fund is in addition to the Community Fund's annual contributions to the Salvation Army's operational expenses. Touring the site recently after presenting the check were: (from left) Lt. William Harfoot, corps co-commander; Kal Jabara, fund drive chairman; Bob Sincock, board member of the Community Fund; and Clarence DuCharme, president of the Community Fund Board. WHERE YOU SAVE IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN EVER TODAY.

These days, there are more savings options than ever before. But not all of them guarantee their rates for any length of time. So you can wind up with high interest today. But tomorrow may tell quite a different story.

We guarantee your interest at First Federal.

All First Federal certificate interest rates are guaranteed to remain at a high level throughout a set period of time, no matter what the money market does.

Equally important, savings accounts at First Federal are insured to $100,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. And with multiple ownership of accounts, it's possible to provide insurance coverage for a whole lot more. We'll gladly show you how.

Your money—and our people—are working close to you.

When you save at First Federal, your money remains conveniently nearby. So if you suddenly need to use it, you can quickly and easily make a withdrawal at any of our more than 50 branch offices. Whenever you need information or assistance, we have people standing by in your neighborhood to help you.

All savings places aren't created equal.

Some of today's new savings plans make good sense for some people. However, we feel ours are unique in combining high interest and the security most savers desire.

So the choice is yours. You can take the risk of earning other kinds of high interest. Or you can relax with the confidence that you're collecting ours.

Police grab firecrackers

Plymouth businesses have been selling illegal firecrackers to customers stocking up for the Fourth of July celebrations, said City Fire Chief Roy Hall Tuesday.

Following a spot check of party stores and groceries this week, Hall and Police Inspector Carl Berry confiscated 23 packages of firecrackers considered dangerous by the Michigan attorney general's office.

"The merchants didn't even realize what they were selling," said Hall. "Some are very small and look absolutely harmless."

"I wouldn't be too hard on the store owners. They were taken in on this just like everyone else."

Hall says the state allows only the sale of "Class C" firecrackers which means only sparklers, smoke bombs, paper caps, fountains and snakes can be sold.

Anything that moves or twirls when ignited is not allowed.

Some of the confiscated firecrackers, though marked as Class C items, are among the illegal kind.

So far, two stores in Plymouth were discovered selling the illegal firecrackers. They are the Main Street 7-11 Store and Party Pantry, 614 S. Main.

Pantry manager George Rimmon would not say from whom he purchased the firecrackers, but said all have been removed from his shelves.

"I've been selling them for three months and all of a sudden they're illegal. Everyone sells them. I've contacted the distributor and they say they're illegal in some parts of the state."

On one inspection Tuesday, Hall says one tested firecracker was so powerful it sailed into the air, landed on the store's roof, and burned some of the tar off.

Train to Toledo aids travel to the East

Daily evening passenger train service between Detroit and Toledo will begin Aug. 3, according to U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth.

Amtrak will continue one of its regular Chicago-to-Detroit trains through to Toledo, which will connect with an overnight New York City-bound train.

Pursell, Sen. Carl Levin, D-Mich., and state officials had been negotiating with Amtrak officials for the new service since last summer.

THE NEW Toledo service is primarily for passengers on the Chicago-Detroit train to connect with the East Coast-bound run, which also stops at Buffalo, Albany and Boston.

There have been no Detroit-Toledo trains since the late 1960s, said Scott Hercik of the Michigan Department of Transportation.

Detroit, said Hercik, has been a "dead end" because there is no direct train service east.

He said the Detroit-Toledo connection is the first phase of more east-bound train service. The state is negotiating for a "more direct run" to the east across southern Canada, said Hercik, who is manager of intercity service development for M-DOT.

East Coast-bound train passengers in Detroit have had to take a bus to Toledo to connect with the New York-bound train. "It was much better than nothing," Hercik said.

THE TOLEDO BOUND train will leave Chicago at 11:55 a.m. daily. It will arrive in Dearborn at 6:04 p.m.; Detroit, at 6:40 p.m.

The train will leave Detroit's Vernor St. station at 7:05 p.m. and arrive in Toledo at 8:55 p.m. The East Coast-bound train arrives in Toledo at 9:10 p.m. and leaves at 9:25.

Lynch advises radio staffers

John Lynch of Plymouth has been named to the Community Advisory Board for radio station WEMU at Eastern Michigan University.

Lynch is director of sales and public relations at the Hydramatic Division of General Motors. He was named one of 10 persons on the board.

The board has been established to advise and review the policies, goals and services of the radio station.

Establishment of the advisory board is required by the Public Telecommunications Financing Act of 1978 because WEMU is a public broadcasting station.

The board is expected to advise the station on whether its programming and other policies are meeting the specialized cultural needs of the communities served and to make recommendations for meeting those needs.

The next meeting of the board will be held in September to examine a set of bylaws and a statement of goals.

Public is welcome to attend. For more information about the meetings call WEMU at 487-2229.

Suburbs may oppose charter reform because of lawsuit loss

Getting no relief from the courts thus far, a suburban Wayne County group opposed to the makeup of a proposed county charter commission may urge voters to reject the charter proposal on Aug. 5.

Frank Lada, Allen Park Mayor and chairman of the Wayne County Communities for Equal Representation, said this week the group may decide Monday to launch a no campaign against the charter referendum.

Voters will decide at the Aug. 5 primary election whether a charter commission should be seated to propose county government reorganization, including whether the county should be headed by an elected county executive or county board-appointed manager.

THE EQUAL Representation group, composed of local officials from more than 30 Wayne County suburbs, opposes a charter commission based on 1970 census districts.

The suburban officials maintain the 1980 census should be used to draw charter districts because it would more accurately reflect the county's current population.

"It's my personal opinion that if we don't go by the '80 census, we should ask the people to defer this election to another time," said Lada. "It's either going to be done right or not at all."

The group suffered another court setback this week when the State Court of Appeals agreed with Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelley that a 1972 apportionment plan for charter districts is constitutional for the proposed new charter commission.

The group's attorneys planned to appeal to the Michigan Supreme Court Wednesday. The high court will be asked to delay the charter referendum until 1980 census figures are available to draw the charter districts.

Both the appeals court and county circuit court have refused to delay the Aug. 5 referendum.

THE GARDEN City city council is urging a no vote on the charter question, according to Mayor Vincent Fordell, who is treasurer of the equal representation group.

"We are definitely in opposition to any charter put together by groups not representative of the total spread of the (county) population," Fordell said.

The suburban groups see a charter commission dominated by city of Detroit representatives, similar to the 16-11 majority Detroit now enjoys on the county Board of Commissioners.

But suburban officials are split on supporting the charter referendum. Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara has indicated he will support the Aug. 5 proposal. State Sens. William Faust, D-Westland, and Robert Geake, R-Northville, are on a committee urging a yes vote.

The equal representation group expects new census figures to show a 50-50 county population split between Detroit and the suburbs. The group wants at least that split on a charter commission.

Fordell said if the charter commission is approved, "it's going to set the stage and tone of (county) things for the next 40 years. This is really our last chance of doing something about it."

A new apportionment plan for county commissioner districts won't be drawn until the 1982 election. By that time, the county charter commission could be completed with its work.

All proposals the charter group makes would be subject to voter approval.

The equal representation group has relied on local government contributions to fund its court battle over apportionment.

Fordell said the group has collected about $40,000 — some $20,000 — to $25,000 short of what it needs for legal fees and the hiring of population specialists.

Fordell said some cities have been slow in forwarding their money. The group asked cities to contribute based on population at five cents per capita (based on the 1970 census).

Market puts action into preservation plan

Something good is happening in Canton. After years of talk on the desirability of saving farmland, a township committee has come up with some solid ideas to promote agricultural activities. Part of the farmland preservation committee's work will become visible this month when farmers move truckloads of produce into the parking lot of the New Towne Plaza at Ford and Sheldon. The market is scheduled to open July 19 and continue every Saturday through the end of the growing season. It is the first farmers' market ever sponsored by Canton Township. Promoting sales of locally grown produce is among township government's first steps to help farmers stay in Canton.

OFFICIALS PLACED thousands of acres in a permanent agricultural zoning district last March. The zoning allowed modest reductions in the tax bills of some property owners in the agricultural district. But farmers need more than zoning and a small tax decrease to make farming in Canton a viable enterprise. By its very nature, farming is a risky business. A few weeks of adverse weather conditions can annihilate hopes of a good crop. Farmers often pay high prices for seed, fertilizer and equipment but receive low prices for the farming products they sell. American farming families provide food for this nation. They free millions for work in specialized industrial and commercial fields. Canton Township cannot provide cures for all the farming community's woes. But officials can take steps to make local farming more attractive. THE PLANNED farmers' market is a good first step. Canton's part-time farmers and those with a small amount of land will benefit particularly from the plan. The market will provide an outlet for crops and encourage development of truck farms. It will help bring eastern and western Canton closer together by improving communication lines between the subdivision resident and farmer.

Long-range plans of the farmland preservation committee include establishment of a regional operation, similar to Eastern Market in Detroit. The committee is researching other ways to help farmers, such as routine cleaning of drains, a permanent lowering of property assessments and the possibility of a tax rate exemption for services that benefit only subdivision residents. More can be done. But the committee's work so far is encouraging. For too long, officials have talked merely of the need to save Canton's farms. They have done nothing to help the farmer. A zoning ordinance is simply a sheet of paper. A document cannot help plant crops or harvest corn.

A health fad for swim buffs is guts work

Never one much for trends, I've found myself inextricably mired in one, nevertheless. Americans adopt trends like rabbits have babies. For every type of person there is an exercise fad — racquetball, jogging, roller skating, softball — that sort of thing. But ever so quietly a new trend is creeping up on the American public. It's called swimming. Swimming? Yes, swimming, that most ancient of sports. Oh, this isn't your everyday let's-lay-on-the-beach swimming. Rather, it's the let's-bust-a-gut type. IN GUTS swimming, participants daily climb into a swimming pool and madly stroke away for an hour. The object is to see how many lengths you can swim in that hour. The benchmark for most novice swimmers is one mile. A few weeks back I broke a mile and, like most trendies, was totally obnoxious about it. There's nothing worse than a trendy announcing to everyone within ear-shot that he's "broken a mile." Nobody else really cares, but you've got this irresistible urge to tell them anyway. Guts swimmers look down their noses at joggers. There are fewer of us than them so the natural inclination for snobbery enters into the equation. SECONDLY, guts swimmers believe joggers to be sweaty exhibitionists, prone to shin splints and heat prostration. After all, what sensible person dresses in a pair of jogging shorts with matching sweat band and jogging shoes just so he can go out and sweat? To make it worse, joggers display their sweaty bodies on television and are unashamedly lauded by the national media. Books on jogging are even more obnoxious. Tons exist. "A Better You Through Jogging," "Jogging to Health," "Jog until You're 100," and "Jogging, You and Jesus."

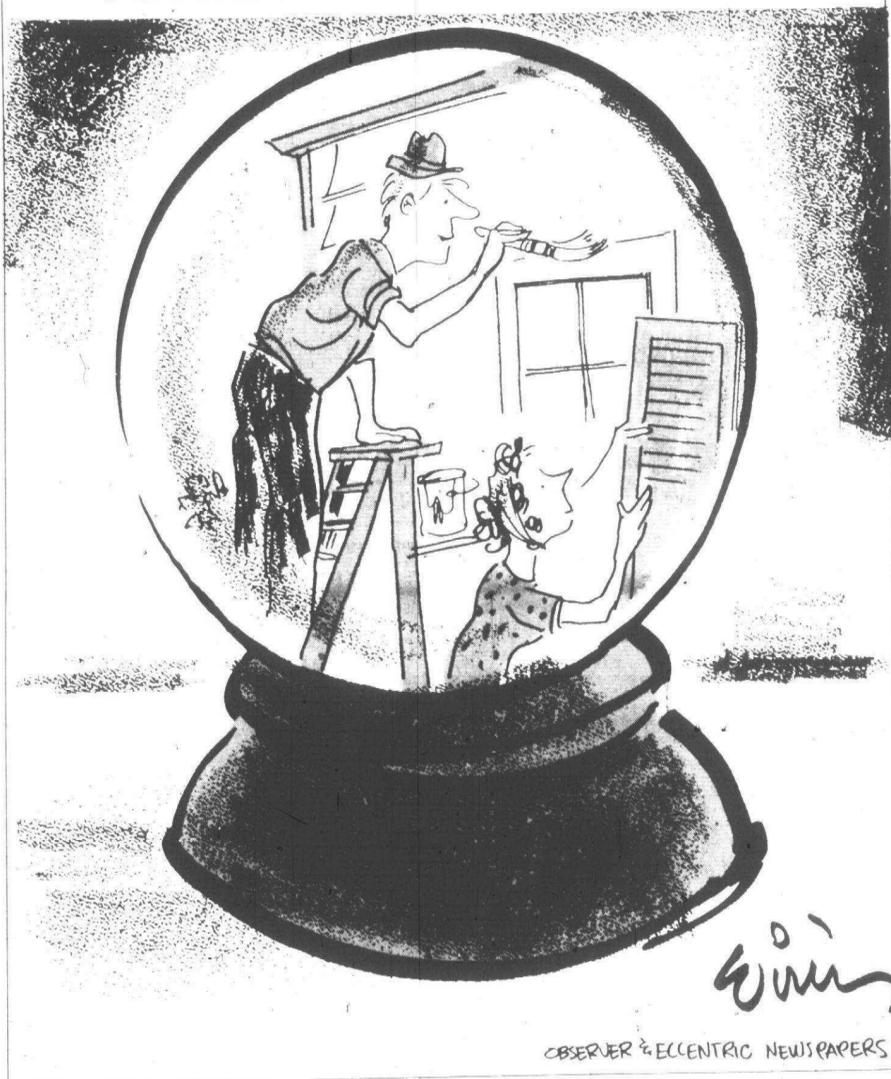

Guts swimmers, on the other hand, are basically loners. At noon, we quietly sneak out of the office, climb into the car and drive to the pool. Paraphernalia includes trunks, towel, soap and, most importantly, goggles. All guts swimmers wear goggles. Naturally, there is a debate over which kind of goggles is best. But even that is a rather limited controversy since there are only about three different types. As far as the rest of the gear, nobody really cares about your trunks and the last thing on anybody's mind is the kind of towel with which you dry yourself. Guts swimmers would never think of having a marathon. Could you imagine 1,000 persons swimming the English Channel at once? Never happen. We compete against ourselves, not others. MOST IMPORTANTLY, we don't have magazines and books toting the glories of swimming and Zen Buddhism and other such nonsense. In truth, there just isn't that much about which to write. So if you've got the guts, come and join us down at your local swimming pool.

Vacation of the future?

A July 4 touch of liberty

Well, here we are at another Fourth of July. It is officially known as Independence Day — a day set aside to mark the signing of the Declaration of Independence that ended our ties with the British and delivered us from the yoke of the king. Across the land, in every town, city and hamlet, there will be parades, fireworks and all manner of activities that will be part of the celebration. But while The Stroller will be riding in a parade, his mind will go back to the days of his youth when he learned more of American history in one day than he could have learned in a month in school. And he only wishes he could take some of today's youth with him on an imaginary trip to Independence Hall in Philadelphia where the declaration was signed the United States was born.

IT SO happened that The Stroller was born a few miles from Philadelphia, and it became a custom to visit Independence Square every July 4. There, in that old brick building, we would walk through the halls that once were travelled by the members of the Continental Congress. We even would see the pegs on the wall on which the members would hang their coats and hats during sessions. And as The Stroller looks back now, he can't forget his first trip there with his Aunt Fanny as a guide. She volunteered to take us on a tour that left a lasting impression. There was something about Independence Hall that fascinated her more than any other building. For that reason, she knew every board in the place. Once she got The Stroller in the meeting room around the old table where the Congress met, she knew where each member sat. And she often quoted them.

BUT IT wasn't the visit to the meeting room that The Stroller got his greatest thrill. That came in the room in which the Liberty Bell was housed. The first sight of it was a thrill. But as we walked around the bell, we came to the famous crack in it, and Aunt Fanny made us stop.

Then, very solemnly, she asked us to place our hand over the crack, bow our heads, and then pray for the safety of the country. It was a spine-tingling moment — and possibly would be for any one. Since those days, the Liberty Bell has been moved across/stress and now is encased in glass where it no longer is possible to place your hand on it. But just the sight of the old bell is a thrill.

ONCE WE left the bell and Independence Hall on that first trip, we walked along the Quaker section of the city to the home of Betsy Ross, who is credited with making the first American flag. It is a small house, and one has cause to wonder how anyone could travel the narrow stairways to the basement or to the upper floor. But it still was a memorable moment just to see the chair in which she sat while making the flag. From Betsy Ross' home we journeyed to Old Christ Church where the members of the Continental Congress worshipped. And this, too, was a thrill. As we walked down the aisle of the famed old church, we could see the name plates on the side of the pews that designated the exact place where our forefathers sat. And then on to Valley Forge, where General George Washington and his Continental Army survived the ravages of a hard winter — a time when it appeared, according to history, that the war would be lost and we would be forced back under the yoke of Great Britain. All told, that one-day trip was steeped in historical facts. And, so far as The Stroller is concerned, it is just too bad that every youth of today can't make that tour as part of the Fourth of July celebration.

Fight is on: vacation vs. big housing

The housing industry talks as if all we need are lower interest rates and a plentiful supply of mortgage funds, and things would be back to their urban sprawl normal. It's apparent, however, that we are in the process of turning a corner in housing, which for many years has been the most inflationary industry in America. One fact speaks volumes: Less than a generation ago, an American family was spending 20 percent of household income on housing. Today it is spending 40 percent on this basic need. (Today's household income, incidentally, most frequently includes a wife's earnings.) One of two things must happen. Either folks must get ready to spend 50 or 60 percent of their household incomes on housing, or else they must move toward more compact housing — smaller houses, mobile homes, apartments, row houses and the like. EXACTLY THE same thing is likely to happen in housing as happened with automobiles. The natural gas-guzzling, electricity-guzzling, tax-guzzling, paint-guzzling, fertilizer-guzzling large house on a spacious lot will be less and less affordable as construction and energy prices continue to soar.

The housing industry will fight back, of course. In the same way the auto industry scoffed at and deprecated small cars and called its own offerings subcompacts, the housing industry will fight to keep folks buying the behemoths.

How? Well, if we are to continue to buy big houses and maintain what we have, we must sacrifice somewhere. Don't send the kids to college? No. Cheaper clothes? That won't save much. Eat more fish and turkey and less beef? We're already doing that.

THE VACATION is the one big ticket item where folks can scrimp in order to pump money into housing.

Over at the builders' association, some members are freely predicting (praying?) that we will continue to prefer big houses and take our vacations at home.

The Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors is subtly selling the idea. Here is its news release from last week:

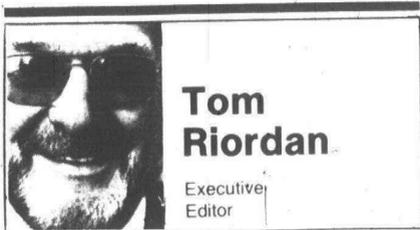

"Rising travel costs may encourage many homeowners to spend at least part of this year's summer vacation restoring their property to peak condition.

"For many, particularly those readying a home for sale in the near future, renovation will include repainting of all exterior wooden surfaces. According to the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors, this is a job generally needed every five to seven years to protect surfaces against Michigan's weather extremes.

"Cost of the paint job then is generally considered a worthwhile investment, especially if the work can be performed by the homeowner. However, the Realtors advise allowing plenty of time for proper preparation of surfaces and the use of good quality paint." (Emphasis added.)

As any accountant knows, paint is a maintenance cost, not an "investment," as the handout contends. But "investment" is such a pretty word.

The battle is on: housing vs. the vacation. There's a lot of money at stake. How will you spend yours?

Walter Cronkite will stand out among GOP

Thousands of Republican party members will whoosh into the area next week.

But it shall be a non-politician who will command the most respect and prove to be the person everyone instantly recognizes.

Walter Cronkite said he's "anxious to get back out there," meaning he wants to return to reporting. Once he sheds his nightly news responsibilities, he hopes to tie in with a proposed CBS scientific series to be called "Universe."

Of course, this is the man who needs no introduction — Walter Cronkite, CBS television anchor man par excellence. To many he's like an old-shoe relative whom they refer to as Uncle Walter. And mean it.

Fate recently dealt me a marvelous experience, the opportunity to meet Cronkite in a casual atmosphere and later be among 20 community newspaper editors who shared a three-hour dinner with him.

Believe me, it was a tremendous experience.

CRONKITE IS A PRINCE of a fellow, low-key, warm, deeply concerned about the encroachment of secrecy in courts of law around the nation. He is TV's best known newsmen, yet he never has lost his close touch and feeling for print journalism.

For some 25 years, Cronkite was one of United Press International's top foreign reporters and bureau chiefs. He covered World War II for that wire service, the Nuremberg Trials, then reopened bureaus in northern Europe.

He sort of backed into TV news and quickly mastered the trade by dint of research and hard work. His unflappable anchor work at national political conventions and his businesslike nightly CBS News presentations quickly engraved his personality on the minds of America.

Cronkite's sense of humor is delightful. He loves to make fun of himself, repeating strange comments made to him by people who suddenly spy him in airport check-in lines.

"Oh, Mr. Cronkite, you're my biggest fan."
"Hey, didn't you used to be Walter Cronkite?"
"Oh, Mr. Kaltenborn."

BUT HE BECOMES deadly serious when the topic turns to court closures, which are becoming increasingly popular with judges.

During our session together, Cronkite pointed out his concern about assaults on freedom of the press which have "tuned local court houses on a wave of slammed doors."

"There should be no timidity (on editors' parts). Put judges on alert that your papers won't stand for court secrecy. Be protective (of the First Amendment)," Cronkite said.

Cronkite warned that not paying strict attention to such situations and dealing promptly with them could eventually find newspaper editors with their backs to the wall.

HIS OBSERVATIONS are particularly timely for this newspaper and its 11 sister semi-weeklies. In the past three weeks, judges in two Oakland County District Courts have slapped suppression orders on sex assault cases.)

In one instance our attorney was instructed to fight the order, which was so broad that the judge said our Birmingham edition could not even print that there had been a suppression order.

When the judge learned we were fighting the issue, he quickly recanted and said he had been in error. The suppression order was lifted.

The other case is more difficult. It's in Southfield. The judge admits he has issued a suppression order, but when our reporter asked for a copy of the order to present to our attorney, the judge said it hadn't been prepared.

It took the judge two weeks to issue that order. We are taking it to our attorney. Even though the order doesn't apply directly to the newspaper, it does apply to the police and prosecutor -- our news sources.

As Cronkite says, timidity can breed more and bigger concerns.

Factory closings strategy is OU July 12 seminar topic

Union officials, legislators and special interest groups will meet July 12 at Oakland University at a one-day conference on "Strategies for Coping with Plant Closings."

The conference is sponsored by OU Center for Community and Human Development, Rochester. All interested persons may attend.

Conference participants say Michigan has the highest unemployment rate in the United States and is beset by adverse economic conditions here and abroad. Workers are threatened further by the recent expiration of the U.S. Trade Act and by possible cuts in jobless benefits.

GUEST SPEAKERS will include Ken Morris, director of UAW Region IB, speaking on "Possible Options and Opportunities," and U.S. Rep. William D. Ford, D-Taylor, whose topic is "The Washington View," and Robert (Buddy) Battle, director, UAW Region IA, talking on "The Minority Perspective."

Other speaker and topics are state Rep. Perry Bullard, D-Ann Arbor, "Michigan Fights Back," Marya Syeminski, aide to U.S. Sen. Donald Riegle,

WILLIAM D. FORD

"Federal Initiatives," Earl Kennedy, Small Business Administration, "Small Business Alternatives," Ken Dobson, Michigan Economic Growth Corp. "Economic Diversification," Ernest Dillard, UAW, "Solutions: The Senior Worker Viewpoint," and Jessie Bernstein, consultant, "Stress Management."

DON LUSSIER, OU Department of Continuing Education, will speak on "Outplacement Training." Jacqueline Scherer, director of the Center for Community and Human Development, will provide the conference summary entitled "The Next Steps."

The conference is being held in conjunction with a two-week university forum reviewing the impact of plant closings. In the forum, OU professor will discuss the ways in which plant closings affect individuals and communities from economic, social, and psychological perspectives.

Persons interested in attending the conference or forum can call 377-3272 or 377-3216.

The conference will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in Varner Recital Hall. The minimal fee of $5 includes lunch.

Your Child Could Be Gifted

Chances are you really don't know, but you may already detect some classic signs: basically intelligent and possibly talented, but bored in public school; eager to learn, but apparently unchallenged.

A few private schools answer the academic needs of gifted and talented youngsters. Gibson School for the Gifted is one of them, and in the past eight years Gibson has served several hundred children identified as gifted.

Soon to be relocated in newer and larger facilities in the northwestern suburbs, Gibson will offer 3 to 13-year-old children in pre-primary, elementary and middle school classes with a low student-to-teacher ratio.

New facilities enable Gibson to accept a limited number of additional students for the fall term. For more information on enrollment qualifications, curriculum and tuition, call 336-2150 or write to:

Suburbs cool toward Judge's water seat plan

By TOM LONERGAN

U.S. District Judge John Feikens has proposed suburban communities participate in choosing the three suburban representatives on the Detroit Board of Water Commissioners.

He got a cool reception from an Oakland County spokesman. And Detroit officials may oppose Feikens' having approval over the appointment and dismissal of suburban water board members.

Feikens, chief U.S. judge for eastern Michigan, proposed this week that Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties nominate three persons each for their respective seats on the seven-member water board. Detroit Mayor Coleman Young would select three of the nine suburban nominees, subject to Feikens' confirmation.

Young now appoints all seven water commissioners without consulting the suburbs. The board sets water and sewer rates for the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department (DWSD). Feikens' proposal would not affect the appointment of the four Detroit commissioners.

OAKLAND COUNTY Drain Commissioner George Kuhn, long-time critic of DWSD management, said Feikens' proposal "could be tokenism."

He added: "We're going to try to work within the (water board) framework. I don't think it's going to resolve the problems."

Kuhn has organized a petition drive that seeks a popular vote to replace the water board with a regional board that would diminish Detroit's control. He failed to gather enough signatures to place a referendum on the November ballot, but has set a 1982 deadline.

DWSD has nearly 100 suburban community water customers and more than 70 suburban sewer customers.

Feikens' proposal would become part of an amended court agreement between the city, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

That agreement — first reached in September 1977 — has been revised to give the Detroit sewage treatment plant more time to meet federal anti-pollution guidelines. The EPA sued Detroit over pollution of the Detroit River and Lake Erie.

OAKLAND COUNTY objects to the revised agreement, which was signed Monday by Feikens.

The county, represented by Kuhn and Atty. William Hampton, of Farmington Hills, wanted Feikens to appoint a review or "watchdog" committee, which would have monitored DWSD's budget and rate-making decisions.

Feikens had considered such a committee earlier this year, but later dropped the idea. He said Monday that a review committee would only duplicate the role of the current board of water commissioners.

Feikens granted Hampton's request to delay immediately ordering suburban water board nominations. The judge scheduled an Aug. 13 hearing on the issue.

"We have to work the mechanics out," Hampton said.

It hasn't been determined whether the county board of commissioners, county drain commissioner or (in Oakland County) the county executive would propose the suburban nominees to Young.

CHARLES BECKHAM, DWSD director, said Tuesday that Feikens' proposal was "workable."

"That's been our position all along," he said, "that the existing system provides them (the suburbs) with what they're asking for."

Regarding Mayor Young's support of Feikens' proposal, Beckham said Young is "a little leery" on having the court confirm the appointments.

CANTON CENTER

SUSAN AND WIN Schrader hosted an old-fashioned picnic out on the farm. It was the Antiquarians' first picnic and they plan to make it an annual event.

The term "antiquarians" does not refer to the age of the club's members who are a group of young women interested in antiques. The club is a branch of the National Quilters Organization. Picnic fare was all old recipe dishes and all were made from scratch. There was apple crisp, sausage loaf, fruit salad, apple strudel, and even the husbands got into the act. Jurrien, husband of member Dee Winter, made the delicious sourdough bread.

Some of the couples planned to arrive in Charlie Kehoe's antique fire engine. It didn't make it, but Mary was following in their van and transported them the rest of the way.

There was a guessing game. Each member placed an antique on a table and everyone had an opportunity to guess what or who it was. Jan and Ken Dersey brought the reclining lion which was made of sewer tile pottery. They explained that at the end of the workday, the workers spent five minutes or so fashioning a piece of sculpture from the last ends of the prepared clay mixture.

by

Historical restoration is one of the club's projects. There was an auction after the picnic with the proceeds going to the restoration fund.

All the Antiquarians and their husbands were there for the picnic and they were able to field two volleyball teams.

Jan and Jim Carney, Michelle and Ed Dorrington, Elizabeth and Ken Gribble, Donna and Bill Keough, Sharon and David Rucinski, Pat and Steve Saelzler and Nancy and John Mather completed the guest list.

MARY DINGELDEY and Diane O'Leary have been awarded scholarships from the Michigan Office of Substance Abuse Services. They will attend the Midwest Institute of Alcohol Studies at Purdue University in West Lafayette, Ind. later this month.

Both are probation officers for the 35th District Court in Plymouth.

The summer session marks the 26th Annual Midwest Institute. A winter session is held each January in Michigan.

WATCH FOR the Blue Booth at tonight's band concert in Kellogg Park. Hundreds of concertgoers enjoyed last week's offerings of cheesecake, ice cream and strawberries, cold lemonade, iced tea and hot coffee. Each week the booth will feature "noteworthy refreshments" (a quote from the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce which is sponsoring the booth). There will be various cakes and pies as well as cold drinks and coffee.

Dessert at the concert is new this year with proceeds going to the support of the Community Band and the C.C.

MARGARET SWARTZ and Howard Griffore had high scores at the Thursday afternoon party bridge games in the Plymouth Cultural Center on Farmer Street. The air-conditioned center is a pleasant place to spend a hot summer afternoon in very pleasant company.

MARY UHL and Ann Neiswander, members of the Plymouth-Canton branch of the American Association of University Women, were in Milwaukee last month for the AAUW Northeast Central Regional Conference.

Delegates raised over $2,000 for ERA in Illinois with a silent auction.

"Then we watched to see it defeated again because of the three-fifths ruling in Illinois," said Mary. "They have the vote if they're all there."

Topics of the four workshops covered Global Political Interdependence, Violence in Today's Society, Global Economics: Effecting Us All, and Understanding Interdependence in World Resources.

THERE ARE only 70 copies left of the PLUS 1979 Cook Book. The limited edition book was prepared by parents and staff of the PLUS Preschool and Head Start programs of the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

The book was published in recognition of the International Year of the Child. Illustrations in the book are by talented parents Bill Courson, June Hill and Gloria Merinsky. Categories include: appetizers, salads and dressings,

Music teacher fights bias as NOW leader

By LOUISE OKRUTSKY

Janet Evans, who dreamed of a career as a band director, is the leader of the Northwest Wayne County Chapter of the National Organization for Women (NOW). The Northwest Chapter's membership includes Canton Township and Plymouth residents.

The new president joined NOW five years ago. She's seen the organization become more practiced in politics and more accepted as the mouthpiece of the women's movement.

But her work for equal rights for women didn't begin five years ago. The Farmington Hills resident says she's been a feminist all her life.

"I've always been a feminist and I guess I didn't know it," she said.

"My parents were very insistent that I get an education and be able to support myself."

Raised with the idea she should strive for independence, she began considering a career as a band director while attending junior high-school.

She wasn't encouraged to pursue the career in a male-dominated field.

"I argued with the band leader all through high school about whether I should take a major in music," Ms. Evans said.

IN SPITE of the discouraging reception to her plans, she went on to earn bachelor's and master's degrees in instrumental music from the University of Michigan. She earned the position of first oboist in the U of M Symphony Band.

If times had been different when she graduated from college and if women had attained equality in the armed services, she might have tried to join the service. She might have joined one of the service bands and become eligible for post service benefits.

"They are denying all women these benefits," she said.

She sees women eventually becoming part of the draft as the number of young men declines in the post baby-boom years.

"There aren't enough young men to defend the country properly," she said.

Although she wants equality in the draft, she sees drafting young persons as a step toward war. As with other feminists, Ms. Evans decries war as a "destructive act."

ONCE OUT OF SCHOOL she was confronted with the fact that like service in the army, band directorships were considered a man's job.

She taught vocal and instrumental groups in the South Redford School system for 14 years. In her 15th and last year in the district she was appointed band and orchestra director at Marshall Elementary School.

Her subsequent layoff from that post led to her decision to file suit against what she believes to be discrimination in employment.

It was shortly after that move when she joined NOW with her husband's encouragement.

JANET EVANS

While still a new member she became involved in the group's education task force.

"I wanted to become an integral part of the organization right away."

She wanted a support group of women. She admits that she was looking for new friends.

As president of the chapter, she's helping other women, both members and non-members who are seeking the same support. Her group is involved in setting up a shelter for abused wives in Wayne-Westland. Earlier this spring she donned white and marched in Chicago to urge the ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment in Illinois.

ALTHOUGH that march didn't lead to the amendment's ratification in the state, she plans to continue working for passage of ERA.

"It's an umbrella protecting us. Otherwise they can take everything away from us. It's like a contract," she said.

"ERA is an economic issue. In employment women are paid 59 cents to every dollar for men."

She supports ironing out the inequities in the social security system and in pension systems. She believes that homemakers should receive social security benefits for their labor. Widows shouldn't receive a smaller pension after the husband-breadwinner's death.

Supporting ERA doesn't automatically mean a vote for abortion, she adds.

But she supports the idea of having abortion available to women who want it for medical or personal reasons.

"That decision should be between you, your husband, your physician, your God," she said.

There should be funds for poor women who can't afford the procedure, she said.

She dismisses as "groundless" fears that the passage of ERA would destroy the family. "The natural rhythm of life is not going to be interrupted," she said.

IN WORKING TO attain passage of ERA, the feminist movement and NOW in particular have become more politically sophisticated in the last five years, Ms. Evans said.

"We are much more aware of what's going on on the local, state and federal levels concerning laws which affect women."

Another asset for the organization is its softened image. The radical appearance of members in the early '70's has been replaced with what Ms. Evans calls "the polyester set."

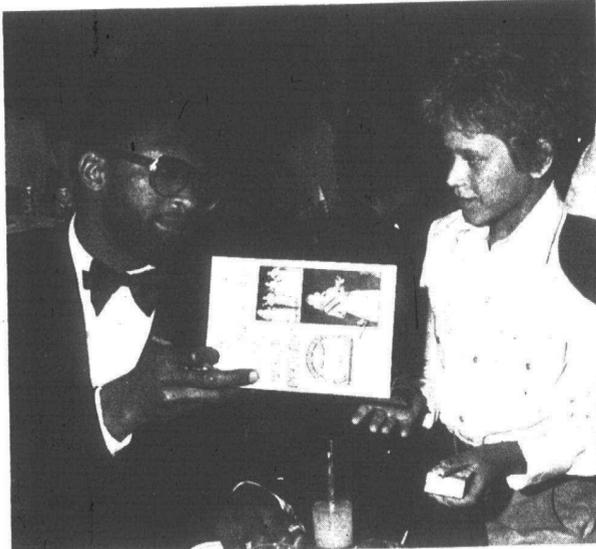

Although the dress is more conservative than the blue jeans and sweaters look sported by members 10 years ago, the commitment hasn't mellowed, she added.

Instead of the pickets and guerilla theater of previous years, the organization uses parades to make its presence felt.

This summer, during the Republican convention in Detroit, the organization plans another rally in which all members and supporters are dressed in white. The parade and rally beginning at 11 a.m. July 14 on the Kern block in Detroit will demonstrate to the Republicans NOW's opposition to presidential candidate Ronald Reagan's stance against ERA.

WHEN THEY do rally in Detroit, Ms. Evans will be there wearing white. Somehow it seems appropriate that she was born on Aug. 26, the anniversary of the granting of women's suffrage.

Canton hosts all-state beauty pageant

Bob Lanier, a Farmington Hills resident and former Detroit Pistons star, was one of the judges. He signed a program for Billy Joe Morton, brother of Mary Morton, last year's Miss Michigan/United/Venus U.S.A. (Staff photos by Gary Caskey)

The new Miss Michigan United/Venus U.S.A. was crowned last week in Center Stage on Ford Road in Canton. Families, friends neighbors, and girl-watchers gathered to watch the 94 pageant candidates.

The winner was Recc Seeley of Mt. Clemens. Judges had considered the contestants on beauty of face, figure, charm, poise, personality and intelligence. They ranged in age from 17 to 25, although the pageant rules allowed unmarried women up to 28 years.

There were students, secretaries, waitresses, models, dancers and even a policewoman. There were petite 5-foot-3s right up to a tall 6-foot-1 — all with perfectly proportioned statistics.

They appeared, one by one, in evening gowns. They reappeared, one by one, in bathing suits. All 94 returned, in bathing suits for the naming of the 25 semifinalists. The 25 returned in evening gowns for the judges' decision on the five finalists. Finally the votes were tallied and the fourth, third, second and first runners-up were announced by master of ceremonies Jim Ryan and Cindy Guenther, executive director of the pageant.

Last year's winner, Mary Morton of Taylor, was on hand to crown the new queen and arrange her cape and traditional bouquet of long-stemmed roses.

Marcy Doddie of Canton Township and Tom Vickers, official pageant photographer, compared notes during a break in the pageant proceedings.

Lori Ann Siebert, 18, represented Plymouth in the pageant. She was sponsored by Party Pantry and the Penniman Market.

Curl-Fidge

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Curl of Clement Road, Northville announce the engagement of their daughter, Deborah, to Jeffrey Fidge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fidge of North Territorial Road, Plymouth Township. The bride-elect graduated from Northville High School in 1978. She is employed by Les Bowden and Assoc., Inc. of Northville. Her fiancé graduated from Plymouth Salem High School in 1977. He is a student at Michigan State University where he is majoring in landscape architecture.

They plan to be married in July 1981.

This past week my husband and I celebrated our wedding anniversary by attending a stage play. It's especially nice to attend a play when you are related to one of the cast members. (No, I'm not related to Bo Derek, although I realize the resemblance is striking...)

We attended the Field Elementary School production of "Down The Mississippi On The Dixie Queen." If you didn't see it or hear about it, don't think it was just a typical school play. For starters, this play was written by six fifth grade students at Field School. The authors, who deserve a big WELL DONE, are Jenny Berry, Steven Fellows, Kristina Johnson, Maurice Paquette, Arpan Patel and Tracy Semanson.

Staff advisors for the production were Larry Miller, principal; Caroline Keller, music teacher; and Joan Elwart. Miller also served as director. Ms. Keller provided original lyrics for some familiar tunes to coordinate with the play's theme. Ms. Elwart helped the students learn a square dance.

The play, set in the 1890s, was basically a musical, but also provided drama with lost and found jewels changing hands. Mike Abesmis and Sheryl Bunder as Sticky Fingers McGee and Lady Fingers McGee provided some pleasant piano numbers. Some fancy fiddling was provided by the "Fancy Fiddler," David Immerfall.

Some high stepping dancing and gymnastics were performed by the "Horseshoe Dancers," Michelle Grantien, August Raschke, Lisa Campbell, Denise Ryskamp, Linda Timberman, Tonya Barnett, Heather Helton, Robin Stuber, Kim Bryan and Roseann Sumpter.

The play also included a sea captain, a rich lady, the ship's crew, several bums, gamblers, gypsies, orphans and guardians. There were two different casts with each putting on two performances. These students all worked very hard to put on an absolutely outstanding performance.

Cast A members included: Robert Austin, Kathy Mills, Kenny St. John, Ron Wojnar, Dale DeYoung, Paul D'Amato, Jill Haynie, Albert Kim, Michele Smith, Bobby Files, Chris Palso, Eric Reeves, Jim Bryans, Tyrone Reeves, Arman Greer, John Cameron, Denise Menendez, Jim Freitas, Tracie Robinson, Blake Stepp, Laura Lemanski, Venessa Regan, Nicole Stebila, Toshi Dezahi, Robert Burton, Amy Sabo, Jennifer Austin and Kirk Nichols.

MEMBERS OF Cast B were: Greg Markley, Kim Vitoratos, Eric Stepp, Russell Collier, Jennifer Hawkins, April Quinn, John Burton, Brian Palso, Nicole Shamey, Matt Rivard, George Markley, Julie Genrich, Lori Morgan, Michele Beacham, Erik Vitoratos, Steven Tirrell, Christa Neely, Jennifer Higgins and Aaron Best.

Members of the ensemble who helped provide the accompaniment were Shelly Bastion, Cheryl Brylinski, Sheila Harris, Paul Jurczynski, Christina Lueck, Karin Sharkey, Tony Boucher, Jennifer Coleman, David Immerfall, Kelly Lingensfer, Steve Monte and Dan Socie.

Members of the school choir were "extras" on the Dixie Queen and sang several numbers with the cast.

Scenery and costumes showed great attention to detail, and credit here goes to parents, grandparents and members of the Field School faculty for many hours of work.

As I said, this was no ordinary school play. A play written for and by elementary school students and performed with great pride in their school shows that there must be a good many things right with our school system.

PART OF MY column didn't get included last week due to lack of space. That's what I get for never having learned to say things in 10 words or less. Here's what was left out.

After 16 years of hard work, Bruce Lapinski deserves all the credit. Not only did Bruce graduate from Lawrence Institute of Technology, but he did so with honors. Congratulations, Bruce! You've earned it.

Plans now call for Bruce to take a slight vacation from school before beginning work on his master's degree. He plans to spend some time with his wife Chris and their 3-year-old son, Aaron. There will also be a new baby in the family soon.

new voices

Wayne and Jane Sauchak of Bartlett Drive, Canton Township, announce the birth of their daughter, Leigh Kristen, June 20, 1980, in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Grandparents are Walter and Joyce Sauchak of Dearborn and Theolene Saeman of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mausole-Penrice

Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Mausole of Deckerville announce the engagement of their daughter, Agnes Lynn Mausole of Port Huron to Thomas J. Penrice of Port Huron. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Penrice of Palmer Street, Plymouth. The bride-elect is a graduate of Deckerville High School and Port Huron School of Business. Her fiancé graduated from University of Detroit High School and Marquette University. Both are employed by Atcheson-Colloids Co. of Port Huron.

They plan an October wedding in St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Palms, Mich.

Hay-Feldvebel

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hay of Plymouth announce the engagement of their daughter, Donna Jean, to Paul Elvin Feldvebel of Shaker Heights, Ohio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Feldvebel. The bride-elect graduated from Plymouth Salem High School in 1975 and from Western Michigan University in 1980 with a bachelor of science degree in fashion merchandising. She is employed as an assistant manager at Jean Nicole.

Her fiancé graduated from Shaker Heights High School in 1974. He is earning his bachelor of arts degree at John Carroll University and will graduate in December.

They plan to marry in February 1981.

Parents, preschoolers share new tuition award

A new award offered by the University of Michigan-Dearborn is the first of its kind to recognize the educational needs of both parents and their preschool children.

Made possible through a $1,500 gift from Mr. and Mrs. Michael Adray of Dearborn, the Adray Parent-Child Tuition Award will be made to two parents currently enrolled at U of M-Dearborn and their children. Part of each $750 award will be applied to the parent's tuition for the 1980-81 academic year.

The remaining part of the stipend will go towards a child's tuition at the U of M-D Child Development Center for two semesters.

"The award not only provides financial support to enable a parent to complete his or her degree, it also furthers the development of the preschool child in a high-quality educational setting," claims Rosalyn Saltz, faculty director of the U of M-D's Child Development Center and professor of education. She adds that the award is not limited just to women.

U of M-D's Child development Center is a unit of the Division of Education and operated by that faculty and staff. It provides quality child-care service located on campus for U of M-D students. The center also serves as a teacher training and child study facility for the Division of Education. It serves children ages one to five.

The Adray Parent-Child Tuition Award will be made on the basis of academic record, evidence of financial need and a demonstrated commitment to the development of children. Eligible students should have junior standing and should have successfully completed at least 15 credits of their studies at U of M-Dearborn.

Additional information about the award can be obtained from the Child Development Center office at 593-5254 or the Division of Education at 593-5090.

Gas for travel

The old advice to travelers about making reservations in advance holds true doubly in this summer of gasoline uncertainties.

Calling ahead to hotels and motels saves the gas you might otherwise waste driving around and looking for accommodations. It also saves gas by permitting you to head for your destination by the most direct route.

Grads honored

Each year the high school graduates who work at the Mayflower Hotel are honored at a special luncheon. Waitresses, busboys, assistant cooks and others are treated to a steak dinner and receive their graduation presents. This year Ralph and Scott Lorenz gave cameras to the boys and clock radios to the girls. Seated (from left) are Carrie Nitchman, Becky Wold, Scott Lorenz, Ralph Lorenz, Karen Decoster and Janet McCourt. Stand-

The day a horse came to Bible school

Goldust the horse was a big hit at Merriman Road Baptist Church vacation Bible school. He played tic-tac-toe with Danny Keck by tapping his hoof for the number of the square in which he wanted to place

Bible schools still call to kids

Area children are still going to their neighborhood church to play and sing on vacation Bible schools.

Good Hope Lutheran Church will hold its school from 9 a.m. to noon July 7-11. The theme this year is "Travels with Jesus," with particular emphasis placed on the geographical and cultural background of Jesus.

Bible stories, activities and crafts will help children become familiar with the events in the life of Jesus, appreciate the love of God and enjoy the fellowship of the school.

The program is open to all children of pre-school age through sixth grade. Registration is $2 per child, $4 per family. A picnic will be held on church grounds for all participants July 11. Refreshments will be served each day. For more information call the church at 427-3660.

Christ the King Lutheran Church, 9300 Farmington, Livonia, has scheduled its Bible school from Aug. 18-22 for children 3 years through sixth grade.

The theme this year is "God's Happy People." The church urges registration by July 27. However, it will be open until Aug. 18.

Garden City, Presbyterian Church, 1841 Middlebelt, invites children from age 3 through seventh grade to its va-vacation Bible school from July 7-11. Hours are 9 a.m. to noon.

There will be crafts, music, Bible study, learning centers, and a day at Camp Howell. The charge is $2 per child. For more information, call the church at 421-7620.

Buses will be running their regular route to help children attend the Bible school of Plymouth Church of the Nazarene, 41550 E. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth. It will take place from 6:45-9 p.m. from July 7-11.

Director Sarah Brown says the theme this year is "Adventuring with Bible Heroes." She adds that the goal this summer is to help children from preschool age through young teens develop the spiritual dimension of their lives. This will be accomplished through a study of some of the familiar characters of the Old Testament.

For more details, call the church at 453-1525.

Field trips, crafts, Bible study, music, recreation and an ice cream social are what the Bible school at First United Methodist Church of Garden City, 6443 Merriman, is all about.

Invited are youngsters entering kindergarten to sixth graders. Classes will be from 9-11:30 a.m. from July 7-11 and from July 14-17. Chairperson is Jan Humphrey.

church bulletin

MAIN STREET BAPTIST CHURCH OF PLYMOUTH, 9451 S. Main, recently was the scene of a ground-breaking ceremony for a new church building. The event took place at the building site, Joy and Morton Taylor in Canton Township.

According to the pastor, the Rev. Headley Thwatt, construction on the $200,000 building will start in July.

Attending the ceremony were Bob Stidham of the loan department of the Baptist Home Mission Board; the Rev. Joe Watson and the Rev. Roy Adams of the Baptist State Convention of Michigan.

VILLAGE UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, 25350 Six Mile, Redford Township, has a new pastor who will begin his ministry July 15. He is the Rev. Robert Barcus, who was educated at Westminster College in New Wilmington, Pa., and Colgate Rochester Divinity School, Rochester, N.Y.

REV. ROBERT BARCUS

He has served in Rochester, N.Y., Youngstown, Ohio, and Caledonia, N.Y. He has had experience in Christian education, administration, counseling and evangelism. The Barcus family includes his wife Joy, and children Timothy, John and Karen.

WARD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH Six Mile and Farmington, is offering a variety of summer activities for the church's children and youth.

Two cross-country bike trips are planned. A group of about 50 will pedal to Sault St. Marie and back July 18 to Aug. 3. The second group will make a one-week trip to Georgian Bay in Canada and back from Aug. 16-24.

The Titanic Teen Week, July 5-12, will provide such activities as a trip to Cedar Point, a Tigers baseball game, swim parties and roller skating.

Four camps are planned. Family Camp from July 19-25 provides fellowship for the entire family. It will be held at Tamarack Valley Christian Center Campgrounds near Battle Creek.

Kids Camp will be at Pine Hills Camp near Brighton Aug. 4-9. It is for children entering grades three and six this fall. Ultra Bright 80, the junior high camp will be Aug. 3-9, at Storer Camps in Jackson, Mich. Lighthouse Camp for senior high students is Aug. 10-16 at Storer Camps.

Alpha Adventure, a three-week experience in the wilderness of the Blue Ridge Mountains, S.C. is planned for July 25 to Aug. 9. It is for grades 10-12.

Two mission trips have already taken young people to Yucatan and Jackson, Miss. Twelve young adults were on a three-week mission in the Yucatan peninsula of Mexico. Ten high school students are doing physical work at the Voice of Calvary Mission in Jackson.

Space is still available on some of the summer programs. For more details call the church at 422-1150.

Dearden stresses interest in blacks

In view of the recent public notification of the closing of the Office of the Black Secretariat in the Archdiocese of Detroit, John Cardinal Dearden recently offered clarifications and assurances to black Catholics and other interested persons.

"The Archdiocese is explicitly and publicly committed to the existence and staffing of an office which would provide leadership for the church's

Women meet on July 7

Women for Jesus will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Roma's of Garden City, Cherry Hill and Venoy. The speaker will be Bobbi Moore.

Pocklington goes to Boston meeting

Nancy Pocklington, a member of the First Church of Christ Scientist, Plymouth, attended the recent annual meeting in Boston of the Christian Science Church. She served as usher at two of the sessions.

appointed to head the new office. He said, "Up to now, this office has been known as the Black Secretariat."

The cardinal explained that in 1977, after several years of experience, a restructuring process began which would hold promise for an office even better able to respond to the genuine needs and concerns of black Catholics. The new office, which would be called the Office for Black Catholic Affairs, would be guided by an annual Archdiocesan Assembly of Black Catholics and a board of advisors elected from within that assembly.

"I had hoped that this new office would be in place by this time. Nonetheless, I am pleased to say that the committee of black Catholics which has been working on this with me most recently has completed its final draft of a proposed description of the new structure of the office and the constitution for its annual assembly and board of advisors.

According to Cardinal Dearden, a committee of five black Catholics will soon begin the task of drawing up a job description for the person who will head the office. From the list of names submitted to him by that search committee, he will select the person to be Detroit. It is something I am deeply committed to and will continue to foster as part of my pastoral responsibility. I ask the black community to see in this restructuring a sign of hope."

Griffore to talk to fellowship

Businessman Ted Griffore of Gladwin will be the principal speaker at the 7 p.m. dinner meeting on Friday, July 18, of the Northville-Plymouth-Livonia Chapter of the Full Gospel Businessman's Fellowship held at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

The musical portion of the program will be provided by gospel singer and pianist Rocky Berra of Westland, a soloist for the United Assembly of God in Plymouth.

A former resident of Plymouth, he was brought up in the Catholic Church. He owned and managed an auto parts firm in Dearborn for 10 years before moving to Gladwin. While living in Plymouth, he assisted in founding the fellowship and served as its secretary.

Cost of the event is $8 plus a 15 percent gratuity. Make a reservation by sending a check payable to FGFBF to P.O. Box 5332, Northville 48167 by July 15.

Germans call convention

A nationwide organization called the American Historical Society of Germans from Russia will hold its convention July 7-13 in the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Dearborn. Members of the group are descendants of Germans who settled uninhabited parts of Russia in the 18th and 19th centuries. Eventually the Germans were forced from their homes by the Russians and sent to sections like Siberia, explains Max Muth of Livonia, a AHSGR member. Thousands, however, fled to America, many settling in the Midwest.

Handicapped can enjoy recreation

Summer recreation is available for the mentally impaired and physically handicapped, age 3 and over through the Tri-City Therapeutic Program sponsored by the cities of Westland, Garden City and Wayne. Also eligible are the visual and hearing impaired.

Now under way, it will continue through Aug. 13, for the most part in Garden City Park, John Glenn High School, McGrath School and the Garden City Community Pool. All activities will be accessible to persons in wheelchairs.

Persons from the entire area may participate.

Activities will include adaptive sports and games, nature crafts, creative arts and trips to the Detroit Zoo, Kensington Park, Wave Tech Pool and Belle Isle. Special events are color war day, circus day, anything goes day and music and dance day.

There will also be movie and pizza night, rollerskating, night at the race track and beach party.

Most activities are free. However, there is a charge for some. These include two concerts at Pine Knob, one featuring Kenny Loggins and Firefall, the other the Beach Boys. Other activities are a canoe trip, two Tigers games, and visits to Cedar Point and the Michigan State Fair.

Bowling for all ability levels will take place at the Westland Bowl, with adaptive equipment for those who need it.

The morning session, from 10 a.m. until noon, is for the physically disabled. A session from 1-3 p.m. is for mentally impaired. Cost is $1 for two games. Bowling will begin June 26.

Swimming will be held Tuesday evenings in the Garden City Community Pool, 65000 Middlebelt. The 7-8 p.m. session is for the mentally impaired, while the one 8-9 p.m. is for physically disabled.

Lessons will be supervised by a certified adaptive aquatics instructor. Swimming lessons are run in cooperation with Wayne-Westland Continuing Education.

The tri-City Softball Team for mentally impaired individuals 18 and over will practice Wednesday evenings from 6-8 p.m. The roster for Saturday morning league games is filled.

For game dates and locations or information on participating in the program, call the Tri-City program at 722-7620.

Maioranas wed 50 years

Gaspare and Frances Maiorana of Livonia, residents of the area for more than 30 years, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary recently with a mass at St. Edith Catholic Church. It was followed by a party given by members of their family.

The couple has four children, Rose Zwitch and Joseph Maiorana of Livonia, Vincent Maiorana of Redford Township and Cass Maiorana of Westland. They also have 10 grandchildren. The Maioranas formerly operated a fruit market in Livonia.

STANDARD FEDERAL SAVINGS GIVES YOU HIGH INTEREST ON MONEY MARKET CERTIFICATES.

26-Week Money Market Account*

Minimum Balance $10,000.00.

8.597% annual interest.

8.908% effective annual yield, if reinvested at the same rate.

$434.63 interest on $10,000.00 after 26 weeks.

The above is in effect July 3 through July 9. **

Interest on this account can be paid at maturity, paid monthly by check, or deposited monthly into a regular savings account which earns 5 1/2% per annum.

2 1/2-Year Money Market Account*

Minimum Balance $100.00.

9.50% annual interest.

10.111% effective annual yield.

The above is in effect through June 25. **

Interest on this account is compounded continuously and paid quarterly into the account or by check. A Check-A-Month plan is also available with a minimum balance of $5,000.00.

Accounts now insured to $100,000.00.

At Standard Federal Savings, the high interest rates listed above are guaranteed for the full term of the certificate. And now with additional insured safety to $100,000.00 for each account, both Money Market Certificates offer an excellent alternative to other forms of investment. Savings makes sense at Standard Federal Savings!

*Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal from certificate accounts and prohibit the compounding of interest on 26-Week Money Market accounts.
**The rate established at the time an account is opened is in effect for the full term of the certificate.

Oasis edges Waterford in fast pitch showdown

The Oasis Golf Center women's fastpitch softball team completed a successful weekend of play by capturing four out of five games.

Coach Bob Boyd's club scored a big win Friday night in a Livonia Women's Fastpitch League with a 2-1 triumph over defending champs Waterford Gas House Gang.

Oasis traveled to Midland Saturday and Sunday for an invitational tournament and came away with three wins.

A clutch two-out single by Denise Cifaldi in the bottom of the seventh inning enabled Oasis to beat Waterford. Western Michigan teammate Allison Cole, a newcomer to the squad, scored the winning run.

Oasis opened the scoring in the first inning when Vicky Cavallaro walked and eventually crossed home plate on a wild pitch.

Jan Boyd, an incoming sophomore at Eastern Michigan, hurled Oasis to the win. She received excellent defensive play from Cole, a third baseman, and leftfielder Joanne Pachiva in nothing her third straight league win.

In the Midland Women's Fastpitch Invitational Tournament opener, Cifaldi, making her first start of the season, blanked the Midland Jet Sets on one hit in a 10-0 victory.

Cifaldi struck out two and handled six ground balls back to the mound flawlessly.

BOYD lifted the Oasis offense with a single and triple in three at-bats. Sue McDowell, Allison Cole, Diane Connaughton and Julie Stafford also added key hits.

Oasis won its second straight tournament game on Saturday with a 4-0 win over Mechanical Insulation of Saginaw as Boyd tossed a six-hitter. The righthander struck out four in seven innings of work. She did not allow a walk.

The winners tallied all their runs in the first two innings.

Cavallaro walked to open the game and moved to second base on sacrifice bunt. She scored on a single by Pachiva. Sherry Kiselica, an all-stater from Garden City East, then ripped a triple to score Pachiva. Kiselica crossed home on Jody Humphries' RBI single.

Oasis made it 4-0 in the second inning when Cifaldi drew a two-out walk, moved to third on an error and scored on Kiselica's second straight hit — a single.

Kiselica paced the attack with three hits. McDowell, an outfielder headed for Indiana State on a softball scholarship, added two hits.

Martin's Construction became Oasis' third consecutive tourney victim, 14-0.

Cifaldi notched her second shut-out on a one-hitter. She struck out four and did not allow a walk in seven innings.

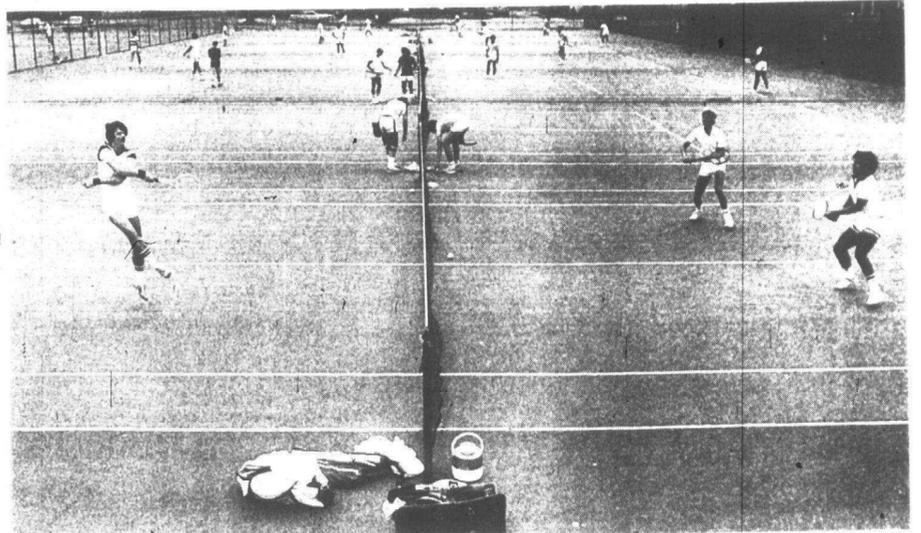

McDOWELL, Kiselica and Humphries paced the Oasis offense with two hits apiece. Both of Humphries' hits were triples. Teammate Sue Barbalas added a triple, while Pachiva and Stafford slugged doubles.

Oasis was eliminated from the tourney on Sunday by Girl Friday of Saginaw, 4-0.

Boyd suffered the loss, although she gave up only one earned run. Oasis ran into a defensive lapse. The team made four errors.

Kiselica had two of Oasis' six hits. She led the team in batting during the tourney with a .582 average. She also fielded her second base position without committing an error.

Oasis resumes Livonia League play at 6:30 p.m. Friday, July 11, at Ford Field against Kane's Truck Parts.

Todd Beyer of Wayne came away the big winner in the annual Canton Doubles Tennis Tournament held over the weekend at Canton High School.

The Northwood Institute netter took home two first place trophies. He was part of the men's and mixed doubles title teams.

He teamed up with Westland's Mark Gonzales to capture the men's doubles crown. They defeated Ann Arbor's Roy Benton and Don Campbell in the finals, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Beyer and Gonzales reached the finals with a 4-6, 6-1, 6-4 triumph over Vic Moccia of Livonia and Dave Farmer of Garden City.

In the other men's semifinal, Benton and Campbell whipped Milo Bradley and Keith Farley, both of Westland, 6-4, 6-2.

A total of 29 teams competed in the men's doubles draw.

Beyer and Robin Walker of Wayne, a varsity netter at Central Michigan University, combined to win the mixed doubles title with a 7-5, 7-6 victory over Bob Deyo of Westland and Bea Grech-Cumbo of Livonia.

Down 5-0 in the second set, Grech-Cumbo and Deyo rallied to force the tiebreaker, which they lost, 5-0.

Beyer and Walker gained the finals with a 6-1, 6-0 semifinal triumph over Bill and Debbie Flood of Brighton.

In the other semifinal, Deyo and Grech-Cumbo beat Dave and Pat Mack of Garden City, 6-2, 6-1.

The women's title was won by Karen Miller and Lisa Bauer of Ann Arbor. They downed Kathleen Green of Ann Arbor and Flood, 6-4, 6-1, for the championship.

Green and Flood advanced to the finals with a hard-fought 6-1, 4-6, 6-0 victory over Carol Dugan and Kathy Shiek, both of Canton.

Miller and Bauer posted a 6-1, 6-1 semifinal victory over Carol Sotola and Lois Beyer, both of Wayne.

"I was real pleased," said tournament director Jeff Holderness. "There were a lot of good players in the draw. There were some really well-played matches."

NORTHVILLE OPEN

Plymouth's Steve Prueter and Lisa Milczarski won the Lipton Ice Tea mixed doubles tournament at the Fish Hatchery in Northville over the weekend.

The Plymouth players will advance later this month to regional play in the event, which is held in conjunction with National Tennis Week and the Northville Open.

Caesars, Elks split DH

Canton Little Caesars and the Plymouth Salem Elks divided a Connie Mack League baseball doubleheader Saturday afternoon.

Leading the Redford-Adray circuit with an 8-1 record, Canton won the opener, 17-4, but suffered its first loss of the season in the second game, 5-4.

Righthander Al Lipinski recorded his fourth victory of the year in the opener for Canton as he scattered seven hits. He was aided by a potent Little Caesars offense, which totaled 17 hits.

Lipinski struck out four and walked four. Elks' starter Paul Stevenson, the first of three pitchers, suffered the loss. John Penders and Brian Lewandowski hurled the final five innings for Plymouth.

Caesars tallied two runs in the first and four more in the second to take a commanding 6-0 lead. The winners added two in the fifth and struck for nine runs in the final two innings.

Third baseman Jeff Stemberger led the assault with four hits. Frank McMurray and Billy Hanis each slapped three hits. Keith Stone, Dave Meador and Lipinski combined for six hits.

Jim Anderson and Dave Slavin paced Salem with two hits each. John Hetkowski accounted for the final Elks' run with a solo homer in the seventh inning.

In the second game, Jim Jimmerson, who was rocked from the mound in an 11-1 loss to Caesars two weeks ago, pitched seven strong innings and avoided constant trouble to give Salem the win.

WITH THE SCORE knotted at 4-4 in the fifth, Joe Garcia singled and scored the game-winner on Anderson's double.

Canton opened the scoring in the first on a two-run single by Lipinski.

Salem then exploded for four runs in the third.

Hsiao Peng started the inning with a walk. He went to third on John Hetkowski's single. Peng then scored on Mitch Wilcox' RBI single.

Anderson then tagged Canton starter Dan Funkhouser for a three-run homer as Salem grabbed a 4-2 advantage.

Canton, however, got a run back in the bottom of the inning as Stone and Meador produced doubles.

Caesars tied it up in the fourth when Paul Dobry walked and scored on Don Dreher's RBI single.

Anderson paced Salem with four RBIs and two hits. Hetkowski had three of Salem's nine hits.

Jimmerson allowed seven hits, struck out five and walked two.

Jack Ford, the third of four Canton pitchers, absorbed the loss.

The split gives Salem a 6-4 league mark.

Canton Mantle trips DiPonio, 7-0

By BRAD EMONS

The Plymouth Canton Elks are on top of their game right now.

Nothing was more evident than Tuesday evening when coach Dave Racer's squad made it 11 in a row with a 7-0 victory over rival Plymouth Salem DiPonio in a Mickey Mantle League baseball game.

"The kids hit the ball well," said Racer, whose team totaled 12 safeties.

"They came out swinging," he said. "They're a super good bunch of kids. They're intelligent and I enjoy working with them."

Headed toward a post-season tournament berth, Racer's squad continues to look sharp despite some lopsided wins of late.

"It's awfully hard to keep them up," said Racer. "We hadn't been hitting the ball, and then the last two games we've gotten more than 10 hits."

Canton took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Keith Stone singled, stole second and came home on Don Dombey's single.

The Elks did not score again until the fifth off DiPonio starter Bill Culver. Scott Bricker doubled down the left field line and later scored on a wild pitch to make it 2-0.

In the seventh, Canton took control by scoring five runs on five hits.

Bricker led off with a single and went to second on Stone's sacrifice bunt.

BILL HANIS then walked and Dombey drove both runners home with another single to up Canton's lead to 4-0.

Pitcher Danny Smith then sent a shot over the right field fence with Dombey aboard. Canton's final run came when Steve Johnson singled, stole second and scored on Fred Rumberger's single.

Smith, who walked the first two DiPonio batters to start the game, settled down and only allowed three hits the rest of the way — two to leftfielder Dave Slavin.

The fireballing righthander struck out 10 and walked five. He struck out the side in the bottom of the seventh to end the game.

Culver, a lefty, went 6½ innings and suffered the loss. He allowed 10 hits, struck out five and walked three. Joe Humphries got the final two outs and allowed one earned run.

DiPonio had scoring opportunities in the first, fifth and six innings but could not cash in.

"When you hit with guys on base it makes up for mental lapses," said DiPonio manager Joe Carlson. "We didn't hit with guys on base. Our pitching and defense has settled down. We're just not bringing them in."

The loss dropped second place Salem to 6-4 overall. Canton (11-0) now has a 4½ game lead in the Western Division.

CANTON-NORTHVILLE

The Elks downed Northville, 5-1, as Smith and Jack Ford combined on a three-hitter. The winners collected four hits.

CANTON-MILAN

Canton exploded for a 26-2 win Sunday over Milan as Hanis, a catcher, went 3-for-3 and scored four runs.

Steve Johnson, Dombey and Dave Brass each added two hits.

Game umpires stopped play in the seventh inning after a bench-clearing brawl which resulted in the suspension of one Milan player and two Canton players.

Dave Malek picked up the win in five innings of work. He was relieved by Jamie Chilcoff.

DIPONIO-S. FARMINGTON

Plymouth Salem DiPonio tallied six runs in the third inning and went on to beat South Farmington Saturday, 9-7.

Humphries, who worked 6½ innings,

Reasons why SNAPPER owners wouldn't own any other:

- 1 Walk-behind models, with inexpensive accessories, will mow, discharge cuttings evenly, vacuum, bag, mulch cuttings and shred leaves.
- 2 Riders and walk-behind models deliver a smooth, professional cut, even during tough conditions. They also cut more, faster, because of the efficient transfer of power from their engines.
- 3 Large capacity grass catchers need emptying less frequently, especially those with the 30 bushel Bag-N-Wagon.
- 4 The floating cutting unit on riders minimizes scalping and damage to the mower.
- 5 A wide selection of mowing speeds gives flexibility for varying lawn conditions, without loss of cutting power.

Before you buy a mower, compare the quality and performance features of a SNAPPER. You'll find SNAPPER is worth more because it does more. And, its price is competitive with other quality mowers.

The winners rallied in the final set, after being down, 5-3. Prueter and Milczarski won the tiebreaker, 5-3.

Plymouth Salem senior-to-be Scott Crespo and Restuccia teamed up to capture the men's doubles crown. They whipped Wyandotte's Jim and Pat Ba-

Area pitchers earn Adray star berths

Six players from Livonia Adray will be in the starting lineup Monday morning when Livonia meets Detroit in the annual Adray All-Star game at Tiger Stadium.

The game is slated to start at 9 a.m. All spectators should enter Gate 10, at the northwest corner of the stadium.

The gate opens one hour before game time, and all spectators will be admitted free of charge.

Twenty-four players have been selected to compete for the Livonia Adray League All-Stars.

Named to the starting lineup by league managers are Jim Wilson, Livonia Adray, catcher; Mike Migoski, Livonia Adray, pitcher; Jeff Sergison, Livonia Adray, first base; Tom Barrett, Livonia Adray, second base; Jim Gemuend, Griffin's Sports, third base; and Junior Gonzales, Livonia Adray, shortstop.

Recreation Department will hold its annual Youth Superstars Contest at 10 a.m. July 12 at Griffin Park.

A variety of athletic events will be held to determine the best age-group athletes in the area. Youngsters will be able to compete in basketball, baseball, golf, soccer and track.

Age divisions are as follows for boys and girls: 9 and younger, 10-12 and 13-15 years.

Trophies and awards will be given out in each age group. For more information, call 397-1000.

TRISCH NO-HITS FOES

Righthander Bill Trisch pitched a no-hitter last week in an F Major League baseball game as the Blue Jays belted the Eagles, 12-0.

The Blue Jays' hurler struck out two and did not walk a batter in seven innings of work. He faced only 23 batters out of a minimum of 21.

SPORTS DAY CAMP

The Plymouth-Canton Community Family YMCA will host two sessions of a Sports Day Camp this month at Allen Elementary School in Plymouth.

The first session will be held July 14-18. A second session will run, July 21-25. Soccer, track, baseball and basketball are among the activities for the camp.

Members of the YMCA can register for $20 per person. The cost for non-members is $24 per person. For more information, call 453-2904.

WOMEN'S GOLF LEAGUE

Two players ended the first round of the Canton Recreation Women's Golf League at Fellows Creek in a first place tie.

After seven weeks of play, Galina Burgh and Jan Nelson shared the title with 30 points each.

Burgh and Nelson each scored five points last week to gain the deadlock.

Deirdre Vesnaugh, Shirley Young and Yoshiko Reyst settled for second place with 29 points apiece. The three golfers scored all five possible points.

To determine the first place winner, Burgh and Nelson will meet in a playoff later this month.

Young and Reyst carded a pair of 49s last week to lead all players. Burgh and Silvia Dickinson each registered 54s.

in the finals, 6-2, 6-1.

Gilles breezed to the women's singles title with an impressive 6-0, 6-0 victory over Tammy Makinen of Brighton. In a semifinal match, Gilles toppled Maureen O'Dowd, also from Brighton, 6-3, 6-4.

In men's singles, Northville High School graduate Barry Ouellette romped to an easy 6-0, 6-2 win over Russ Dempsey of Howell for the title.

Ouellette, the No. 2 seed, beat Dave Haak of Pinckney in the semis, 6-1, 6-0.

In the other semifinal, Dempsey defeated Gerry Abbott, the No. 3 seed; 6-1, 7-6.

The designated hitter is Westland's Steve Raymond.

Remaining players slated to perform are Dan Webster, A.W.I. and Jim Belsie, Wendy's, catchers; Brian James and Doug Holloway, Redford, Paul Assenmacher, Wendy's and Ken Webster, Livonia Adray, pitchers; Ken Hayward, A.W.I., first base; Jim Kuzara, Westland, second base; John McLean, Westland, third base; Brian Harris, A.W.I., shortstop; Jim Ross, Livonia Adray, Matt Etienne, Redford Adray and Craig Beyrand, Wendy's, outfield.

Livonia Adray's Ron Hellier will manage the squad.

Serving on bases are coaches Don Petersen, Westland; Roger George, Westland; Bob Harris, A.W.I.; Mike Keller, Griffin's Sports; and Don Beyrand, Wendy's.

picked up the pitching victory. He walked six and struck out six. Todd Riedel came on to get the last out.

Salem took a 1-0 lead in the first on an RBI double by John Blanchard.

In the third inning, Humphries homered to lead off. Dan Carlson, John Woodnuck and Bob Debenedet also produced RBI hits. Keith Ewing cleared the bases with a single.

DiPonio took an 8-3 lead in the fifth on two walks and an error. Bob Debenedet's RBI double produced the final Salem run in the sixth.

DIPONIO-NORTHVILLE

DiPonio waltzed past Northville Thursday night, 4-1, as Blanchard sparked the attack with a two-run homer in the third inning.

Carlson had two hits, and Ewing singled home DiPonio's final run.

Ken Vermeulen hurled the first four innings to notch the win. Humphries pitched the final three to gain a save.

The two pitchers gave up only five hits and fanned seven.

Caught in a rundown is Salem DiPonio runner Mickey Madsen (dark jersey). Canton's Fred Rumberger (No. 6) threw to Don Dombey, who tagged

They should be in Las Vegas. That's the impression audiences get when they see the John Mallon Show, a group of talented musicians who have played various night spots around town and throughout the country.

AT FIRST glance, the group may appear like a local high school band. Their average age is 22.

But when the show starts, the audience soon realizes there is a talented combination offering a varied and professional program.

Headed by Livonian John Mallon, the group includes his brother Tim, Dave Goodwin of Plymouth, Bill Lymperis of Farmington, and Tom Liddell of Northville.

Their revue has Mallon as lead singer, playing guitar, a hoe-down fiddle, reeds and drums.

He is backed by Tim on the keyboards and trumpet; Goodwin on drums and xylophone; Lymperis on guitar and bass; and Liddell on sax, clarinet and flute.

BUT THIS IS no dance band group. Calling themselves "a Las Vegas style musical variety show," they have music ranging from Glenn Miller and Duke Ellington tunes, a country medley, and John Denver, Neil Diamond and Barry Manilow melodies — all sung by Mallon.

Every movement of the show is prearranged in designs by veteran choreographer Bonnie Hunt, who has produced shows in Vegas. John, 26, who organized the group back in 1975 after receiving a pre-law degree at Michigan State University, has been singing all his life.

"I was in the musical 'Oklahoma' in elementary school and in the choir at Stevenson High School," he says. "I also toured Europe with the Stevenson Alumni Choir. My introduction to instruments began at age 4 with the violin.

"I played the violin through the eighth grade but by that time was feeling as though that was a sissy instrument."

"I was playing football at Holmes Junior High in Livonia and, as kids will, thought that playing a violin didn't seem to go with football.

"I got some kidding from my classmates too, which didn't encourage me to continue the violin. When I was 7, I learned the accordion."

MALLON MOVED on to the guitar, playing with a rock and roll group after graduating from high school in 1968.

At MSU, he studied music theory. He taught himself to play the flute then moved on to the sax, which he admits required lessons.

"The drums, which I always liked, I picked up by myself," he says.

For a while, it was a toss-up whether to pursue a law or musical career. The showmanship won out, and Mallon's never been sorry about the choice.

In addition to his show, Mallon sings for radio and television commercials, models clothes for store ads and television, and writes music.

"I haven't had any music published as yet," he says. "What I'd like to do is to write my material for an album."

THE GROUP has a busy schedule. They have appeared at such places as Pine Knob resort, the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island and the Plaza Hotel in the Renaissance Center. They've also entertained in Pittsburgh, Sault Ste. Marie, Windsor, Cape Cod and Syracuse, in addition to many cities throughout Michigan.

In fact, over the past three years, they have appeared in about 35 cities around the country.

This summer, they will be at the Pine Knob resort, at Gino's Surf in St. Clair Shores, and other spots. Many people follow them from one engagement to another.

John has no manager. He prefers to handle that job himself. He says his father taught him how to handle business.

"My dad had a restaurant on Telegraph, between Five and Six Mile roads," Mallon says. "He has been in business all his life."

Foghat: Some things remain as they should

By NICK CHARLES

Foghat has just released its 10th album, "Tight Shoes." While the rock sound comes through, the American rhythm and blues influence on the English band is still evident.

Members of the group have remained the same since bassist Nick Jameson was replaced by Craig MacGregor on the "Night Shift" album. Jameson left the band to pursue a solo career.

On the latest album, lead vocalist and guitarist Dave Peverett went all out, writing eight tunes.

Drummer Roger Earl, who used to play with Savoy Brown, will keep rhythm with MacGregor as the energized sound of Rod Price's guitar tackles tunes such as "Stranger in My Home Town" and "Loose Ends."

The group has sold out audiences in Detroit more than once. It's been a long time since the group first excited rock fans at the Pontiac Silverdome as an opening act for Ted Nugent and Aerosmith in 1976.

OPENING THE show will be the Pat Travers Band, last in town on April 30 at the Royal Oak Music Theater when bassist Mars Cowling, drummer Tommy Aldridge and guitarist Pat Thrall helped Travers stun the crowd with tunes such as "Is This Love?" and "Shortin' Whiskey" from their latest album, "Crash and Burn."

Foghat and the Pat Travers Band are on stage at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Cobo Arena. Upper tier tickets are still available at $9. For more info, call the box office at 962-1800.

second runs Tom Panzenhagen

• WAYNE AND THE WEST

"Fort Apache" (1948), 1 p.m. Sunday on Channel 50. Originally 127 minutes.

John Wayne made three western films for director John Ford in an eight-year span. They were "Fort Apache," "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon" (1949) and "The Searchers" (1956).

The three form a trilogy because of the range of characters Wayne portrays. In the films, he progresses from the tough-guy Army officer of "Apache" to an older, more benign and retiring cavalry officer in "Yellow Ribbon," to the antithesis of both roles in "Searchers."

The last film in the series is the most interesting of the three because of Wayne's turnabout. As in a Greek tragedy, "The Searchers" offers irony in the form of the Duke reborn as an angry, lonely frontiersman. Once the square shooter, a born leader and then the elder statesman, he becomes an anti-hero.

Ford did much to catapult Wayne to the image of "A Great American." Such a good job, in fact, that to many "The Searchers" is not an anti-hero film at all. Because it stars John Wayne, he's often viewed in it as a hero despite his blatantly racist attacks on Indians throughout.

"The Searchers" is such a good film, though — perhaps Wayne's best — because the groundwork for it is so firmly laid in the two earlier productions.

But when you've witnessed the growth patterns, from "Apache" to "Yellow Ribbon," to "The Searchers," the undercutting evidenced in "Searchers" is unmistakable.

"Fort Apache," the most typically John Wayne-ish of the three films, also stars Henry Fonda, Shirley Temple, John Agar and Ward Bond.

"The Alamo" (1960), 8 p.m. Friday on Channel 7. Originally 190 minutes.

Wayne directed this one himself. Note how stilted it appears in contrast with the well-paced films of Ford. One or two good action sequences, though, and a fine musical score by Dimitri Tiomkin; also starring Richard Widmark, Laurence Harvey, Richard Boone and Frankie Avalon.

• HOLLYWOOD AND VINE

"Tarzan and His Mate" (1934), 11:30 a.m. Saturday on Channel 50. Originally 105 minutes.

This was the second of six Tarzan films with Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan as Jane. Not as good as their first picture — "Tarzan the Ape Man," in which Jane wore a costume too skimpy for words — but certainly the next best.

"The Hospital" (1972), 11:30 p.m. Saturday on Channel 2. Originally 103 minutes.

An interesting film from the Paddy Chayefsky script. Suffers from all the excesses of Chayefsky's more recent "Network," but it's also just as good what with its bitter lunacy. Everyday life in a big city hospital, directed by Arthur Hiller and starring George C. Scott, Diana Rigg from "The Avengers," Barnard "Da" Hughes and Nancy "Lou Grant" Marchand.

"Airport" (1970), 8 p.m. Sunday on Channel 7. Originally 137 minutes.

The first of many "Airport" films, made even before they started attaching the year to the title. But quite good despite its wooden characters and predictable plot. A cast of hundreds, including Burt Lancaster, Dean Martin, George Kennedy, Helen Hayes, Jean Seberg, Jacqueline Bisset, Van Heflin, Maureen Stapleton, Lloyd Nolan.

"Blue Angel" (1930), 3 a.m. Tuesday on Channel 62. Originally 90 minutes.

Picture this: Marlene Dietrich as the vamp Lola-Lola singing "Falling in Love Again" to schoolmaster Emil Jannings in German with subtitles. Only on Channel 62. But really a classic film, directed by Joseph von Sternberg.

"High Sierra" (1941), 8 p.m. Tuesday on Channel 50. Originally 100 minutes.

Humphrey Bogart is Mad Dog Earle in this film directed by Raoul Walsh, with Ida Lupino, Joan Leslie and Cornel Wilde. Bogie's on the lam — will the coppers catch him?

楽しいお食事は京都へ

There are steak houses and there are steak houses.
Kyoto is a Japanese steak house. At Kyoto, every table has a floor show of its own: your personal chef who, knives flashing, transforms the freshest, most succulent ingredients into a feast fit for an emperor!
Why settle for an ordinary steak dinner when you could come to Kyoto?

Country in the park

Charly McClain, of "Let Me Be Your Baby" fame, gives country-western shows at 7 and 9 p.m. Saturday at the outdoor dance center of Willow Metropark. Admission is free, except for the park entry permit ($2 daily). The park is at I-275 between New Boston and Flat Rock. For more info, call 697-9181.

Folk music in the mall

Gwen Marston, a folk singer who plays guitar, autoharp, mountain dulcimer and banjo, gives free shows for children at noon and 2 p.m. Saturday in the central court of Westland Center, Warren and Wayne Road in Westland. She will be available to talk to the audience after each performance.

Jazz festival downtown for the weekend

The Freedom Jazz Festival opens today at the Detroit Jazz Center with concerts, cabarets, exhibits and after-hours jazz through Sunday. The festival, which also celebrates the 80th birthday of Louis Armstrong (born July 4, 1900), will feature the premiere of the Renaissance Jazz Revue. The revue is a jazz-era re-creation that showcases such stars as Kenny Hagood, vocalist with Dizzy Gillespie, Miles Davis and Thelonious Monk; tap-dancer Paul Leonard of the Leonard Brothers dance team; tenor saxophonist LaMont Hamilton, veteran of the Jay McShann and King Kolax orchestra and the New Detroit Jazz Ensemble; trumpeter Herbie Williams, who has performed and recorded with Charlie Parker; saxophonist Sam Sanders, leader of Visions and artistic director of the jazz center; and David Swain and the Detroit Jazz Center Repertory Orchestra providing big band backing for the entire show. The Renaissance Jazz Revue will be presented in the jazz center's World Stage Auditorium in concert and cabarets from 10 p.m. to 4 a.m. on Friday and Saturday. Opening the show is the Lyman Woodard Organization. The Freedom Jazz Festival will open at 6 tonight when the Friends of Jazz presents a reception and open house at the center. Festivities include performances in the Jazz Gallery cafe at the Jazz Center, with the Evolutionary Jazz Quintet 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. tonight; Sam Sanders and Visions, 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. Friday-Saturday; after-hours jazz with the Allan Barnes Band 2-4 a.m. Friday and Saturday nights; and the Vassal Grading Group, 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. Sunday night. Tickets for the festival are on sale at the Detroit Jazz Center, 2110 Park Ave. at Elizabeth in downtown Detroit. For ticket information, call the Jazz Hotline at 962-4124.
