DELBERT HOSEMANN
Secretary of State

My fellow Mississippians:

Eudora Welty once said that a good snapshot stops a moment from running away. I am pleased to present to you the 2008-2012 version of the Official and Statistical Register for the State of Mississippi, our “snapshot” of the Magnolia State. The focus of this latest edition of the “Blue Book” is not where we have been, but rather, where we are and where we are going.

To concentrate on where we are, our agency has updated statistical information in the Blue Book. For the first time, municipal election returns are included in the publication. We have made every effort to provide not only historical facts and figures in this fundamental historical reference, but the most up-to-date information that would be useful for years to come.

To focus on where we are going, we have worked meticulously to highlight all Mississippi has to offer. We have a lot to be proud of in Mississippi. The citizens of our State are the most generous in the nation. We have exceptional access to transportation and waterways; a sustainable, trainable workforce; a vibrant and innovative industrial base; and our universities and junior colleges offer world-renowned educational and research capabilities. In addition to those strong attributes, we have an abundance of natural resources. This year, we have designed the Blue Book to showcase the opportunities, talents, and natural resources of our Great State, as well as our greatest asset—the culture of her people.

Mississippi is constantly redefining itself. But throughout that redefinition, our citizens have remained the same—the same warm, compassionate people with the same strong, unflinching values. Coupled with the unparalleled possibilities for our future, Mississippi’s potential is unlimited. It is my hope that bright future shines in this edition of the Blue Book.

Sincerely,

DELBERT HOSEMANN
Secretary of State

IN TODAY'S GLOBAL ECONOMY, MISSISSIPPI'S WORKFORCE IS TRULY A FORCE TO BE RECKONED WITH.

Mississippi has an eligible workforce of over 1.3 million people, and companies around the world are discovering the benefits of working in our State.

Companies such as Nissan, Toyota, Rolls Royce, and many others have cited our skilled, hard-working people as one of their chief reasons for choosing Mississippi. At the same time, existing businesses continue to enjoy the advantages of our steady gains in education, training, and productivity.

Our low cost of living translates into an affordable labor force. State wages per hour average 75 percent of the national average. As a result, American companies can operate competitively without exporting jobs overseas. Foreign-owned companies can invest in the Mississippi economy, providing high-quality jobs and introducing new technologies and manufacturing processes to our State.

Mississippi's pro-business environment is also helping to expand and diversify the types of work opportunities available within our borders. Further, aggressive ongoing legislative initiatives have resulted in Mississippi being hailed as one of the most business-friendly of any state.

Our citizens value their jobs. Mississippi averages a low three percent absenteeism rate and five percent turnover rate. Manufacturing companies, in particular, are attracted to Mississippi's strong work ethic, and our State now has the fifth-highest percentage of manufacturing workers in the U.S.

New and existing companies also benefit from our State's efforts to encourage the pursuit of higher education. Each year, more than 120,000 students pursue a wide range of disciplines in Mississippi's universities, private colleges, and community colleges.

Our State provides the fourth most affordable university education in the country. Through our excellent public universities, we are preparing students for tomorrow's jobs, conducting groundbreaking research in a variety of disciplines and assisting industry through technology transfer partnerships.

At the same time, our State boasts one of the nation's strongest community college systems. Mississippi was one of the first to develop a statewide community college system. And today our community colleges are recognized for being among the nation's best. According to a 2008 Nelson A. Rockefeller Institute of Government report, Mississippi's two-year colleges rank fourth in the nation.

Better jobs and gains in higher education are providing tangible benefits for all Mississippians. In 2006, Mississippi experienced the seventh-highest increase in per-capita income in the nation, a trend that is expected to continue.

“Mississippi has one of the highest concentrations of HIGH-PERFORMANCE computing power in the nation, helping our State develop INNOVATIVE solutions for the aerospace and automotive industries, among others, while spurring job GROWTH and economic development.”

THE BIRTHPLACE OF AMERICAN MUSIC IS NOW THE CRADLE OF INVENTION.

Mississippi has long been heralded for its role in the development of blues, rock, and country music. Today, however, Mississippi-based manufacturers, technology companies, and academic institutions have added a whole new dimension to the story of Mississippi innovation, by introducing a wealth of new products and technologies to the world.

Greenwood's Viking Range Corporation developed the first commercial-type range specifically designed, engineered, and certified for home use. Peavey Electronics Corporation, in Meridian, is one of the world's largest manufacturers of musical instruments and professional sound equipment. And Ridgeland-based Bomgar Corporation has emerged as one of the fastest-growing software companies in America with their appliance-based technical support product.

Mississippi universities are helping fuel the innovation. A variety of research and development partnerships are in place to assist existing businesses while attracting new economic development throughout the State.

The Mississippi Polymer Institute at the University of Southern Mississippi serves a variety of Mississippi industries by providing research, formulation, and testing of innovative polymer-based materials. One of the nation's top polymer research institutes, the Mississippi Polymer Institute, has helped attract companies to our State like nanotechnology leader Hybrid Plastics, which moved from Southern California to Hattiesburg in 2004.

Jackson State University's Northrop Grumman Center for Computational Engineering conducts high-performance computing and analysis to solve technical challenges related to the design and evaluation of ships, airplanes, and helicopters. Currently, the Center is studying the dispersion of battlefield contaminants and developing simulation technologies to study the aerodynamics characteristics of future combat systems.

Mississippi State University's Raspet Flight Research Laboratory supports our State's growing aerospace and defense industries by providing full-scale flight vehicle development, flight research, and testing of manned and unmanned fixed-wing and rotary-wing aircraft.

And, in Oxford, The University of Mississippi's Jamie Whitten National Center for Physical Acoustics conducts research that studies the physics of sound as it relates to aeronautics, ultrasonics, wind noise, and atmospheric acoustics.

CONVENIENTLY LOCATED IN THE MIDDLE OF EVERYWHERE.

From our rolling hill country to the Mississippi River delta to the sunny beaches along our Gulf Coast, Mississippi's unique location offers a world of opportunities for residents, travelers, and businesses alike.

Mississippi is centrally located in the heart of the Southern United States, within a day's drive of 55 percent of America's major population centers and in close proximity to key markets in Mexico, Central America, and South America.

Combined with our world-class intermodal transportation system, it's easy to understand why Mississippi is becoming a hotspot for domestic and international trade.

We are surrounded by 800 miles of commercially navigable waterways – the Mississippi River, the Tennessee-Tombigbee Inland Waterway, and the Gulf of Mexico to the south. We have two deepwater ports, Gulfport and Pascagoula, and major river ports at Natchez, Vicksburg, Greenville, and Rosedale.

The Jackson-Evers International Airport and Gulfport-Biloxi International Airport, combined with more than 70 regional airports, serve over one million air travelers in a typical year.

Our highway system is one of the best in the nation. With five interstate highways and 14 federal highways, Mississippi offers easy access to major north-south markets including Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis, and New Orleans and the east-west markets of Atlanta, Birmingham, and Dallas.

Mississippi also has an extensive system for rail transport of both goods and passengers. We have more than 2,841 miles of track, including an efficient new rail link along the NAFTA corridor to connect markets across America to trade partners in Canada and Mexico.

Efforts are also underway to bring high-speed passenger rail service to the State. Under a proposed federal high-speed rail initiative, Meridian and Biloxi would both be stops along the Gulf Coast Corridor.

Mississippi has increased export growth steadily over the last decade. In 2008, Mississippi exported more than $7 billion worth of manufactured goods to international customers. During the first two months of 2009, Mississippi experienced the country's second-highest increase in exports over the same period in 2008.

“A state RICH in natural resources, Mississippi will play a KEY ROLE in renewable energy production as our nation expands its ENERGY portfolio.”

RESOURCES

MISSISSIPPI'S NATURAL RESOURCES MAKE OTHER STATES GREEN WITH ENVY.

Without question, Mississippi has been blessed with a great abundance of natural resources.

The management of these resources is a responsibility we do not take lightly. Mississippi is, after all, a state of nature lovers, with a long-standing tradition of conservation and environmental stewardship.

Not surprisingly for a state named after a river, Mississippi has plentiful fresh water. At a time when many states are struggling with water supply issues, we have more than 14,000 miles of streams and 600,000 acres of lakes. Additionally, our State has eighteen major aquifers, supplying 93 percent of our State's drinking water.

We have more than 19 million acres of forestland, covering 64 percent of our State. Eighty percent of the land is privately owned. The remainder is public land, including our six national forests – Bienville, De Soto, Homochitto, Delta, Holly Springs, and Tombigbee – our state parks and state wildlife management areas, representing 1.2 million acres dedicated to recreation and wilderness preservation.

Contributing $1 billion to our State's economy each year, Mississippi's forestry industry is a model of sustainable forest management. Mississippi was the first state in the nation to establish a reforestation tax credit, encouraging landowners to replant after harvest. We were also the first to create a statewide forest inventory, using remote-sensing satellite imagery to calculate the size and diversity of the forestland in our State.

You could say that, in Mississippi, even the dirt is valuable. Over the course of thousands of years, the Mississippi River and its tributaries have deposited rich soil through the Mississippi Delta. Delta topsoil averages 132 feet deep with a range of up to 350 feet deep – some of the deepest topsoil in the world.

Given such rich, productive soil, it should be no surprise that agriculture is Mississippi's top industry. Agriculture contributed $6.3 billion to Mississippi's economy while employing 30 percent of the State's workforce, either directly or indirectly. Thanks to 41,700 farms scattered throughout the State, Mississippi feeds and clothes the world.

Mississippi ranks as one of the top states for biomass potential. Companies have entered into agreements with the State to begin producing ethanol and biodiesel from renewable, non-food sources including pond algae, wood waste, poultry litter, and landfill trash.

THE ENERGY TO ADVANCE OUR ECONOMY WHILE IMPROVING OUR ENVIRONMENT.

As Mississippi's economy and population continue to expand, our demand for energy grows. Mississippi is answering the challenge by increasing energy supplies, harnessing clean and renewable sources of energy, and reducing our dependence on foreign oil. In fact, since 2003, more than $20 billion in energy projects have entered into the planning or development stages.

The majority of electricity in our State is generated using natural gas. The availability of this clean, efficient energy source will improve with the construction of a new liquefied natural gas (LNG) terminal in Pascagoula, scheduled for completion in 2011. Pascagoula is already home to Chevron's largest wholly owned petroleum refinery.

Our State is looking to expand power generation using locally mined coal, as well. Mississippi Power has filed to build a $2.2 billion, state-of-the-art power plant in Kemper County that would use locally mined lignite coal as a fuel source. The plant will minimize greenhouse gas emissions through carbon capture and sequestration technology.

Additionally, plans are in place to expand our State's supply of nuclear energy, an efficient fuel source which provides very low carbon emissions.

Entergy Nuclear's Grand Gulf Generating Station is already home to the largest boiling water reactor in the United States. In 2008, the company submitted an application to add a second nuclear unit to the site.

Biomass energy, which is generated from plant material, offers another very promising fuel source. In 2008, Ergon began production of ethanol, using corn as a feedstock, in a jointly owned, 54-million-gallon-capacity plant in Vicksburg. Mississippi's energy companies are also researching many other promising biomass sources, including wood waste, switchgrass, and pond algae.

The effort devoted to energy will continue with the formation of the Mississippi Energy Policy Institute, introduced by Governor Barbour in 2009. The Institute is charged with guiding Mississippi's long-term economic growth through affordable, reliable, and sustainable power.

HURRICANE KATRINA DIDN'T DEFINE WHO WE ARE. IT REFINED WHO WE ARE.

In 2005, Hurricane Katrina destroyed tens of thousands of homes. It permanently shuttered businesses and caused millions of dollars of damage to highways, ports, railroads, public utilities, and critical infrastructure. Yet, the people of our State responded with a spirit of grace, dignity, and compassion. And we have rebounded in a way no one could have imagined.

Governor Haley Barbour may have put it best in his testimony to a committee of the U.S. House of Representatives, saying, "Our people are strong, resilient, self-reliant. They're not whiners; they're not into victimhood. From day one, they hitched up their britches and did what had to be done: they helped themselves and they helped their neighbors."

That spirit may have surprised some, but not those who know us well. Mississippi is, after all, a place known for its generosity. Several times, our State has ranked at or near the top of the Charity Index, which measures the relationship between average income and charitable giving among U.S. states.

We are a people of great faith. According to a 2009 Gallup poll, 85 percent of Mississippians declared religion to be an important part of daily life, a rate higher than any other U.S. state.

The spirit of volunteerism is alive and well in Mississippi, too. In an average year, 477,000 Mississippians volunteer more than 59.1 million hours of service. The combined value of this service is equivalent to an estimated economic contribution of $1.2 billion.

Just three years after Katrina, in 2008, our State was afforded a unique opportunity to showcase our spirit to the world. Ole Miss was selected over forty other universities to host the first Presidential Debate between Barack Obama and John McCain. This debate offered an unparalleled opportunity to shine a positive light on the progress and accomplishments our State has made.

WHEN DUTY CALLS, MISSISSIPPI ANSWERS.

Our State is home to five major military installations – Keesler Air Force Base, Columbus Air Force Base, Naval Air Station Meridian, the Naval Construction Battalion Center, and Camp Shelby.

Keesler Air Force Base, in Biloxi, is one of the largest training centers in the Air Force, providing electronics, computer, and weather training. The base is also home to three flying units, including the 53rd Weather Reconnaissance Squadron’s “Hurricane Hunters,” which track hurricanes and relay weather data to the National Hurricane Center in Miami. Keesler also operates one of the largest medical centers in the Air Force.

Columbus Air Force Base specializes in undergraduate pilot training using T-6 Texan II, T-38C Talon, and T-1A Jayhawk jet trainers. The base trains more than 25 percent of Air Force pilots, with an average of 350 flights taking off from the base’s runways per day.

Naval Air Station Meridian provides aviation and technical training and is home to one of the Navy’s two jet strike pilot training bases. In addition to its military mission, the station hosts the Regional Counterdrug Training Academy, a civilian law enforcement operation of the Mississippi National Guard. The Navy also operates the Naval Construction Battalion Center in Gulfport, which provides training and support for the Navy’s “Seabees” construction forces. The Center is one of only two U.S. Seabee bases in the country.

Camp Shelby, near Hattiesburg, is the largest state-owned military training site in the nation, hosting as many as 100,000 personnel annually. The site features virtual and real-world combat simulations to help prepare soldiers for deployment.

The National Guard is very active in Mississippi as well, providing wartime military services and supporting security and recovery efforts at home during declared states of emergency.

The Army National Guard’s 20th Special Forces Group (Airborne) operates units in Jackson and Grenada. The units, whose soldiers have been actively deployed in Iraq and Afghanistan, are tasked with five primary missions: unconventional warfare, foreign internal defense, special reconnaissance, direct action, and counter-terrorism.

Additionally, the Air National Guard operates two units in Mississippi. Jackson’s 172nd Airlift Wing, using C17s, provides strategic airlift of personnel and supplies, including evacuation of wounded soldiers from Balad Air Base, Iraq, to Germany’s Ramstein Air Base. And Meridian’s 186th Air Refueling Wing flies nine KC-135R Stratotankers to provide aerial refueling for worldwide missions. The Wing also offers air support for U.S. counter-drug missions.

“With the escalating growth of the CREATIVE class, Mississippi is thriving today. We are seeing more and more people who choose to live in Mississippi because of the quality of LIFE, the quantity and quality of cultural OPPORTUNITIES, and the rich RELATIONSHIPS that build our communities.”

BETSY BRADLEY,
MISSISSIPPI MUSEUM OF ART DIRECTOR

MISSISSIPPANS APPRECIATE THE ARTS. ESPECIALLY THE ONES WE HAPPENED TO INVENT.

Mississippi has rightfully been called the "Birthplace of American Music." The blues was born in our State and then popularized by legendary Mississippians like Robert Johnson, Muddy Waters, Howlin' Wolf, and Son House. To celebrate their legacy, our State initiated the Mississippi Blues Trail, a series of interpretive historic markers placed at key locations throughout the State.

Among our blues landmarks, Indianola's new, world-class B.B. King Museum and Delta Interpretive Center is the crown jewel. In less than a year, the museum has attracted tens of thousands of visitors from around the world.

We're best known for the blues, but Mississippi can stake a claim to rock and country music. Of course, Elvis Presley was born in Mississippi, as were Jimmie Rodgers, "The Father of Country Music," and rock pioneer, Jerry Lee Lewis.

Mississippi has impacted the arts in many other ways beyond music. Our State has become a mecca for Southern writers. Oxford's literary notoriety, in particular, has attracted the attention of many authors vying to be the next Faulkner or Grisham.

And, in Jackson, Jill Conner Browne has even managed to propel the city's once humble St. Paddy's Day parade into the national spotlight with her series of best-selling Sweet Potato Queen books. Jackson's parade is now the third largest St. Patrick's Day parade in the country.

COULD THE GREAT OUTDOORS BE ANY GREATER THAN IT IS HERE IN MISSISSIPPI?

Mississippi is a state where people treasure all forms of outdoor recreation. Lucky for us, there are plenty of opportunities to enjoy nature.

There are more than one million acres of public hunting lands in Mississippi, including nine National Wildlife Refuges and 36 state wildlife management areas, representing a wide variety of habitats. There are hundreds of rivers, ponds, streams, and lakes for freshwater fishing, and abundant opportunities for saltwater fishing off the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Our State is a golf-lover's paradise, featuring nearly 200 public and private courses. Five of these courses were ranked by Golf Digest as being among the nation's best in 2009 – Fallen Oak at Biloxi's Beau Rivage Casino Resort; The Preserve in Vanclave; Grand Bear in Saucier; Dancing Rabbit in Philadelphia; and Shell Landing in Gautier.

Spectator sports are always popular in Mississippi. In addition to professional baseball and hockey, and college sports with our State's passionate fans and intense rivalries, Mississippi hosts a number of unique sporting events.

The Viking Golf Classic, held annually at Madison's Annandale Golf Club, brings intense PGA tournament action to the State. Sponsored by Viking Range Corporation, the Classic blends world-class golf and gourmet cooking. After years of being scheduled opposite major PGA Tour events, the Viking Classic was granted a stand-alone position for 2009, affording the opportunity for higher caliber players and more intense competition.

Runners in Mississippi have three marathons to choose from – the Mississippi Blues Marathon held in Jackson, the Tupelo Marathon, and the Mississippi Coast Marathon. A variety of 5Ks, 10Ks, half marathons, and triathlons are also held throughout the year in locations all around the State.

There are numerous places for hiking and biking throughout the State, as well. But none can match the sheer magnitude and historical significance of the Natchez Trace Parkway. Mississippi travelers now have an uninterrupted 300-mile stretch of this scenic highway to explore.

MISSISSIPPI'S PRO-BUSINESS CLIMATE

- A fair legal system with the Tort Reform Act of 2004
- Strong trademark protection under Senate Bill 2641
- Favorable operating costs including low taxes
- Quality workforce and state-sponsored training
- Progressive financial and tax incentive programs
- One-stop environmental permitting

MISSISSIPPI IS MOVING FORWARD BY AIR, BY SEA, AND BY LAND.

Despite the massive challenges of ongoing hurricane recovery and a tough global economy, Mississippi is indeed on a roll.

Under Governor Barbour's leadership, and with implementation of the pro-business policies of Momentum Mississippi and a favorable legal climate, our State has attracted significant new economic development through the expansion of existing industry and the relocation of new facilities to our State.

In recent years, Mississippi has competed against states across the nation and brought an unprecedented number of impressive wins home to our State. Most importantly, we have attracted businesses that require skilled labor and an educated workforce – offering not just new jobs, but higher wages.

In 2008, Toyota announced that it would be building a new assembly plant in Blue Springs. Combined with Nissan's Canton operations and numerous automotive suppliers also coming to Mississippi, we have significantly increased the strength of our position within the Southeast automotive corridor.

Other high-profile companies have selected Mississippi, including American Eurocopter, Rolls Royce, Trinity Yachts, and GE Aviation.

Mississippi's portfolio of aerospace and defense companies has grown significantly. Navistar and Griffin Armament, both makers of military armored vehicles, have opened manufacturing centers in our State. Manufacturers of unmanned aerial vehicles (UAVs) have welcomed Mississippi, too, with expansions at Stark Aerospace, Aurora Flight Science, and Alliant Tech Systems. At the same time, Mississippi's largest employer, Northrop Grumman, significantly expanded its presence in the State after winning contracts to build the Globalhawk and Firescout UAVs.

These new companies mean new jobs and new opportunities and the decline in manufacturing employment that has struck so much of the country has stabilized in Mississippi. Already, we have seen our State's personal income rise at a rate that's among the highest in the nation.

Mississippi is moving ahead, with purpose, in the right direction. The vision for the future of our State is clear: There is no limit to what we can achieve together as citizens of the great State of Mississippi.

MISSISSIPPI STATE SYMBOLS

GREAT SEAL

STATE COAT-OF-ARMS

GREAT SEAL

The State Seal has been in use since Mississippi became a state in 1817. It is described in the Laws of the State of Mississippi, First Session, First General Assembly, 1817-1818: "The seal of this state, the inscription of which shall be 'the great seal of the state of Mississippi' around the margin, and in the center an eagle, with the olive branch and quiver of arrows in his claws."

STATE COAT-OF-ARMS

On February 7, 2001, Governor Ronnie Musgrove signed into law Senate Bill No. 2285 designating the above design as the official Mississippi Coat-of-Arms:

"... a shield, blue in color, with an eagle upon it with extended pinions, holding in the right talon a palm branch and bundle of arrows in the left, with the word 'Mississippi' above the eagle; the lettering on the shield and the eagle to be in gold;

below the shield two (2) branches of the cotton stalk, saltier wise, and a scroll below extending upward and on each side three-fourths (3/4) of the length of the shield; upon the scroll, which is to be red, the motto to be printed in gold letters upon white spaces, the motto to be 'Virtute et Armis'; this being the same Coat-of-Arms adopted by the Legislature in Chapter 37, Laws of the Extraordinary Session of 1894."

This design was declared the official state Coat-of-Arms by the 1894 Legislature, but the original law was not brought forward in the 1906 revision of the Mississippi Code. The Mississippi Supreme Court ruled in May 2000 that Mississippi did not have an official Coat-of-Arms. A 17-member commission appointed by Governor Ronnie Musgrove to study the issue recommended to the Legislature the re-adoption of the Coat-of-Arms.

STATE FLAG

By majority vote on April 17, 2001, the citizens of Mississippi adopted the following as Section 3-3-16 of the Mississippi Code:

"The official flag of the State of Mississippi shall have the following design: with width two-thirds (2/3) of its length; with the union (canton) to be square, in width two-thirds (2/3) of the width of the flag; the ground of the union to be red and a broad blue saltire thereon, bordered with white and emblazoned with thirteen (13) mullets or five-pointed stars, corresponding with the number of the original States of the Union; the field to be divided into three (3) bars of equal width, the upper one blue, the center one white, and the lower one, extending the whole length of the flag, red (the national colors); this being the flag adopted by the Mississippi Legislature in the 1894 Special Session."

Although the 1894 Mississippi Legislature had adopted the flag described above, during the 1906 revision of the Mississippi State Code, the law designating an official state flag was not brought forward. On May 4, 2000, the Mississippi Supreme Court ruled that Mississippi did not have an official state flag. The election to select the official state flag was the recommendation of a 17-member commission appointed to study the issue by Governor Ronnie Musgrove. The 2001 Legislature passed a law setting the date for the special election. Voters chose between two designs.

STATE FLOWER AND TREE

An election was held in November 1900 to select a State Flower. Votes were submitted by 23,278 school children. The magnolia received 12,745 votes, the cotton blossom 4,171, and the cape jasmine 2,484. A few votes were for other flowers. The magnolia was officially designated as the State Flower by the 1952 Legislature. In 1935, the Director of Forestry started a movement to select a State Tree for Mississippi. The tree was to be nominated and elected by school children of the state.

Four nominations were made: the magnolia, oak, pine, and dogwood. The magnolia received the majority. On April 1, 1938, the Mississippi Legislature officially designated the magnolia as the State Tree. Chapter 365, Laws of Mississippi 1938.

Flag Etiquette

THE UNITED STATES FLAG

The following flag laws and regulations are contained in the Public Law as amended July 7, 1976, by the 94th Congress of the United States. They set forth the existing rules, customs, and etiquette pertaining to the display and use of the flag of the United States of America.

Section 1

The following codification of existing rules and customs pertaining to the display and use of the flag of the United States of America shall be and is hereby established for the use of such civilians or civilian groups or organizations as may not be required to conform with regulations promulgated by one or more executive departments of the Government of the United States.

The flag of the United States, for purposes of this chapter, shall be defined according to Title 4, United States Code, Chapter 1, §§ 1 and 2, and Executive Order 10834 issued pursuant thereto.

Section 2

(a) It is the universal custom to display the flag only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstaves in the open. However, when a patriotic effect is desired, the flag may be displayed twenty-four hours a day if properly illuminated during the hours of darkness.

(b) The flag should be hoisted briskly and lowered cautiously.

(c) The flag should not be displayed on days when the weather is inclement, except when an all weather flag is displayed.

(d) The flag should be displayed on all days, especially on New Year's Day, January 1; Inauguration Day, January 20; Lincoln's Birthday, February 12; Washington's Birthday, third Monday in February; Easter Sunday (variable); Mother's Day, second Sunday in May; Armed Forces Day, third Saturday in May; Memorial Day (half-staff until noon), the last Monday in May; Flag Day, June 14; Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, first Monday in September; Constitution Day, September 17; Columbus Day, second Monday in October; Navy Day, October 27; Veterans Day, November 11; Thanksgiving Day, fourth Thursday in November; Christmas Day, December 25; and such other days as may be proclaimed by the President of the United States; the birthdays of States (date of admission); and on State holidays.

(e) The flag should be displayed daily, on or near the main administration building of every public institution.

(f) The flag should be displayed in or near every polling place on election days.

(g) The flag should be displayed during school days in or near every schoolhouse.

Section 3

The flag, when carried in a procession with another flag or flags, should be on the marching right, that is, the flag's own right; or, if there is a line of other flags, in front of the center of that line.

(a) The flag should not be displayed on a float in a parade except from a staff, or as provided in subsection (i).

(b) The flag should not be draped over the hood, top, sides or back of a vehicle or of a railroad train or boat. When the flag is displayed on a motor car, the staff shall be fixed firmly to the chassis or clamped to the right fender.

(c) No other flag or pennant should be placed above or, if on the same level, to the right of the flag of the United States of America, except during church services conducted by naval chaplains at sea, when the church pennant may be flown above the flag during church services for the personnel of the Navy.

(d) The flag of the United States of America, when it is displayed with another flag against a wall from crossed staffs, should be on the right, the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

(e) The flag of the United States of America should be at the center and at the highest point of the group when a number of flags of States or localities or pennants of societies are grouped and displayed from staffs.

(f) When flags of States, cities or localities, or pennants of societies are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States, the latter should always be at the peak. When the flags are flown from adjacent staffs, the flag of the United States should be hoisted first and lowered last. No such flag or pennant may be placed above the flag of the United States or to the United States flag's right.

(g) When flags of two or more nations are displayed, they are to be flown from separate staffs of the same height. The flags should be of approximately equal size. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.

(h) When the flag of the United States is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from a windowsill, balcony, or front of a building, the union of the flag should be placed at the peak of the staff unless the flag is at half-staff. When the flag is suspended over a sidewalk from a rope extending from a house to a pole at the edge of the sidewalk, the flag should be hoisted out, union first, from the building.

(i) When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, that is, to the observer's left. When displayed in a window, the flag should be displayed in the same way, with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street.

(j) When the flag is displayed over the middle of the street, it should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in a north and south street.

(k) When used on a speaker's platform, the flag, if displayed flat, should be displayed above and behind the speaker. When displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium, the flag of the United States of America should hold the position of superior prominence, in advance of the audience, and in the position of honor at the clergyman's or speaker's right as he faces the audience. Any other flag so displayed should be placed on the left of the clergyman or speaker or to the right of the audience.

(l) The flag should form a distinctive feature of the ceremony of unveiling a statue or monument, but it should never be used as the covering for the statue or monument.

(m) The flag, when flown at half-staff, should be first hoisted to the peak for an instant and then lowered to the half-staff position. The flag should be again raised to the peak before it is lowered for the day. On Memorial Day the flag should be displayed at half-staff until noon only, then raised to the top of the staff. By order of the President, the flag shall be flown at half-staff upon the death of principal figures of the United States Government and the Governor of a State, territory or possession, as a mark of respect to their memory. In the event of the death of other officials or foreign dignitaries, the flag is to be displayed at half-staff according to presidential instructions or orders, or in accordance with recognized customs or practices not inconsistent with the law. In the event of the death of a present or former official of the government of any State, territory or possession of the United States, the Governor of that State, territory or possession may proclaim that the National flag shall be flown at half-staff. The flag shall be flown at half-staff thirty days from the death of the President or a former President; ten days from the death of a Vice President, the Chief Justice or a retired Chief Justice of the United States, or the Speaker of the House of Representatives: from the day of death until interment of an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, a Secretary of an executive or military department, a former Vice President, or the Governor of a State, territory or possession; and on the day of death and the following day for a Member of Congress. As used in this subsection:

1. the term "half-staff" means the position of the flag when it is one half the distance between the top and bottom of the staff;
2. the term "executive or military department" means any agency listed under sections 101 and 102 of Title 5, United States Code; and,
3. the term "Member of Congress" means a Senator, a Representative, a Delegate, or the Resident Commissioner from Puerto Rico.

(n) When the flag is used to cover a casket, it should be so placed that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder. The flag should not be lowered in the grave or allowed to touch the ground.

(o) When the flag is suspended across a corridor or lobby in a building with only one main entrance, it should be suspended vertically with the union of the flag to the observer's left upon entering. If the building has more than one main entrance, the flag should be suspended vertically near the center of the corridor or lobby with the union to the north, when entrances are to the east and west, or to the east when entrances are to the north and south. If there are entrances in more than two directions, the union should be to the east.

Section 4

That no disrespect should be shown to the flag of the United States of America, the flag should not be dipped to any person or thing. Regimental colors, State flags, and organization or institutional flags are to be dipped as a mark of honor.

(a) The flag should never be displayed with the union down, except as a signal of dire distress in instances of extreme danger to life or property.

(b) The flag should never touch anything beneath it, such as the ground, the floor, water or merchandise.

(c) The flag should never be carried flat or horizontally, but always aloft and free.

(d) The flag should never be used as wearing apparel, bedding, or drapery. It should never be festooned, drawn back, nor up, in folds, but always allowed to fall free. Bunting of blue, white and red, always arranged with the blue above, the white in the middle, and the red below, should be used for covering a speaker's desk, draping the front of the platform, and for decoration in general.

(e) The flag should never be fastened, displayed, used or stored in such manner as to permit it to be easily torn, soiled, or damaged in any way.

(f) The flag should never be used as a covering for a ceiling.

(g) The flag should never have placed upon it, nor on any part of it, nor attached to it any mark, insignia, letter, word, figure, design, picture or drawing of any nature.

(h) The flag should never be used as a receptacle for receiving, holding, carrying or delivering anything.

(i) The flag should never be used for advertising purposes in any manner whatsoever. It should not be embroidered on such articles as cushions or handkerchiefs and the like, printed or otherwise impressed on paper napkins or boxes or anything that is designed for temporary use and discard.

Advertising signs should not be fastened to a staff or halyard from which the flag is flown.

(j) No part of the flag should ever be used as a costume or athletic uniform. However, a flag patch may be affixed to the uniform of military personnel, firemen, policemen, and members of patriotic organizations. The flag represents a living country and is itself considered a living thing. Therefore, the lapel flag pin being a replica, should be worn on the left lapel near the heart.

(k) The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning.

Section 5

During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in a parade or in review, all persons present except those in uniform should face the flag and stand at attention with the right hand over the heart. Those present in uniform should render the military salute. When not in uniform, men should remove the headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Aliens should stand at attention. The salute to the flag in a moving column should be rendered at the moment the flag passes.

Section 6

During rendition of the national anthem when the flag is displayed, all present except those in uniform shall stand at attention facing the flag with the right hand over the heart. Men not in uniform should remove their headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Persons in uniform should render the military salute at the first note of the anthem and retain this position until the last note. When the flag is not displayed, those present should face toward the music and act in the same manner they would if the flag were displayed there.

Section 7

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag:

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all," should be rendered by standing at attention facing the flag with the right hand over the heart. When not in uniform men should remove their headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Persons in uniform should remain silent, face the flag, and render the military salute.

Section 8

Any rule or custom pertaining to the display of the flag of the United States of America, set forth herein, may be altered, modified or repealed, or additional rules with respect thereto may be prescribed, by the Commander in Chief of the Armed Forces of the United States, whenever he deems it to be appropriate or desirable; and, any such alteration or additional rule shall be set forth in a proclamation.

No person shall display the flag of the United Nations or any other national or international flag equal, above, or in a position of superior prominence or honor to, or in place of, the flag of the United States at any place within the United States or any Territory or possession thereof: provided that nothing in this section shall make unlawful the continuance of the practice heretofore followed of displaying the flag of the United Nations in a position of superior prominence or honor, and other national flags in positions of equal prominence or honor, with that of the flag of the United States at the headquarters of the United Nations.

THE MISSISSIPPI STATE FLAG

The state flag may be displayed from all public buildings from sunrise to sunset; however, the state flag may be displayed from all public buildings twenty-four (24) hours a day if properly illuminated. The state flag should not be displayed when the weather is inclement, except when an all-weather flag is displayed. The state flag shall receive all of the respect and ceremonious etiquette given the American flag. Provided, however, nothing in this section shall be construed so as to affect the precedence given to the flag of the United States of America. Miss. Code Ann. § 3-3-15 (1972).

"I salute the flag of Mississippi and the sovereign state for which it stands with pride in her history and achievements and with confidence in her future under the guidance of Almighty God."

Governor
HALEY BARBOUR

Elected to two terms as Governor, Haley Barbour has put Mississippi on a new path in job creation, education, health care, energy, safer communities and stronger families.

The results are significant: balanced budgets without any tax increases; a 27.8 percent increase in per capita personal income; prudent management of the state health care program; and new attention on Mississippi as an energy producing state that can help meet America’s energy needs in the future.

Governor Barbour’s first election in 2003 marked the largest voter turnout in Mississippi gubernatorial history, and he was re-elected in 2007 with 58.2 percent of the vote. The Yazoo City, Mississippi, native is only the second governor since Reconstruction to be elected to a second consecutive term as Mississippi’s chief executive.

Achievements in his first term included:

- Balancing the budget without raising taxes. Inheriting a budget hole of more than $720 million, Governor Barbour led by restraining spending, controlling debt and getting the state’s fiscal house in order. His policies not only filled the budget hole but also resulted in increasing Mississippi’s “rainy day fund.”

- The most comprehensive tort reform in the nation, restoring balance for plaintiffs and defendants in the state’s civil justice system;
- “Momentum Mississippi,” an update to the state’s economic development programs. During the Barbour Administration, and prior to the current international economic downturn, Mississippi saw net increases in new jobs. Major announcements include Toyota, whose auto assembly plant was the most sought-after economic development project in the United States; General Electric, which will manufacture advanced jet engine components; Severstal, which has built a state-of-the-art steel mill; and PACCAR, which is building a diesel engine manufacturing plant for its Peterbilt and Kenworth trucks. Even in the troubled economy, Mississippi continues to aggressively pursue job-creation projects.
- Record funding increases for all three levels of education in Mississippi – K-12, community colleges, and universities; for K-12, it was the largest increase in any four-year period under any governor in the history of our state. Across-the-board reforms in public education, including new focus on teacher and school performance, reducing state bureaucracy and strengthening discipline.
- Saving the Medicaid program for truly needy recipients, emphasizing preventative care, and implementing the strongest anti-fraud plan in the history of Mississippi Medicaid.
- Protecting the unborn. Governor Barbour initiated and the Legislature passed seven pro-life laws that make Mississippi “the safest place in America for an unborn child,” according to a national right-to-life organization.

Today, under Governor Barbour’s leadership, Mississippi is emerging as a leader in utilizing the state’s abundant resources and developing alternative, affordable, and sustainable sources of energy. To date, approximately $10.5 billion in projects have been announced, involving biofuels, liquefied natural gas, clean coal and coal to liquid, and nuclear power. In total, the state is actively pursuing and negotiating additional energy-related projects valued at more than $26.3 billion.

In the face of the worst natural disaster in American history – Hurricane Katrina, which struck on August 29, 2005 – Governor Barbour took the lead early on helping Mississippians rebuild and recover. He and First Lady Marsha Barbour, his wife of 37 years, have worked tirelessly and innovatively with local, state and national leadership to tap into many resources of assistance for victims of Hurricane Katrina.

He created the Governor's Commission on Recovery, Rebuilding, and Renewal to develop a broad vision for opportunities to help South Mississippi rebuild bigger and better than ever. Today, Governor Barbour continues the good management practices and award-winning stewardship of about $5.4 billion in federal funding received after Katrina for housing, infrastructure, and a wide variety of other recovery work.

For his leadership after Katrina, Governor Barbour was awarded the Thomas Jefferson Freedom Award, which is presented to a nationally recognized leader by the bipartisan American Legislative Exchange Council.

He was also named Governor of the Year for 2006 by Washington, D.C.-based Governing magazine; awarded the Gulf Guardian Award by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency for his work to rebuild and protect sensitive Coast ecosystems; and received the 2008 Adam Smith Medal from BIPAC for his pursuit of the principles of free enterprise as Mississippi's 63rd Governor.

Duties: The Governor is the Chief Executive Officer of the state, charged with executive direction and supervision of the general administration of the State. In this capacity, he or she sees that the laws are faithfully executed, supervises the official conduct of executive officers, acts as commander-in-chief of the state militia, and appoints officials as prescribed by law.

He or she is responsible for the presentation of a balanced budget to the Legislature and approval or veto of legislation passed by the Legislature. He or she may call extraordinary sessions of the Legislature when he or she deems it necessary, and may issue pardons, executive orders, and extraditions of fugitives from other states.

The office provides staff assistance and liaison in all areas of state government administration and researches agency programs and policies.

A number of officers are appointed by the Governor. Among these are the Adjutant General, the Commissioner of Public Safety, and the chief executive officers of the departments of Banking and Consumer Finance, Mississippi Development Authority, Environmental Quality, and the State Tax Commission. The Governor also appoints members to numerous executive and administrative boards and commissions who, in turn, appoint executive officers to the departments they lead. Some of these departments are Finance and Administration, Health, Corrections, Education, and the State Personnel Board. The Governor serves a term of four years and may be re-elected for an additional term. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5, §§ 116-125. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-1-1 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 30 years old, a United States citizen for 20 years, and a resident of the state for five years next preceding the day of election.

Lieutenant Governor

PHIL BRYANT

Known for strong integrity and sincere concern for his fellow man, Phil Bryant was elected Mississippi's Lieutenant Governor with an overwhelming 59 percent of the vote in November, 2007.

That reputation was earned during his term as State Auditor where he recovered more than $12 million in taxpayers' dollars that were embezzled or improperly spent. He was first appointed to that position by former Governor Kirk Fordice in 1996, won re-election by a vast majority in 1999 and was re-elected in 2003, winning 81 out of 82 counties. In a job where honesty and trustworthiness are the foundations for building public confidence in state government, Phil Bryant has already made a positive difference for Mississippians.

As Lt. Governor, Phil Bryant is continuing his work to ensure accountability in state government. In his first week of office, Bryant proposed webcasting of the Senate proceedings so taxpayers could see their government in action and hold their elected officials accountable. The Senate unanimously approved this innovative, open-government measure. He also led the fight to pass the most comprehensive ethics reform in nearly twenty-five years, which among other things, requires all elected officials to file their ethics reports online.

Governor Bryant has a long history of fighting for conservative beliefs, like lower taxes and traditional values. Prior to serving as State Auditor, Bryant served five years as a member of the Mississippi House of Representatives where he was Vice Chairman of the Insurance Committee and authored the Capital Gains Tax Cut Act of 1994. In fact, the last time Mississippi businesses received a reduction of their state taxes was when Phil Bryant successfully led the fight to end the capital gains tax in Mississippi-based corporations. As a freshman legislator, Phil Bryant began a five-year struggle to end the marriage penalty in Mississippi's tax code.

Governor Bryant's persistence in promoting conservative public policy stems from his belief that people, not the government, know best how to take care of their own money. His consistent views and actions in public service helped him earn the 2004 Statesman of the Year award presented by the American Family Radio. Because of his love of the outdoors and his belief in the 2nd Amendment, he has been a longtime member of the National Rifle Association's Institute for Legislative Action and is a recipient of the Kirk Fordice Freedom Award presented annually by the Central Mississippi chapter of the NRA. He served as the 2008 Honorary Chairman of the Republican Lieutenant Governor's Association and is a past president of the Mississippi Republican Elected Officials Association.

Bryant, the son of a diesel mechanic and a mother who stayed home with her three boys, learned early the values of hard work and the importance of education. The Moorhead native and former deputy sheriff earned his Bachelor's Degree in criminal justice from the University of Southern Mississippi and a Master's Degree in political science from Mississippi College. Governor Bryant's dedication to his work is evident through his years of public service, but his faith and family have always come first. Phil Bryant and his wife, Deborah, have two children. The Bryants are active members of St. Marks United Methodist Church.

Duties: In addition to the Governor, the Mississippi Constitution makes provision for a Lieutenant Governor who acts as president of the state Senate. The Lieutenant Governor presides over the Senate, rules on points of order, appoints standing committees of the Senate, appoints all select and conference committees as ordered by the Senate, and refers all bills. He or she serves as a member of the Senate Rules and Joint Legislative Budget Committees, votes only in cases of ties, speaks from the floor while the Senate is in Committee of the Whole, and signs all finally approved bills and resolutions. The Lieutenant Governor serves a term of four years and may be re-elected for an additional term. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5, §§ 128-132, and 136. Miss. Code Ann. §§ 5-1-13, 5-1-43, and 5-1-47 (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 30 years old, a United States citizen for 20 years, and a resident of the state for five years next preceding the day of election.

A Warren County native, Secretary Hosemann is committed to serving the public with open and fair government. Since his election, he has worked tirelessly on behalf of Mississippi citizens to ensure the integrity of Mississippi's vote, ethically manage State lands to guarantee the future for our children, and make our State more business-friendly and attractive for economic development.

In 1978, the state land commissioner was merged to the Secretary of State and now, the agency oversees over 1.2 million acres of state-owned land, including over 640,000 acres of 16th Section land, which generates approximately $50 million dollars per year for our school children. After taking office, Secretary Hosemann fulfilled a campaign promise and posted all 16th Section leases on the agency's website. The posting of these leases has empowered school boards across the State with the knowledge of comparable leases. This enables school boards to make sound decisions when determining lease amounts and maximizes the rate of return for our school children, our State's most important asset. Secretary Hosemann is also trustee of the Public Trust Tidelands and is committed to preserving these areas for generations to come. In addition, he is working very closely with the Department of Marine Resources and The Nature Conservancy to acquire more State lands, in order to preserve the culture of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

As chief elections officer for the State of Mississippi, Secretary Hosemann has led a crusade against those who would seek to steal your vote. For the first time ever, the Secretary of State's office travels around the State during elections and issues a Report on Elections to the State Legislature on the findings. Secretary Hosemann works tirelessly with Circuit Clerks and Election Commissioners and has travelled across the State listening and addressing citizens' concerns on elections. He takes those concerns to the Legislature in order to find new ways to combat voter fraud and to secure the integrity of the vote. The Secretary of State also promotes voter education programs, such as Promote the Vote for young Mississippians and Vote in Honor of a Veteran.

In many cases, the Secretary of State's office is also the first point of contact for businesses in Mississippi. As part of his overall Business Reform plan, Secretary Hosemann formed several business reform study groups to revamp how Mississippi does business. Those study groups were composed of Mississippians from around the State, and their recommendations were drafted into meaningful legislation to promote economic development and make our State more business friendly. Legislation was passed and the Governor signed this legislation into law. Now, Mississippi is recognized for having the most proactive securities, charities and non-profits legislation in the country. Trademarks legislation passed by the Legislature under the Business Reform plan has even been recognized by the International Trademarks Association, a non-profit organization made up of over 5,000 companies worldwide.

Secretary Hosemann has also reformed pre-need and perpetual care practices across the State. When he came into office, Secretary Hosemann audited several pre-need providers and found many were deficient in their trust accounts. Realizing the widespread problem, Secretary Hosemann helped draft new legislation that would give his agency more oversight in the sale of pre-need contracts to ensure the citizens of the State of Mississippi's most sensitive arrangements are protected.

Secretary Hosemann has long served the citizens of the Mississippi. He was Chairman of the Board of Mississippi Blood Services and the Treasurer of the Jackson Medical Mall Association and served on the Board of Directors for Jackson State University Development Foundation. He was a Paul Harris Fellow and is a member of the North Jackson Rotary Club. Some of his accolades include the George L. Phillips Community Service Award from the United States Department of Justice in appreciation of his service as Chairman of Project Safe Neighborhoods and for his efforts in the Hurricane Katrina First Responders Assistance Project. Delbert was also awarded the J. Tate Thigpen Award for exemplary leadership, support, and commitment to the American Red Cross.

In his spare time, Secretary Hosemann is an avid hunter and marathoner. He belongs to the National Rifle Association, Delta Wildlife Foundation, Ducks Unlimited, the Mississippi Wildlife Federation and Coastal Conservation Association. He has completed both the New York Marathon and the Boston Marathon and represented Mississippi in the Senior Olympics.

Secretary Hosemann comes to the position with a background in Business and Taxation Law. He has his undergraduate degree in Business from Notre Dame, a law degree from Ole Miss, and a Masters of Laws in Taxation from New York University. He is a former partner of Phelps Dunbar, LLP and was selected to the Best Lawyers in America for 18 consecutive years. Secretary Hosemann also served his country in the United States Army Reserves.

Delbert and his wife Lynn have been married for 38 years. They are extremely proud of their three children: Kristen, Chad, and Mark; and granddaughters Grace and Nora Lynn.

Duties: The Secretary of State directs a service and information agency with six major statutory functions: administration of the Mississippi Corporation Law, the Uniform Commercial Code, the Uniform Securities Law, and the Elections Code; administration and supervision of the 16th Section School Trust Lands, the Tidelands Trust, lieu lands, and tax-forfeited property; and issuing documents and publications of the state, including those for the executive and legislative branches. Investigating charity and securities fraud, enforcing campaign finance and lobbyist reporting requirements, issuing notary commissions, registering correspondence schools, administering the state's trademark and service mark laws, service of process, and administering the Administrative Procedures Act are also functions of the Secretary of State's Office. The Constitution designates the Secretary of State as the "keeper of the capitol." The Secretary of State is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Attorney General

JIM HOOD

Jim Hood was elected to a second term as Attorney General of Mississippi on November 6, 2007. He is a Democrat.

During his second term in office, Attorney General Hood has expanded and enhanced many of the programs he initially founded, including the nation's leading model for the investigation and prosecution of technology based crimes, "The Mississippi Cyber Crime Fusion Center." This unit of highly skilled forensic technicians, attorneys, and investigators has been directly responsible for rescuing Mississippi children from sexual predators.

The expansion of the Consumer Protection Division has helped protect Mississippians from the national epidemic of identity crimes, fraudulent home repair contractors, and other fraudulent or deceptive trade practices. Attorney General Hood successfully sought new legislation to increase penalties for counterfeit product violations, which will allow additional enforcement efforts particularly with respect to products posing health and safety risks.

The growth of the Domestic Violence Unit has provided extensive training and resources for Mississippi law enforcement officers, judges, court clerks, and staff, as well as protection for victims of domestic assault and abuse.

Attorney General Hood has strengthened protection for our state's most vulnerable victims — children and elderly. The Vulnerable Adults Unit and the Division of Medicaid Fraud have expanded services to insure that complicated cases involving physical, emotional, and mental abuse of Mississippi's most vulnerable are treated with urgency while the victims are treated with dignity.

Attorney General Hood maintains vigilant support of victims of crime, law enforcement agencies, and prosecutors across the state providing special services and training including Drunk and Drugged driver training programs and a new series of courses to train prosecutors in specialized techniques for capital murder cases.

Attorney General Hood was reared in Houlika, Mississippi. He is a graduate of Houston High School, received his bachelor's degree from the University of Mississippi, and his Juris Doctorate degree from the University of Mississippi School of Law in December, 1988.

Attorney General Hood interned with the Criminal Division of the Attorney General's office during his final semester of law school. Upon graduation, he served for a year as a law clerk to former Supreme Court Justice Armis E. Hawkins, and went on to work as a Special Assistant Attorney General for five years under Attorney General Mike Moore.

In 1995, Hood was elected District Attorney for the Third Circuit Court District which includes Benton, Calhoun, Chickasaw, Lafayette, Marshall, Tippah, and Union Counties. He was re-elected without opposition in 1999, and was elected as Attorney General for the State of Mississippi in 2003.

He and his wife Debbie are the parents of three children: Rebecca, Matthew, and Annabelle Leigh, who attend Mississippi public schools. They are members of First Baptist Church of Jackson, Mississippi, and work to assist citizen and victim based organizations such as MADD and Survivors of Homicide based in North Mississippi.

Duties: The Attorney General is the chief legal officer and advisor for the State with responsibility to serve as lawyer for the State, its public officials, and governmental agencies. The Attorney General has the sole power under Mississippi law to bring or defend a lawsuit on behalf of the State. He or she is also empowered to act as counsel to state agencies and to defend them or bring suit on their behalf, either in person or through assistants.

The Attorney General employs a staff of attorneys, investigators, and office personnel, chosen because of legal talents or other skills. The major duties, divisions, and sections of this office are Civil Litigation, Criminal Litigation, Consumer Protection, Crime Prevention Victim Services, Medicaid Fraud, Opinions and Local Government, Prosecutors Training, Public Integrity, and State Agencies. The Attorney General is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 6, § 173. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-5-1 et seq. (1972).

State Treasurer

TATE REEVES

Tate Reeves was elected as Mississippi's 53rd Treasurer on November 4, 2003 and re-elected to a second term in 2007 with the highest percentage (61%) of any candidate running for statewide office. He is the first Republican treasurer in the state's history.

Tate is a native of Rankin County and is a graduate of Florence High School. He is an honors graduate of Millsaps College and holds a bachelors degree in economics. While at Millsaps, he played point guard for the Millsaps Majors basketball team. Tate continues to be an active alumnus and remains involved with his alma mater by serving as a member of the investment policy board for the Millsaps College General Louis Wilson Fund and is a member of the Advisory Committee of the Else School of Management.

Tate holds the Chartered Financial Analyst designation (CFA) and is the first CFA charter holder to serve as State Treasurer. He is a member of the CFA Society of Mississippi and the CFA Institute, an organization that leads the investment industry by setting the highest standards of ethics and professional excellence. In 1996, he was the recipient of the Mississippi Society of Financial Analysts Award.

Tate is active in the National Association of State Treasurers. As a member, he served as president for 2006-2007 and continues to work on multiple committees. He also serves on the 2009 Executive Board of the College Savings Plans Network.

Tate currently serves as President of the Mississippi Republican Elected Officials Association and was recently named as one of 42 national "Rising Star(s) in the Republican Party" by Rising Tide magazine. In December 2008, he was named by the Aspen Institute's Rodel Fellowships in Public Leadership as one of their "Top Young Elected Officials."

Tate and his wife Elee, a Tylertown native, are the proud parents of their two daughters, Sarah Tyler and Elizabeth Magee. The Reeves are members of Galloway Memorial United Methodist Church, where Elee and Tate served as co-chairman of the most recent Capital Campaign. They have been very committed to many civic and charitable organizations in Mississippi – including the Mississippi Society of Disabilities, UMC Children's Cancer Clinic, Middle Mississippi Girl Scout Council, Boys & Girls Club of Mississippi, the YMCA, the United Way, Stewpot Ministries, the Exchange Club Parent Child Center, and the Mississippi Symphony Orchestra.

Duties: The duties of the State Treasurer are analogous to those of Chief Financial Officer in the business world. Among the Treasurer's duties are maintenance of various financial records, including receipts, deposits, and disbursements of the funds that accumulate in the state Treasury. These funds are derived from a number of sources, including funds provided by the federal government, proceeds from the issuance of bonds, interest payments, and any revenue stream that flows into the state's coffers. Perhaps the most recognizable of these revenue streams are income and sales taxes. The Treasurer also is responsible for investing state funds in investment portfolios and maintaining as high a return as possible on our investments. The Treasurer also pays state warrants, serves as custodian of securities held by other state agencies, manages the Unclaimed Property Program, and administers MPACT and MACS, which are acronyms for two pre-paid college savings programs. Perhaps the most significant responsibility of the Treasurer is his oversight of the process of issuing bonds. Bonds are one of the most important aspects of state government. A bond is basically a credit line that banks issue to the state.

The Treasurer serves as a member of the College Savings Plans of Mississippi Board, Mississippi Windstorm Underwriting Association Board, Mississippi Guaranty Pool Board, State Bond Commission, Public Employees' Retirement Board, Mississippi Business Finance Corporation, Development Bank Board, License Tag Commission, Tort Claims Board, Economic Development Strategic Planning Task Force, State Prison Emergency and Management Board, Mississippi Educational Facilities Authority for Private Nonprofit Institutions of Higher Learning (MEFA), and the Historic Properties Trust Fund Advisory Committee.

The Treasurer is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5, §§ 125, 134, and 136. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-9-1 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 25 years of age, and a citizen of the state for five years next preceding the day of election.

Gubernatorial Succession

When the office of Governor shall become vacant, by death or otherwise, the Lieutenant Governor shall possess the powers and discharge the duties of the office. When the Governor shall be absent from the state, or unable, from protracted illness, to perform the duties of the office, the Lieutenant Governor shall discharge the duties of said office until the Governor be able to resume his duties; but if, from disability or otherwise, the Lieutenant Governor shall be incapable of performing said duties, or if he be absent from the state, the President of the Senate Pro Tempore shall act in his stead; but if there be no such president, or if he be disqualified by like disability, or be absent from the state, then the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall assume the office of Governor and perform the duties; and in case of the inability of the foregoing officers to discharge the duties of Governor, the Secretary of State shall convene the Senate to elect a President Pro Tempore. The officer discharging the duties of Governor shall receive as compensation while performing such duties, the compensation to which he is regularly entitled by law for service in the position to which he was elected and, in addition thereto, an amount equal to the difference between such regular compensation and the compensation of the Governor. Should a doubt arise as to whether a vacancy has occurred in the office of Governor or as to whether any one of the disabilities mentioned in this section exists or shall have ended, the Secretary of State shall submit the question in doubt to the judges of the Supreme Court, who, or a majority of whom, shall investigate and determine the question and shall furnish to the Secretary of State an opinion, in writing, determining the question submitted to them, which opinion, when rendered as aforesaid, shall be final and conclusive. Mississippi Constitution of 1890, § 131, as amended December 8, 1992.

LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

“When I walked into the Capitol as a young State Representative in 1992, Governor Kirk Fordice remarked to me to always remember that the people are the sovereign and we are the servants. Now as Lt. Governor, the responsibilities have grown, but the mission is always the same.”

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR PHIL BRYANT

“Mississippi’s wonderful diversity is reflected in the men and women who serve the 122 districts of the House of Representatives. This body shows the uniqueness of constituencies as well as geography. It is a legislative body whose independence and responsibility to the citizens of our State are guaranteed by our constitution.”

Duties: The state Constitution places law-making authority in the Legislature, which also has the power of the purse, a constitutional provision that no money can be spent from the state’s treasury unless the Legislature passes a law to do so. The Senate exercises advice and consent over appointments made by the Governor. The power of impeachment is vested solely in the House; the power to try impeachment lies in the Senate. The House has the duty to elect the Governor if no candidate receives a majority of both the popular vote and the electoral vote in the general election.

Redistricting: The Constitution requires the Legislature to draw new, contiguous state legislative districts every ten years to reflect changes in population. No more than 52 Senatorial Districts and 122 House of Representative Districts are allowed. The Mississippi Legislature is also charged with the responsibility of drawing districts for the U.S. House of Representatives following each census. If the Legislature does not adopt the new legislative districts in the time allowed by the Constitution, a five-member commission consisting of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court as chairman, the Attorney General, the Secretary of State, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate must do so. Miss. Const. of 1890, Art. XIII, § 254. Miss. Code Ann. § 5-3-81 et seq. (1972).

Qualifications. Senators and Representatives are elected for four-year terms and may be elected to successive terms.

A Senator must be at least 25 years of age at the time he or she takes office, a resident for two years of the district to be represented, and a qualified elector of the state for four years. Miss. Const. of 1890, Art. IV, § 42. The qualifying fee is $15.

A Representative must be at least 21 years of age at the time he or she takes office, a resident citizen of the state for four years, a resident of the district to be represented for two years immediately preceding the election, and a qualified elector of the state. Miss. Const. of 1890, Art. IV, § 41. The qualifying fee is $15.

Officers. The President and presiding officer of the Senate is the Lieutenant Governor; the second in command is the President Pro Tempore. The presiding officer of the House of Representatives is the Speaker of the House, a state Representative who is elected to the position by House members. The Speaker Pro Tempore is the second-ranking Representative.

Terms and Sessions. Legislators are administered the oath of office by the Secretary of State on the first day of the regular session of the year following election. The Constitution requires the Legislature to convene yearly on the Tuesday after the first Monday in January.

Volume of Legislation. During each regular session, the Legislature sends to the Governor more than 500 bills to be signed into law. Frequently, more than 100 of those bills involve the finance of state government (appropriations). Approximately 20-25 percent of all bills introduced become law.

The Secretary of State’s Office assigns chapter numbers to the bills, distributes copies according to law, and certifies the bills for legal proceedings as requested.

Rules. The Constitution stipulates that bills may originate in either chamber of the Legislature. It empowers each chamber to determine its own rules of procedure, although each is prohibited from adjourning for more than three days without the consent of the other chamber. Adjourning to places other than the House and Senate chambers is prohibited as well.

Each body adopts its own rules, although joint rules are adopted to govern legislative procedures that affect the orderly flow of bills between the houses.

Length of Session. The Constitution provides for legislative sessions to last no more than 90 days except for the first session of a new term, which may not exceed 125 days. Sessions may be extended by a two-thirds vote in both houses. When needed, the Governor may call a special session with a specific legislative focus. Numerous legislative committees also work between sessions on a wide variety of proposals. In addition, individual legislators often use the interim months to research and prepare bills for the next session. Members also work to help the citizens they represent.

Accountability. Legislative accountability to the people of Mississippi is provided by publication of all proceedings in Senate and House journals which are published by the Secretary of State. Moreover, the Constitution requires that the doors of each chamber shall be open “except in cases which may require secrecy.”

Lieutenant Governor
PHIL BRYANT

Duties: The President of the Senate is elected in a statewide campaign for a four-year term, and may be re-elected for one succeeding term. Official duties include presiding over the Senate; ruling on points of order; nominating standing committees of the Senate; and appointing all select and conference committees as ordered by the Senate. The Lieutenant Governor is a member of the Senate Rules Committee; directs officers and employees of the Senate; votes only in cases of ties; speaks from the floor only while the Senate is in Committee of the Whole; and signs all finally approved bills and resolutions.

Speaker of the House
WILLIAM J. MCCOY

Duties: The Speaker of the House is elected by House members for a four-year term, and may be re-elected.

Official duties include presiding over the House and preserving order and decorum. All committees of the House except the Rules Committee and Management Committee are appointed by the Speaker, unless otherwise specifically directed by the House; the Speaker also serves as an ex-officio member of the Rules Committee and the Management Committee. All questions on which the House votes are put by the Speaker, and he or she shall determine if the proposition has carried. The Speaker is also a member and alternating Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee.

Senate by District

The Mississippi Legislature is made up of a Senate and a House of Representatives. At present, there are 52 senators.

Shaded areas indicate where districts extend into the Gulf of Mexico.

Joint Rules

*Appropriation, revenue, and local and private bills, and bills to restore suffrage are excluded from these deadlines. For purposes of the deadlines herein set forth, the term "revenue bills" shall include only those bills whose primary purpose is to increase or decrease taxes or to authorize the issuance of bonds or the borrowing of money. Bills which are primarily for regulatory purposes which have revenue provisions included shall not be considered as revenue bills for deadline purposes. The deletion from a bill of the features which made it a revenue bill shall render the bill a general bill for deadline purposes.

Conference reports on all bills must be filed with the Secretary/Clerk no later than the time of adjournment on the day prior to being called up and considered. Appropriation bills which actually appropriate money and are recommitted for further conference are excluded from the requirement that the subsequent conference report be filed and lay on table one (1) day before being considered; however, original action must be taken on all appropriation conference reports by 2:00 p.m. on the 84th/119th day and subsequent reports must be filed no later than 6:00 p.m.

Requests for general bills and constitutional amendments to be drafted must be made no later than 8:00 p.m. on the 9th/45th day. The Rules Committee of the House or Senate, as the case may be, may authorize any member of its respective house to make requests, for one or more general bills or constitutional amendments to be drafted, after the expiration of the deadline for making such drafting requests but before the deadline for introduction of bills and constitutional amendments, upon a determination by the Rules Committee that such drafting requests are in response to conditions of an emergency nature arising subsequent to the deadline for making requests for general bills and constitutional amendments to be drafted.

+Committee reports and conference reports that are subject to being filed on these deadlines must be filed with the Secretary/Clerk no later than 8:00 p.m. Whenever the word "day" appears in this rule, it shall mean calendar day.

The above schedule shall not be deviated from except by the passage of a concurrent resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds (2/3) of the membership of the House and Senate present and voting.

How a Bill Becomes a Law

Drafting and Introduction. A bill must first be drafted in paper form. Legislative research and drafting offices are operated on a year-round basis in both the House and the Senate to assist the members with the necessary research and legal work involved in drafting bills in correct form.

Since the advent of annual sessions, a system of pre-filing has been instituted in both Houses. This means that bills may be written and introduced on an unofficial basis in the interim between sessions. For all practical purposes, the pre-filed bills are treated in the same manner as bills introduced when the Legislature is actually in session. At the time a member signifies that a bill is to be filed, it is placed on the Speaker's/President's desk for referral to Committee and, after referral, is given a number which it will retain throughout the legislative process. When the session convenes, the pre-filed bills are introduced officially into the records. Bills introduced after the session convenes are dropped into the "hopper" at the Clerk's/Secretary's desk. Bills must be typewritten on legal-sized paper, double-spaced, with the title and name of author or authors on the outside and must be introduced in original form.

Referred to Committee. Each bill is referred to one or more of the standing committees in the House or Senate for study and recommendation. In the regular order of business, the bills are read by title and number, and the committee to which it has been referred is announced. All bills are listed on a daily introduction list, entered in the bill docket and committee books, and copies are reproduced. The bill itself is placed in a jacket and put into the committee box.

Reported by Committee. The committee to which a bill has been referred reports its recommendations to the House or Senate. It may report the bill "Do Pass," "Do Pass As Amended,"

“Committee Substitute Do Pass,” or it may report the bill “Do Not Pass,” which has the effect of killing the bill unless a Minority Report is filed within three days by one or more of the members of the committee who were present at the meeting at which the bill was reported.

If a bill has not been reported by a committee after reference, a motion to withdraw the bill may be filed. When a bill has been reported favorably by a committee, it is placed on the calendar for House or Senate action. Separate divisions of the calendar are kept for bills reported by the appropriations, revenue, and local and private committees. Appropriations and Revenue bills have precedence over bills on the General Calendar.

The Legislature operates under a system of deadlines which sets the limits of time in which bills may be introduced, reported from Committee, acted upon originally in each House, amendments considered from the other House, and Conference Reports adopted. The deadlines are for the purpose of assuring an orderly flow of legislative action within the 90-day constitutional limitation of sessions. The first session of each administration has a limitation of 125 days, and the deadlines are adjusted for the additional time.

Consideration by House/Senate. When a bill comes up in its regular order on the calendar, it is usually called up and handled on the chamber floor by the Chairman of the Committee to which it has been referred. The bill is read and debated by the House or Senate, and, at this time, amendments may be proposed and either adopted or rejected. Other possible actions may be taken at this time — the bill may be recommitted to the committee for further study; it may be laid on the table, subject to call; it may be set for special order; or postponed to another date for action. An amendment to strike all after the enacting clause, if adopted, would kill the bill, or if a motion carried to indefinitely postpone the bill, it would be dead.

The Vote. A quorum must be present for the vote on the final passage of any measure. Bills of a general nature require a majority of those present and voting for passage; appropriation bills require a majority of the elected membership; revenue bills require a three-fifths majority of those present and voting; bills restoring suffrage or bills granting a donation or gratuity to any person require two-thirds of the elected membership. Adoption of Conference Reports or concurrence in Senate or House amendments require the same vote as was required for the original passage of the bill. After passage of a bill, it is subject to reconsideration for one whole legislative day. After the time has passed for reconsideration, any amendments that were adopted are engrossed into the bill, which is then sent to the other House.

House/Senate Action. When a bill reaches the other House, it goes through the same process of referral to Committee, report by Committee, and floor action. If a bill passes the other House without amendment, it is returned to the House of origin, enrolled, signed by the Speaker and the Lieutenant Governor, and presented to the Governor. If the other House adopts amendments to the bill, the bill and the accompanying amendments are returned to the House of origin, and the bill is placed on the calendar for concurrence or non-concurrence in the amendments of the other House. Should one House concur, the other is notified, the bill is engrossed, enrolled, and presented to the Governor. If one House declines to concur in the amendments of the other, it may request a conference to work out the differences between the two Houses. A conference committee is composed of three members from each House, and if the report of the conference committee is adopted by both Houses, the bill is engrossed, enrolled, and presented to the Governor.

Governor’s Action. The Governor must either approve a bill or return it with objections to the House of its origin within five days (except Sundays) or it becomes law without his signature. (If the Legislature adjourns before the five days have expired, the Governor then has 15 days for consideration of the bill.) When a bill has been vetoed, the objections of the Governor are spread at large upon the Journal, it is reconsidered, and, if two-thirds of those present and voting vote in favor of the bill, it is forwarded to the other House. If two-thirds of that House vote in favor of its passage over the Governor’s veto, the bill then becomes a law.

The above steps in the passage of a bill are a simplified example of the parliamentary procedure involved in legislation. The process seems very complex, but a knowledge of the rules and procedures and actual experience in observing a legislature in action help in understanding that the rules and procedures are to provide thorough study and debate of measures before they become law.

The New Capitol Building

400 High Street, Jackson 39201
Second Floor Rotunda, (601) 359-3114

The New Capitol is the centerpiece of state government. It was begun in 1901 and completed in 1903 at a cost of $1,093,642 in back taxes owed the State of Mississippi by the Illinois Central Railroad. Designed in the Beaux Arts style by St. Louis architect Theodore Link, the building sits on the grounds of the old state penitentiary between Mississippi and High Streets in downtown Jackson, its golden eagle visible from Interstate 55.

The Senate is housed in the capitol’s east wing; the House of Representatives in the west. Flags at full staff indicate when the houses are convened in their respective chambers. The Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and Secretary of State each have capitol offices.

The first floor features the Hall of Governors, portraits of Mississippi Governors beginning with Winthrop Sargent, first Territorial Governor (1798-1801). The second floor houses the Old Supreme Court chamber on the Senate side and the Old State Library on the House side. Both are now used as committee rooms. The main floor of the Rotunda is also located here. The Senate and House of Representatives chambers are located on third floor and are viewed from the fourth floor galleries.

The capitol is open to the public Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Tours are free and are conducted at 9:00 a.m., 10:00 a.m., 11:00 a.m., 1:30 p.m., 2:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. For appointment for group tours, call the capitol hostess at (601) 359-3114.

JUDICIAL BRANCH

“Our courts must be accessible to the poor, as well as the rich. Justice must be administered fairly, impartially, promptly, and efficiently. Time matters. Memories fade. Evidence can be lost, and perhaps worst of all, time can make legal issues irrelevant.”

In Mississippi, the judicial branch of government has three components: the Supreme Court, the Court of Appeals, and the Trial Courts.

Supreme Court

The Supreme Court is the state’s court of last resort. It is composed of nine elected justices, three from each of the state’s three Supreme Court Districts. Their eight-year terms are staggered to provide continuity. The Supreme Court hears appeals from Mississippi’s two courts of general jurisdiction: circuit and chancery; in limited circumstances, it may also hear direct appeals from county courts. It also reviews the decisions on the Court of Appeals on writ of certiorari. In addition to appellate jurisdiction, the Supreme Court has the power to issue extraordinary writs. The nine justices may sit in en banc (all members participating) or in three-judge panels.

Reserved to the Supreme Court are death penalty cases, appeals involving utility rates, annexations, bond issues, election contests, and statutes held unconstitutional by a lower court, cases involving attorney discipline and judicial performance, certified questions from a federal court, cases involving a major question of first impression, fundamental and urgent issues of broad public importance requiring prompt determination, substantial constitutional questions concerning the validity of a statute, ordinance, court rule, or administrative

Trial Courts

Mississippi’s trial court system consists of two general jurisdiction courts (circuit and chancery) and three limited jurisdiction courts (county, justice, and municipal).

CHANCERY COURTS

Twenty chancery courts have jurisdiction over matters involving equity, divorce, alimony, probate, guardianship, and sanity. In those counties with no county court, chancery courts have exclusive jurisdiction over juvenile matters. Their jurisdiction over equity matters involving less than $200,000 is concurrent with county courts. Chancery court judges, often called chancellors, are elected in non-partisan races to four-year terms. Most chancery court cases are non-jury proceedings, although juries may be impaneled in certain circumstances.

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 26 years of age, a practicing attorney, and a citizen of the state for five years. Miss. Const. of 1890, § 154. The qualifying fee is $100.

Terms of Court: Each year, chancellors issue orders establishing the commencement and continuation of terms of court no later than October 1. If no order is issued, then the court term remain unchanged from the previous year. This information is posted at each courthouse and is published by the Secretary of State in the Judiciary Directory and Court Calendar. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-5-3 (1972).

CIRCUIT COURTS

Twenty-two circuit courts have original jurisdiction over all civil and criminal matters not vested exclusively in another court. Circuit judges are elected in non-partisan races to four-year terms. Most circuit court cases are heard by juries, although some circumstances may permit bench trials. Circuit judges have the power to issue extraordinary writs.

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 26 years of age, a practicing attorney, and a citizen of the state for five years. Miss. Const. of 1890, § 154. The qualifying fee is $100.

rule or regulation, and issues where there is an inconsistency or conflict in court decisions.

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the Supreme Court District in which election is sought, at least 30 years of age, a practicing attorney, and a citizen of the state for five years. Miss. Const. of 1890, Art. 6, §§ 150 and 250; Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-993 (1972). Qualifying fee is $200.

Terms of Court: A term of the Supreme Court shall be held twice each year in the city of Jackson, to be styled the Supreme Court; and the terms shall commence the second Monday of September and the first Monday of March, and the Court shall be kept open for the discharge of business for at least nine months of every year if the business therein should require. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-3-3 (1972).

Court of Appeals

The Court of Appeals was created in 1994 and began sitting the following year. It is the state’s only intermediate court and hears only appeals assigned to it by the Supreme Court.

The Court of Appeals is composed of ten elected judges, two from each of the five Court of Appeals districts. Their terms are for eight years and are staggered to provide continuity. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court appoints the Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals to a four-year term. The chief judge of the Court of Appeals appoints the presiding judges to terms of two to four years.

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 30 years of age, a practicing attorney, and a citizen of the State for five years immediately preceding the election. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-4-5 (1972). The qualifying fee is $200.

Terms of Court: The Court of Appeals meets continuously throughout the year and hears arguments every month except July. By law, the Court is located in the City of Jackson as close as convenient to the State Law Library and the Supreme Court. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-4-11 (1972).

Terms of Court: Each year, the circuit court judges issue orders establishing the commencement and continuation of terms of court no later than October 1. If no order is issued, then the court term remain unchanged from the previous year. This information is posted at each courthouse and is published annually by the Secretary of State in the Judiciary Directory and Court Calendar. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-7-3 (1972).

COUNTY COURTS

Twenty counties have established county courts. County court judges are elected in non-partisan races to four-year terms. They have exclusive jurisdiction over matters involving eminent domain, partition of personal property, unlawful entry and detainer, and juvenile matters.

County courts have concurrent jurisdiction with justice courts in all matters, civil and criminal, and concurrent jurisdiction with circuit and chancery courts in all matters of law and equity up to $200,000. They may also adjudicate certain non-capital felony cases transferred by the circuit courts.

Qualifications: A qualified elector at least 26 years old, a practicing attorney for five years, and a citizen of the state for five years preceding the election. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-9-1 et seq. (1972). The qualifying fee is $15.

Terms of Court: County court usually begins the second Monday of each month unless a special order is entered by the court to extend the term, or, in the case of some counties with two courthouses, the law provides special terms of court for each courthouse. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-9-19 (1972).

JUSTICE COURTS

Justice courts have jurisdiction in all civil cases involving amounts of $3,500 or less. They conduct preliminary hearings in felony cases and have concurrent jurisdiction with circuit courts over criminal matters where punishment cannot exceed a fine and sentence of one year in county jail. Justice courts also handle preliminary matters committed inside the county, but outside of city limits. Each county is divided into justice court districts, the number determined by population. Judges are elected in partisan elections to four-year terms.

Qualifications: A qualified elector, a resident of the county two years next preceding election, a holder of a high school or general equivalency diploma, and completion of a course of training required by law within six months of the beginning of the term of office. Miss. Const. of 1890, Art. VI, § 171 (1975), and Art. XII, § 250. Miss. Code Ann. §§ 9-11-3 and 25-15-297 (1972). The qualifying fee is $10.

Terms of Court: Justice court judges hold regular terms of their courts, at such times as they may appoint, but no more than two and not less than one term in every month. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-11-15 (1972).

DISTRICT ATTORNEYS

There are 22 district attorneys in Mississippi, each assigned to a circuit court district. District attorneys are prosecutors who represent the people of Mississippi in all criminal matters originating in a trial court except in those counties with county prosecuting attorneys.

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the district and a practicing attorney admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of Mississippi for two years. Miss. Code Ann. § 25-31-1 (1972). The qualifying fee is $100.

COUNTY PROSECUTING ATTORNEYS

The county prosecuting attorney represents the state in all felony matters before the county's justice courts and county courts. Additionally, the county prosecuting attorney represents the state in criminal cases appealed from county court to circuit court, can present any matter to the grand jury, and has full responsibility for all misdemeanor youth court proceedings and all other cases not specified to the district attorney. He or she can also be appointed by the district attorney as designee. In counties where no county prosecuting attorney is elected, one may be employed by the county board of supervisors to represent certain cases.

Qualifications: A qualified elector and a regular licensed and practicing attorney. Miss. Code Ann. § 19-23-1 (1972). The qualifying fee is $15.

MUNICIPAL COURTS

Municipal courts have exclusive jurisdiction over city ordinance violations. Under certain conditions, some may also exercise jurisdiction in cases involving juveniles. Municipal court judges are appointed by municipal governing bodies. Miss. Code Ann. § 21-23-1 (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the county in which the municipality is located and an attorney at law. Miss. Code Ann. § 21-23-3 (1972).

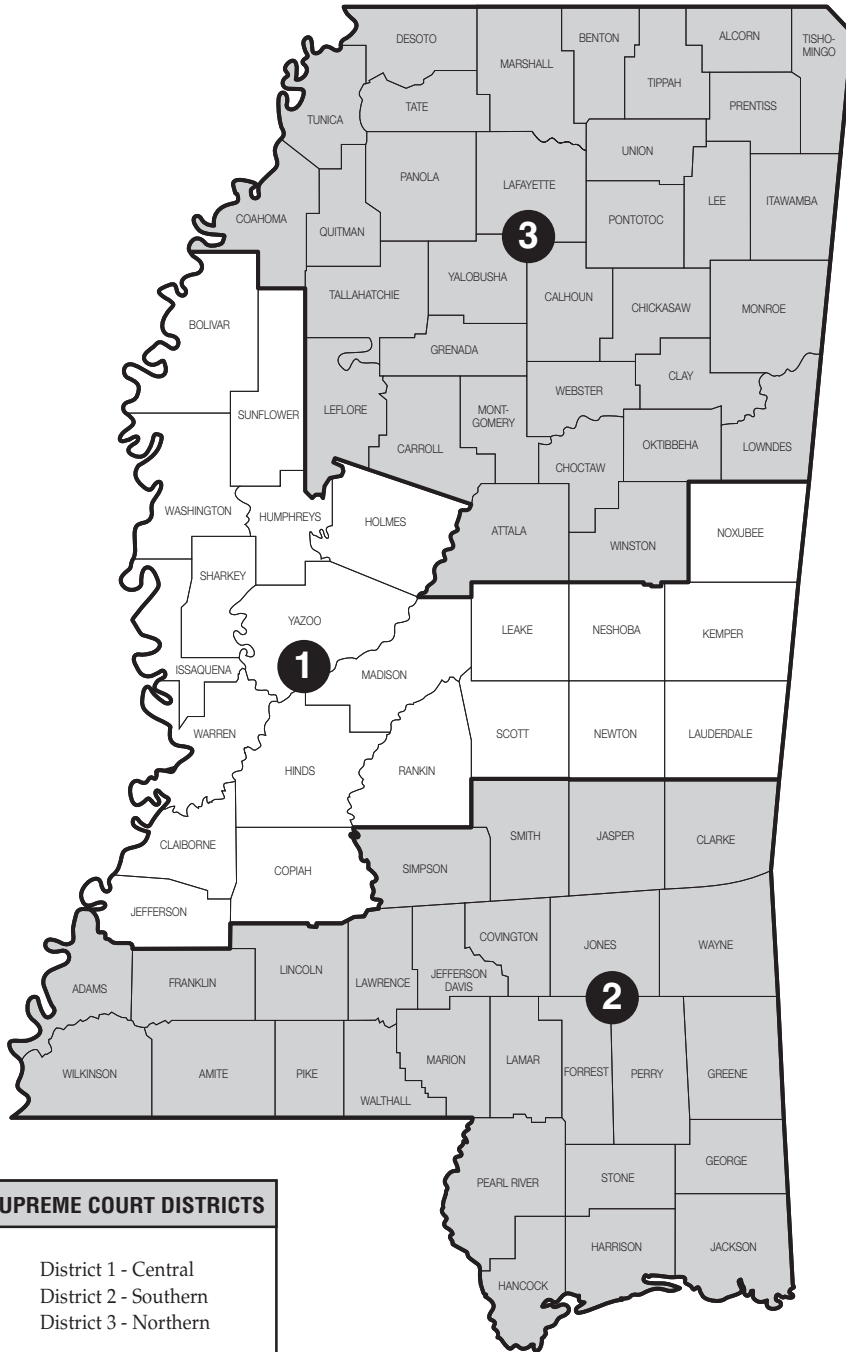

Terms of Court: Municipal judges may hold court every day except Sundays and legal holidays if the business of the municipality requires. Miss. Code Ann. § 21-23-7 (1972).

The United States Constitution provides that all legislative powers of the federal government are vested in a Congress consisting of a Senate and House of Representatives.

Federal Officials

The Congress assembles at least once every year, beginning on the first Monday of December, in the capitol building in Washington, D.C.

Powers granted to Congress by the constitution include imposing and collecting taxes, paying the national debt, regulating international and interstate commerce, establishing military forces, sitting in tribunals inferior to the Supreme Court, and providing for the common defense and general welfare of the United States.

The Senate

Each state is represented by two Senators who are elected to six-year, staggered terms. Each Senator represents his or her entire state. Reserved to the Senate are the powers of trying all impeachments and reviewing all presidential appointments requiring Senate approval. The Vice President of the United States is President of the Senate, but only votes in case of a tie.

Senators must be at least 30 years of age, a citizen of the United States nine years, and an inhabitant of the state he or she represents. Senators may be re-elected to consecutive terms.

The House of Representatives

The House of Representatives is composed of members chosen every second year to represent the congressional districts of his or her state. Each state's number of congressional districts is determined by population, with the total membership of the House of Representatives being 435. Reserved to the House of Representatives is the origination of bills to raise revenue and the sole power of impeachment. The House of Representatives is led by a speaker who is chosen by the members.

Representatives must be at least 25 years of age, citizens of the United States seven years, and inhabitants of the state they represent. They may be re-elected to consecutive terms.

Senator
THAD COCHRAN

Thad Cochran was born December 7, 1937, in Pontotoc, Mississippi. He is the son of William Holmes Cochran and Emma Grace Cochran, who were educators in Pontotoc, Tippah, and Hinds Counties.

Cochran was strongly influenced by his parents' careers in education. He and his brother, Nielson, were immersed in academic environments even at young ages. They spent summers at the University of Mississippi as their parents earned Masters Degrees and also lived at Blue Mountain College where their parents were members of the faculty.

In 1946, the Cochrans moved to the Byram community of Hinds County near Jackson. There was much time devoted to sports, music, the Boy Scouts, and church activities. Thad became an Eagle Scout and helped establish a new scout troop at Spring Ridge Methodist Church. He served as its first Junior Assistant Scout Master.

At Byram High School, Cochran earned varsity letters in football, basketball, baseball, and tennis. He gave a piano and voice recital his senior year and was class valedictorian. He was also a member of the 4-H Club and Daniel Memorial Baptist Church.

During junior and senior high school, Cochran worked in a variety of after school and weekend jobs. His first regular job was at Gunn's Dairy Bar where he was a "car hop." He clerked at Nicholson's Grocery store, cleared right-of-way for Deviney Construction Company, and helped his father and brother on the family's cattle farm near Utica.

In 1955, Thad enrolled in the school of liberal arts at the University of Mississippi. He earned a B.A. degree with a major in psychology and a minor in political science. He was elected President of his social fraternity, Pi Kappa Alpha, was a company commander in the Navy

ROTC, Vice President of the Student Body, and was selected for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, a national honorary leadership fraternity. During the summers, he worked as a lifeguard at Livingston Lake in Jackson.

When he graduated from Ole Miss in 1959, he was commissioned an Ensign in the U.S. Naval Reserve and assigned to duty aboard a heavy cruiser, the USS MACON, which was home-ported in Boston, Massachusetts. He served on this ship for 18 months becoming the ship's legal officer after graduating as an honor student from the U.S. Navy School of Justice in Newport, Rhode Island. He also became qualified as Officer of the Deck, in port and underway.

When his ship was decommissioned in January 1961, he was assigned to the staff of the Commandant of the Eighth Naval District in New Orleans, Louisiana, to complete his two-year tour of active duty in the Navy.

In the fall of 1961, Cochran enrolled in the School of Law at the University of Mississippi. While in law school, he won the Frederick Hamel Memorial Award for having the highest scholastic average in the first year class. He was selected for membership in Phi Delta Phi, honorary legal fraternity; served on the editorial board of the Mississippi Law Journal; argued before the Mississippi Supreme Court as a moot court finalist; and was elected Chairman of the Honor Council.

Before graduating from law school, Cochran was awarded a Rotary Foundation Graduate Fellowship and studied jurisprudence and international law for a year at Trinity College, University of Dublin, Ireland. During this year abroad, he spoke to numerous Rotary Clubs and other groups in Ireland on the subject of the civil rights struggle in Mississippi and the United States. He also won the Hillary Term Moot Court competition sponsored by the Dublin Law Society.

On June 6, 1964, he was married at the First Methodist Church in New Albany, Mississippi, to Rose Clayton, who had graduated from the University of Mississippi in 1963.

In his final year of law school at Ole Miss, he served as Article Editor of the Mississippi Law Journal and was selected for membership in Phi Kappa Phi, a national honorary scholastic fraternity. Several years later when he delivered the graduation address at the law school, Dean Parham Williams observed that Thad Cochran's law school grade point average was the third highest of all students who had graduated from the Ole Miss law school during the decade of the 1960's.

During the summer vacation months in the law school years of 1962, '63, and '64, Cochran returned to active duty in the Navy and taught military law and naval orientation at the Officer Candidate School in Newport, Rhode Island. He was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

After graduating from law school, he joined the firm of Watkins & Eager in Jackson, one of the state's most respected law firms. He was made a partner in the firm in only two and one-half years.

Cochran served as President of the Jackson Men's Y Club, member of the Board of the Jackson Rotary Club, and member of the Board of Mississippi Opera, Inc. He organized the first Mississippi chapter of the American Field Service and served as charter President to sponsor foreign exchange programs for high school students.

He was Chairman of the Legal Services program of the Jackson Junior Bar, Chairman of the Mississippi Law Institute, a continuing legal education program for Mississippi lawyers, and President of the Young Lawyers Division of the Mississippi Bar Association. In 1971, Cochran was named by the Jaycees as Jackson's Young Man of the Year and as one of the Three Outstanding Young Men of the Year in Mississippi.

Politics and government were subjects of much interest in the Cochran family. As early as 1951, Cochran accompanied his mother as she drove through her hometown of Utica, and helped deliver door to door a campaign tabloid for the Paul B. Johnson, Jr. Campaign for Governor. His father was a surrogate in the campaigns of Felder

Dearman for Highway Commissioner and Jack Tubb for State Superintendent of Education. Cochran often traveled with his father and helped with voter registration for these campaigns.

Later, Thad Cochran became active in other political campaigns on his own. He appeared on television for the first time to endorse Fred Thomas for Sheriff of Hinds County in 1967. He was Hinds County Chairman in Brad Dye's successful race for State Treasurer, and he wrote talking points and issue briefs for Charles Sullivan's campaign for Governor in 1971.

The Presidential campaign of 1968 marked the first time he became involved in a political campaign for a Republican candidate when he served as Executive Director of Mississippi Citizens for Nixon-Agnew.

Four years later, Cochran was elected United States Congressman for the Fourth District which included twelve counties in southwest Mississippi. He was appointed to the Public Works and Transportation Committee, which had jurisdiction over economic development, transportation, and flood control.

As a Member of Congress, Cochran also served on a Republican task force to study the energy crisis, and he contributed to the writing of a report that was published in book form by the House Republican Conference. He was appointed later to the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct and the Select Committee on Ethics which wrote a new ethics code for members of Congress.

After winning re-election to the House in 1974, Cochran was elected by his colleagues to represent the southern states on the House Republican Policy Committee. He was re-elected to the House of Representatives again in 1976. In both of his races for re-election, he received over 70 percent of the votes.

In 1978, Cochran was elected to the United States Senate, becoming the first Republican in over 100 years to win a statewide election in Mississippi. He has since been re-elected five times and is currently serving his sixth term in office.

As a member of the Senate, Cochran has served as Chairman of the Senate Republican Conference; Chairman of the Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry Committee; and Chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

Cochran currently serves as Ranking Member of the full Appropriations Committee. He is the Ranking Member of two Appropriations Committee subcommittees, the Subcommittee on Defense and the Subcommittee on Labor, Health and Human Services, Education and Related Agencies. He also serves as a member of the Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry; and the Committee on Rules and Administration, and the Joint Committee on the Library, which oversees the activities of the Library of Congress.

Cochran's legislative record includes the sponsorship of the National Missile Defense Act of 1999, the Campaign Finance Reform Act, as well as key provisions of several farm bills. Cochran has also written legislation supporting education programs such as teacher training, vocational education, libraries, and educational television. He served as a member of the National Education Goals Panel.

Senator Cochran's leadership and assistance has contributed to the funding of various university-based research projects. Some of these include: energy, agriculture, and forestry facilities at Mississippi State University; the School of Polymers and High Performance Materials at the University of Southern Mississippi; the Natural Products Center, Water and Wetlands Center, and Food Service Management Institute at the University of Mississippi; the National Warmwater Aquaculture Research Center at Stoneville; and the Jackson Heart Study at Jackson State University and the University of Mississippi Medical Center.

Cochran authored the Mississippi Wilderness Act which is the first federal legislation ever passed for the perpetual protection of lands in the State of Mississippi. He also helped establish national wildlife refuges as a member of the Migratory Bird Conservation Commission, and he authored the Wildlife Habitat Incentives Program. In 1994, he was named by Ducks Unlimited as Conservationist of the Year in Mississippi. He was named Conservationist of the Year in 1996 by the North American Waterfowl Federation and received the Conservation Achievement Award from the National Wildlife Federation. He has received the Lifetime Achievement Award of The Nature Conservancy.

Cochran has helped develop, maintain, and improve the Natchez Trace Parkway, the Natchez Historical Park, the Vicksburg National Military Park and the Gulf Islands National Seashore.

As a member of the Defense Appropriations Subcommittee, he has worked successfully to support the Navy's shipbuilding programs and the military bases and installations in Mississippi. Senator Cochran has served on the Board of Visitors of the Air Force Academy, as Chairman of the Board at the Military Academy at West Point, and as a member of the Board of Visitors at the U.S. Naval Academy.

After his home state of Mississippi was hit by the worst natural disaster in the history of our nation, Senator Cochran used his role as chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee to advance legislation providing over $87 billion in supplemental federal assistance to the states affected by the storm.

During previous Congresses, Cochran served on the Senate Ethics Committee, the Judiciary Committee, the Labor and Human Resources Committee, and the Committee on Indian Affairs. Service on these committees has enabled him to be actively involved in the writing of laws affecting a wide range of issues including rural development, health care, and criminal law.

Senator Cochran has been awarded honorary degrees from Kentucky Wesleyan College, Mississippi College, Blue Mountain College, the University of Richmond, and Tougaloo College. He is a member of the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institution and the Kennedy Center Board of Trustees.

Cochran is a member of Northminster Baptist Church in Jackson, Mississippi. He and his wife, Rose, have two children and three grandchildren.

Senator

ROGER F. WICKER

Roger F. Wicker was elected to the United States Senate on November 4, 2008. Roger served in the Senate for ten months before his election, having been appointed by Mississippi Governor Haley Barbour on December 31, 2007.

Prior to serving in the Senate, Roger represented Mississippi's First Congressional District, having been first elected in 1994. He was re-elected to a seventh term in November 2006. Before going to Congress, Roger was elected to two terms in the Mississippi State Senate, serving from 1987-1994.

He serves on the Senate Armed Services Committee, the Foreign Relations Committee, the Commerce, Science, and Transportation Committee, the Veterans' Affairs Committee, and the Small Business and Entrepreneurship Committee.

As a member of the House of Representatives, Roger served on the leadership team as deputy whip. In 2001, he was elected to the Republican Policy Committee. He was re-elected to that position in 2007.

He served on the powerful Appropriations Committee, a seat he landed as a freshman in 1995. He was a member of the Defense Subcommittee and in 2007 was named ranking minority member of the Military Construction/VA Subcommittee. As the top Republican on the panel, his responsibilities encompassed helping fund wide-ranging activities affecting veterans including health care, construction of VA health facilities, pensions, and benefits as well as military construction projects in the U.S. and around the world.

Roger has been a strong supporter of health care research activities. His efforts to fight heart disease were recognized by the American Heart Association which presented the congressman with its 1998 National Public Service Award. He was honored for developing an initiative to fund new, state-based disease prevention strategies and information activities. His work is helping educate more Americans about heart disease risk factors and how to reduce those risks.

Roger has also been active in support of cancer research programs at the National Cancer Institute, diabetes research, and he has been recognized twice as a "champion" of polio eradication for his work on efforts to wipe out polio worldwide. In 2003 he was one of three federal lawmakers to be presented the American Cancer Society's Capitol Dome Award for leadership in securing bipartisan support for programs "to address the devastating impact cancer has on individuals, families, and communities throughout the U.S." He has also been instrumental in bringing more research funding to Mississippi universities to conduct studies on a wide range of health-related projects to fight disease and improve the quality of life.

Roger has been involved in activities to spur economic development and bring jobs to Mississippi. His advocacy for programs such as the Appalachian Regional Commission and Economic Development Administration has led to hundreds of millions of dollars in private investment in predominately rural areas. He has been honored by the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) for supporting policies which "recognize manufacturing's pivotal role in the U.S. economy." He received NAM's Award for Manufacturing Excellence in 2006 for support of pro-growth, pro-manufacturing initiatives in the Congress.

In 2005, Roger was one of four House members named by Speaker Dennis Hastert to serve on the Board of Visitors of the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md.

A native of Pontotoc, Mississippi, Roger is 57 years old. The son of former Circuit Judge Fred Wicker and the late Mrs. Wordna Wicker, Roger was educated in the public schools of Pontotoc. In 1987, he became the first Republican elected to the state Senate from North Mississippi in the 20th century.

Active in the community, Roger is a member of the Community Development Foundation and the Lions Club, where he has served as vice president. He is a member of the Tupelo First Baptist Church, where he sings in the choir. Roger is a deacon and formerly served as chairman of the deacons at First Baptist Church.

He is married to the former Gayle Long of Tupelo. They have three children: Margaret and son-in-law Manning McPhillips; Caroline and son-in-law Kirk Sims; and McDaniel.

TRAVIS W. CHILDERS

As a small businessman and a member of the House Financial Services Committee, Travis is committed to issues facing jobs and the economy, including a return to fiscal discipline and a restored balanced budget. Travis has also become a voice for rural communities, serving as the only member of the Mississippi delegation on the House Agriculture Committee, as well as reestablishing and co-chairing the bipartisan Congressional Rural Caucus.

Leading the way in protecting American's Second Amendment rights, Travis authored and introduced the Second Amendment Enforcement Act in 2008. The legislation is currently awaiting consideration by the full House.

Before coming to Congress, Travis served as chancery clerk in his native Prentiss County. For the past 16 years, he also owned Travis Childers Realty & Associates, one of the most successful real estate firms in Northeast Mississippi.

After the death of his father when Travis was 16 and still in high school, he worked nights and weekends at Booneville's first convenience store to help support his mother and sister.

Travis attended Northeast Mississippi Junior College and the University of Mississippi, where in 1980 he received a degree in business administration. Even before graduating from Ole Miss, Travis became a licensed realtor and joined the real estate business of Robert Davis in his hometown of Booneville.

In 1991, Prentiss County neighbors elected Travis as their chancery clerk and re-elected him to a fifth term in 2007 with 75 percent of the vote. From 2001-2002, professional peers across the state chose Travis to serve as President of the Mississippi Chancery Clerks Association.

Travis has been married for 28 years to the former Tami Gibson, and the couple has two children – Dustin, a second-year law student at Mississippi College, and Lauren, a sophomore at Ole Miss. They all are members of East Booneville Baptist Church.

Together, Tami and Travis also own the Landmark Community, a personal care home, and the Landmark Nursing Center, an 80-bed skilled care facility and Alzheimer's unit.

Travis Childers, 50, has been a driving force in his North Mississippi community for over 30 years and has helped create regional jobs by working with an enterprising and bi-partisan spirit.

Travis Childers is proud and humbled to serve North Mississippians as their Representative in Congress.

United States Representative
Second Congressional District

BENNIE G. THOMPSON

Bennie G. Thompson is currently serving his eighth term as the Democratic Congressman for Mississippi's Second District and third term on the Homeland Security Committee. The Second District stretches from Tunica in the north to Jefferson County in the south and all points in-between, creating a rare blend of agricultural economies and the hustle and bustle of city life.

Congressman Thompson has spent his entire adult life giving a voice to the voiceless. With more than 39 years of continuous public service, he is the longest-serving African-American elected official in the state of Mississippi. He served as alderman and mayor in his hometown for years, after which he served as Hinds County Supervisor for 13 years before being elected to Congress in 1993. With six district offices – Bolton, Greenville, Greenwood, Jackson, Marks, and Mound Bayou – Congressman Thompson is committed to empowering those who gave him an opportunity to represent the Second District of Mississippi. His reputation as a no-nonsense problem solver has earned him the trust of his constituents and the respect of his colleagues in Washington.

To begin the 110th Congress, Thompson was promoted by his colleagues to serve as the first ever Democratic Chairman of the Homeland Security Committee, a committee which was created by the U.S. House of Representatives in 2002 in the aftermath of September 11, 2001. As Chairman, Congressman Thompson recently introduced and engineered House passage of the most comprehensive homeland security package since September 11th, H.R. 1, the "9/11 Commission Recommendations Act of 2007."

Drawing on his 26 years of experience as a volunteer firefighter in Hinds County, Thompson understands that our nation's law enforcement and first responders are our first line of defense in times of emergency. With that in mind, he has constantly fought to ensure they are fully equipped with the resources and tools they need to effectively respond to any and all emergencies.

Congressman Thompson has long been considered a leading voice on civil rights, equal education and healthcare reform. Congressman Thompson has helped to make a real difference in the lives of his constituents. In 1975, he filed a lawsuit to increase funding at Mississippi's historically black universities. With Congressman Thompson as lead plaintiff, the case was settled in 2004 for an unprecedented $503 million. In 2000, Congressman Thompson's legislation creating the National Center for Minority Health and Health Care Disparities became law.

Congressman Thompson is a lifelong member of the Asbury United Methodist Church in Bolton, Mississippi. He has been married to his college sweetheart, London Johnson of Mound Bayou, Mississippi, for 40 years. The couple has one daughter BendaLonne, one granddaughter, Jeanna and one grandson, Thomas Gordon.

The Congressman enjoys hunting, gardening, reading and music.

The City of Natchez, once a frontier outpost on the Mississippi River and later home to the largest group of millionaires in the United States, is Mississippi’s oldest municipality, having been incorporated March 10, 1803. Two days later, Port Gibson, a settlement just up the river, became the second community to incorporate.

The City of Byram, incorporated June 15, 2009, is Mississippi’s newest municipality.

State law classifies municipalities with more than 2,000 inhabitants as cities, those with fewer than 2,000 and not less than 300 inhabitants as towns, and those with fewer than 300 but not less than 100 inhabitants as villages. Municipalities change classification according to the results of each diennial Census.

The 2000 Census shows the capital city of Jackson as the largest municipality in Mississippi, with a population of 184,256, and the smallest as Learned, also in Hinds County, with a population of 50.

The census also identifies 32 communities as “Census Designated Places” (CDP’s), which are statistical entities, defined for each decennial census according to Census Bureau guidelines. These areas comprise a densely settled concentration of population that is not within an incorporated place, but is locally identified by a name. CDP’s are designated by state and local officials and the Census Bureau, following Census Bureau guidelines. Beginning with Census 2000 there are no size limits for CDP’s.

There are four types of municipal government in Mississippi, as described in Miss. Code Ann. Title 21 et seq. (1972):

- Commission Form of Government
- Council Form of Government
- Mayor Council Form of Government
- Council-Manager Form of Government

The most common government type is the Mayor-Council form of government, and most councils are called Boards of Aldermen.

Elected municipal officials usually include the mayor and governing board members, and, in some instances, police chiefs. Appointed officials often include city attorneys, municipal judges, and city clerks.

“Mississippi’s municipalities, from the smallest village to the largest city, form the backbone of our state’s economic growth and cultural heritage. We recognize our past and culture, but are working daily to secure our future and meet the challenges of a changing and interconnected world.”

— Knox Ross, Past President of Municipal League, Pelahatchie

Population figures are taken from the last available official census conducted in 2000.

Public Education

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

The State Board of Education is comprised of nine members appointed by the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Types of School Districts. The school districts in Mississippi fall in five main categories:

Consolidated School Districts – Districts which lie wholly within one county, but do not include separate and countywide districts.

Line Consolidated School Districts – Districts which embrace territory in two or more counties, but do not include municipal separate school districts.

Municipal Separate School Districts – Districts that encompass the boundary of a municipality, and may have added territory.

Special Municipal Separate School Districts – Municipal separate school districts which have been reconstituted or reorganized with added territory where the added territory, exclusive of any added territory which as part of the municipal separate school district before such reorganization, contains 25 percent or more of the total number of educable children of the district.

County School Districts – Districts which lie wholly within a county and are not constituted as either form of consolidated or municipal district.

A Brief History of Sixteenth Section Public School Trust Lands

FROM COLONIAL DAYS TO STATEHOOD

The origin of Sixteenth Section Public School Trust Lands in America can be traced to the British and colonial tradition of reserving land for the support of public schools. After the formation of the Union, Thomas Jefferson incorporated the practice into the Land Ordinance of 1785.

Designed to encourage westward expansion, the Ordinance adopted a six-square-mile township as its basic unit of measure and "... reserved the lot no. 16, of every township, for the maintenance of public schools within said township..."

The reservation of land for public schools was further confirmed in the Northwest Ordinance of 1787. Later, in 1798, when Congress established the Mississippi Territory, it provided a government initially based on the Northwest Ordinance model.

With division of the Mississippi Territory in 1817 to form the State of Mississippi and the Territory of Alabama, Congress called for a survey of land in the new state. Again, sixteenth section land was reserved in each township.

THE TREATIES

At the time of statehood, Native Americans inhabited Mississippi. The Choctaw Nation occupied the area south and west of a line extending southeasterly from the Coahoma and Tunica County boundary to a point on the old Natchez Trace in Webster County and then across Clay County in a generally southeasterly direction to a point on the Tombigbee River. The Chickasaw Nation inhabited the area north and east of that line.

In September 1830, the United States and the Choctaws signed the Treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek. In accordance with the treaty, sixteenth sections were reserved from government land sales.

The territorial claims of the Chickasaws were resolved with their removal under the Treaty of Pontotoc in 1832. Although these lands were to be sold by the government to private parties "...in the same manner...", they were, in fact, sold with no sixteenth section reservations.

Today, 15 counties lie entirely north of the Choctaw-Chickasaw Boundary and have no reserved sixteenth section lands. The counties are Tishomingo, Alcorn, Tippah, Benton, Marshall, DeSoto, Tunica, Tate, Lafayette, Union, Prentiss, Itawamba, Lee, Pontotoc, and Chickasaw. Another seven, Quitman, Panola, Yalobusha, Calhoun, Webster, Clay, and Monroe, are bisected by the Choctaw-Chickasaw Boundary and have no sixteenth section lands in the portions of those counties lying north of the boundary. Although the boundary passes through Tallahatchie County, there are no sixteenth sections lying north of the boundary in that county.

CHICKASAW CESSIONS LANDS

To compensate for this failure, in 1836 Congress granted the State of Mississippi 174,555 acres of unsold public land in Bolivar, Coahoma, Tallahatchie, Quitman, Panola, and Leake counties. In the 1850s, Congress and the State of Mississippi allowed this lieu land to be sold. Mississippi invested the $1,047,330 realized from the sale in 8 percent interest loans to railroad companies in the State. The principal was lost with the destruction of the railroads during the Civil War.

Thereafter, the Mississippi Legislature began making annual appropriations to school districts in the Chickasaw Cession equal to the 8 percent interest on the lost principal. The interest amount was reduced from 8 to 6 percent by the Constitution of 1890.

For decades, annual appropriations totaling approximately $62,000 were made to the school districts in the Chickasaw Cession. But, by the 1980s the estimated annual appropriation amounted to only $0.63 per pupil in the Chickasaw Cession school districts, while the estimated average income per pupil from sixteenth section land in the Choctaw Cession counties was $75.34.

In 1981, Chickasaw Cession school districts successfully challenged the disparity as a violation of the United States Constitution's equal protection clause. As a result, the Chickasaw Cession school districts now receive a payment per teacher unit based on the average annual expendable sixteenth section revenue per teacher unit received by the Choctaw Cession school districts, less the amount of the annual interest appropriation.

CHOCTAW CESSIONS LANDS

In 1890, the United States Supreme Court declared the early laws reserving land in each township for the support of public education to be a “binding and perpetual obligation.”

In 1895 the Mississippi Supreme Court ruled that sixteenth section lands are held by the State in trust for public schools. In 1906, Mississippi Supreme Court Chief Justice A.H. Whitfield opined:

“Sixteenth sections are set apart as a sacred trust. No greater trust can be committed to any state than that of the education of the children within its borders ...And, if one such trust can be more sacred than another, it is that trust designed to bring home to the doors of the poor children of the commonwealth the means of acquiring a good education.”

Despite Congressional and federal and state judicial endorsements, management of the sixteenth section land, with few exceptions, ranged from indifferent to abusive. Disregarding the Mississippi Constitution’s prohibition against donation of public lands, many 99-year leases of sixteenth section lands were given for one-time payments. Through generations, leaseholders mistakenly came to view themselves as the actual owners of the sixteenth sections.

This perception began to change in the early 1970s when Smith County Superintendent of Education Joe Tally refused to sign inadequately compensated leases. Litigation resulted in a Mississippi Supreme Court decision holding that sixteenth section lands must be leased for fair market value. The 1974 Legislature gave local school boards veto power in leasing sixteenth section land.

SIXTEENTH SECTION LAND REFORM ACT OF 1978

In 1978, Sixteenth Section and Lieu Land Act was passed by the Legislature, with Lieutenant Governor Evelyn Gandy casting the tie-breaking vote in the Senate. It provides that sixteenth section school lands and lieu lands are held in trust for the benefit of the public schools; it transfers control of public school trust lands from the Boards of Supervisors to the Boards of Education, under the general supervision of the Secretary of State.

CLASSIFICATION OF SIXTEENTH SECTION LANDS

Since the passage of the 1978 Sixteenth Section and Lieu Land Act, sixteenth section land leases are based on a classification system. The nine classifications include: Forest Land, Agricultural Land, Industrial Land, Commercial Land, Residential Land, Farm Residential Land, Recreational Land, Other Land, and Catfish Farming Land. Classification is determined by a finding of the highest and best use of the land for producing the maximum revenue.

TIMBER AND FOREST LAND

All timber on sixteenth section land is under the general supervision and management of the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

LEASING – COMPETITIVE BIDDING

The local Boards of Education offer hunting and fishing leases, agricultural leases, and mineral leases through a competitive bidding process.

Only forest land may be leased for hunting and fishing. Leases are awarded to the highest bidder after advertisement. The most recent leaseholder of a hunting and fishing lease has the right to renew his lease by matching the highest acceptable bid received.

Agricultural leases are granted to the highest bidder after advertisement. Agricultural land may be leased for a maximum term of ten years for the cultivation of rice or for pasturage. For all other agricultural uses, the maximum term is five years.

All sixteenth section lands, regardless of classification, may be leased for the exploration, development, mining, and production of oil, gas, and minerals including: carbon dioxide and other gaseous substances; metals, compounds of metals, metal-bearing ores; coal, lignite, sulfur, salt, sand, gravel, fill dirt, and clay. The local Boards of Education grant leases to the highest bidders after advertisement.

LEASING – BY APPLICATION AND APPRAISAL

Leases for all sixteenth section land classifications, except for agricultural leases, hunting and fishing leases on forest land, and oil, gas, and mineral leases, are let by application to the local Superintendent of Education and upon approval of the Board of Education. Such leases must also be submitted to the Board of Supervisors for approval of the annual rental amount.

Annual rent for leases granted upon application is set at the appraised fair market rental of the land, excluding buildings and improvements not owned by the school district. For leases of industrial land and commercial land, the annual rental may not be set at less than five percent of the current market value, exclusive of buildings or improvements not owned by the school district.

The maximum lease term for all land classifications leased upon application is 40 years, and rent adjustment clauses are mandatory, except in leases of residential and farm residential land. Rent adjustment clauses are optional, but recommended, in residential and farm residential leases.

The holder of a lease granted upon application has a prior right to re-lease or extend an existing lease on terms as may be agreed upon with the Board of Education, but subject to the classification of the land.

ASSIGNMENTS

Assignments of leases of sixteenth section lands are allowed only if the lease contract so provides, or at the discretion of the Board of Education, provided that it may not arbitrarily withhold permission for assignment.

REVENUES – EXPENDABLE AND NON-EXPENDABLE FUNDS

Revenues collected from the following sources are deemed expendable funds: lease bonuses and annual delay rentals collected under oil, gas and mineral leases; annual rents collected under leases covering all sixteenth section land classifications; interest received upon loans or investments of the principal fund; and proceeds from the sale of timber. Generally, expendable funds may be used for all the same purposes as other available school funds in operating and maintaining the schools of the district.

The principal fund is a permanent fund consisting of revenue received from the following sources: easements and rights-of-way; sales of lieu land; permanent damages to school trust land; sales of nonrenewable resources including, but not limited to, the sale of sand, gravel, dirt, clays, and royalties received from the sale of mineral ores, coal, oil, and gas; sales of buildings on sixteenth section lands, and sales of timber. Except for income from timber sales, funds required to be deposited into the principal fund are not expendable. However, if a district desires to spend income from timber sales, it must maintain a separate principal fund account for timber income.

Districts are authorized to borrow principal funds at a rate of interest of not less than four percent per annum for a term of not more than 20 years for the erection, equipment, or repair of school buildings, improvement of timber stands, and to provided funds for any building project approved by the State Board of Education. Additionally, districts may borrow funds, at the same interest rate, for a term not exceeding ten years for the purchase of school buses.

It is the duty of the Board of Education to keep the principal fund invested.

BUILDING ON REFORM

The passage of the 1978 Sixteenth Section and Lieu Land Act made tremendous strides in instituting sound management practices of our School Trust Lands. Secretary of State Delbert Hosemann strives to build upon the Sixteenth Section Reform Act and the work of prior Secretaries of State by reforming timber practices in our State and allowing for more open transparency in the way Mississippi regulates 16th Section land.

Community Colleges

Mississippi's public community and junior college system began in 1924 when the Legislature authorized agricultural high schools and certain municipal school districts to include the freshman and/or sophomore years of college work. Four years later, these schools were directed to establish junior colleges and other school districts; counties were also allowed to unite to establish junior colleges of their own. By 1931, 11 such institutions had been formed in connection with agricultural high schools. The combined enrollment was 1,619 students. By 1950, four additional junior colleges were established, and the 15 districts boasted a combined enrollment of 7,984.

In 1987, the colleges were allowed to change their names to community college as a more appropriate description of their relationships with their districts.

MISSION

Early junior colleges offered the freshman and sophomore years of academic college. During the 1940s, vocational and trade programs were upgraded and expanded to accommodate World War II efforts and the re-training of veterans. Nursing education, vocational, and technical education were added as missions during the 1950s and 1960s. Public community colleges are the delivery systems for post-secondary vocational-technical education in Mississippi. Approximately 550 approved courses afford a choice of more than 110 unduplicated programs. Miss. Code Ann. § 37-4-1 (1972) sets the mission of community and junior colleges to provide educational services for the people of the state through:

- Academic courses and degrees for transfer to universities and senior colleges
- Academic, technical, and vocational programs for career goals
- Continuing education opportunities
- Civic, economic, and cultural growth leadership
- Organization and Governance

The State Board for Community and Junior Colleges is given the responsibility of administering state-funded industrial training, adult post secondary short-term training, and state workforce education programs. The Board is designated to be the primary support agency to the workforce development centers across the state.

The public community/junior college districts are political subdivisions of local rather than state government. Each district is governed by local boards of trustees which are comprised of from two to six members from each county in the district. The county superintendent of education may serve as one member with other members appointed by the boards of supervisors of the counties. Trustees serve five-year terms.

The State Board of Community and Junior Colleges was established as an independent state-level coordinating agency for the system, replacing the Junior College Commission. The State board is comprised of ten members appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. Members serve six-year staggered terms. The Board administers state laws and appropriations for the system, sets standards for operation, and approves new programs and attendance centers for the colleges.

Duties and responsibilities. Community and junior colleges are the frontline higher education providers for most Mississippians seeking education and training. The Mississippi community and junior college system currently serves approximately 275,000 credit and non-credit students in fifteen (15) districts throughout the state each year. The primary purpose of community colleges is to provide two years of comprehensive educational opportunities of high quality, at a low cost, close to home. Community colleges may offer courses and services to students regardless of their previous educational attainment or future academic plans.

The State Board for Community and Junior Colleges was created in 1986 as an independent agency to coordinate and set standards and guidelines for operating the fifteen (15) public community and junior colleges in Mississippi. Academic programs lead to Associate of Arts degrees and transfer credit to four-year colleges and universities. The State Board has oversight for Workforce Education, Career and Technical Education, Adult Basic Education, GED Testing, Proprietary School and College Registration, Technology Development, and Distance Education. The Board also has the responsibility for budget coordination and setting the formula for community and junior colleges to receive state appropriations.

Institutions of Higher Learning

The Board of Trustees of the State Institutions of Higher Learning provides management and control of Mississippi’s system of eight universities. Created in 1943 by a Constitutional amendment (Mississippi Constitution of 1890, Article 9, § 213-A), the Board consists of 12 members. An amendment to this section of the constitution was passed in 2003. It requires, after January 1, 2004, that board members be appointed from each of the three Mississippi Supreme Court Districts until there are four members from each district on the board. The terms of office for the board members are reduced from twelve years to nine years. The terms are staggered so that all members appointed after 2012 will have terms of nine years.

The position of Commissioner of Higher Education was created by the Legislature in 1988 to replace the former Executive Secretary and Director of the Board position. The Commissioner is responsible for the day-to-day functions of the Board. The Commissioner serves as the Board’s chief executive and administers its policies and decisions. In addition, the Commissioner directs a professional staff with expertise in academic programs fiscal matters, communications, technology, research and planning, student financial aid, and physical facilities.

By statute the Board holds two regular slated meetings annually, one in June and the other in January, and as many special meetings as may be necessary on call of the president or on call of five members. The Board distributes a calendar of Board meetings, which has a meeting scheduled each month except December, when the Board is subject to call.

The Board oversees degree-credit courses, research and public service activities and programs at the eight public universities, the University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson, the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Center, Mississippi Agricultural, Forestry and Veterinary Medicine, ten degree granting off-campus instructional programs and various other locations throughout the state. Available programs range from a variety of undergraduate disciplines to most professional fields. All eight universities offer master’s level programs; six have programs at the education specialist level and five offer doctoral-level programs.

In the fall term of 2005, the eight universities showed 69,588 students pursuing academic degree credit in the system. Of these 55,572 were undergraduate students and 14,016 were graduate students. Residents dominate enrollment with 55,999 students originating from Mississippi and 13,589 students from out-of-state.

Approximately 80 percent of all Mississippi college students receive some form of financial aid.

The Board oversees an annual budget of more than $2.4 billion.

Military

THE ADJUTANTS GENERAL OF MISSISSIPPI

Organized Territory: 4/7/1798

Statehood: 12/10/1817

Secession: 1/9/1861

Re-admittance: 2/23/1870

The Mississippi Military Department is part of the Mississippi Executive Branch, and as such is a state agency. The Adjutant General of Mississippi (TAG) serves as the executive director and is only subordinate to the Commander-in-Chief, the Governor of Mississippi, in matters relating to the department and the state militia forces. The Adjutant General is appointed by the Governor.

The Mississippi Code of 1972, Title 33, Chapter 3, titled "Military Affairs," details the duties and responsibilities of the Adjutant General of Mississippi, as well as the Assistant Adjutant Generals, Army and Air.

The Adjutant General of Mississippi, via the Mississippi Military Department, is expressly authorized to "issue such orders, rules and regulations as may be necessary in order that the organization, training and discipline of the components of the militia of this state will at all times conform to the applicable requirements of the United States government relating thereto. Orders, rules and regulations issued hereunder shall have full force and effect as part of the military code of this state."

The state militia forces formally break down into three broad classes: The Mississippi National Guard (MSNG), the Mississippi State Guard (MSG), and the unorganized militia. The MSNG and the MSG are considered organized militia, and the MSNG is the most recognizable military force within our state borders.

The Mississippi National Guard, consisting of the Army and Air National Guard, is primarily a federally-funded and equipped militia force that serves a dual mission: service to the state in times of emergency as declared by the Governor; service to the nation in times of national crisis or war, typically as declared by Presidential executive order (Hurricane Katrina, Korea), Congressional Declaration of War (World War II), or Congressional Authorization of the Use of Military Force (Vietnam, Afghanistan). The Army and Air National Guard are both components of the United States Military Reserve system.

The Mississippi State Guard is most closely aligned with the historical concept of 'state militia': members are volunteers, self-equipped (armed only under special circumstances, as defined in law), can only operate within the borders of the state, and are unpaid unless activated to assist or backfill the MSNG.

TRANSFORMING MISSISSIPPI'S ECONOMIC OUTLOOK: BAWI — BALANCE AGRICULTURE WITH INDUSTRY

By any measure, Mississippi entered the Great Depression far behind the rest of the nation. The average annual income, already the worst in the nation at $287, fell to $117; one-fourth of the state's farmland was sold in a single day for taxes in 1932. Mississippi, in desperation, was forced to examine its relationship with the federal government and develop an economic lifeline of its own.

Hugh White was elected governor in 1935 with a campaign promise to balance agriculture with industry (BAWI). He proposed a two-tiered plan of "state sponsorship and control" balanced by "local financing and operation." The Mississippi Constitution prohibited use of the state's credit for support of industrial development and also enjoined municipalities and counties from becoming subscribers to capital stock in corporations. White appointed lawyers to draft a bill to meet the constitutional test, and in a special session in September, 1936, the legislature passed the Mississippi Industrial Act, creating a three-member commission to oversee the program.

From initial inquiries (3,800 firms), the commission gradually narrowed the approved firms and issued 21 certificates; twelve firms actually established plants in Mississippi. A study by the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta in 1944 reported that wages from the new plants rose from $1.4 million in 1939 to $17.9 million in 1942 on a sale of $980,500 in public bonds.

Although there were detractors, the BAWI program pulled Mississippi up from the very economic bottom and proved to be a good investment in the state's effort to "purchase payrolls."

ELECTIONS CALENDAR696-697

Open, honest, and accessible elections are vital to our democracy.

Every year is an election year in Mississippi. Elections for all state offices and most county-level offices are held in years preceding presidential elections. Most municipal elections are conducted in years following presidential elections.

2002 Help America Vote Act

On October 29, 2002, President George W. Bush signed the Help America Vote Act (HAVA) into law. HAVA is a federal response to the irregularities in voting systems and processes seen in certain states during the 2000 Presidential Election. HAVA requires each state to develop a comprehensive state plan for implementing mandatory changes in the administration of elections. The impact of HAVA on the state includes these areas: a centralized statewide voter registration system, replacing punch card and lever voting machines, improving voter education and poll worker training, requiring provisional ballots, and mandating that at least one voting machine which is accessible to voters with disabilities be available per polling place.

The Right To Vote

Registration Qualifications: Every United States citizen has the right to vote in Mississippi elections as long as he or she is:

- A resident of Mississippi and the county, city, or town for 30 days
- 18 years of age or older
- Not declared mentally incompetent by a court
- Not convicted in a Mississippi court of arson, armed robbery, bigamy, bribery, carjacking, embezzlement, extortion, felony bad check, felony shoplifting, forgery, larceny, murder, obtaining money or goods under false pretense, perjury, rape, receiving stolen property, robbery, statutory rape, theft, timber larceny, or unlawful taking of motor vehicle, unless having been pardoned or had rights of citizenship restored by Governor, or had suffrage restored by the Legislature

Registering to Vote: Register to vote in person with either the county registrar (usually the circuit clerk), the municipal clerk, or with the registrar or deputy registrar at a duly authorized satellite registration location. Registrars must accept registration at any time during regular office hours. The registration form is kept as a permanent record. Registration must be accomplished at least 30 days prior to the first election in which a citizen wishes to vote.

Mail-in voter registration forms are available at the Secretary of State’s Office, in public libraries, drivers license examining stations, circuit clerks’ offices, municipal clerks’ offices, public schools, and online at the Secretary of State’s website, www.sos.ms.gov. Additionally, voters may register at certain state and federal agencies. The application must be postmarked or delivered to the registrar 30 days prior to the first election in which a citizen wishes to vote.

Polling places and precincts are assigned to registered voters by the voter registrar. Voters who move from one precinct to another within the county or city should submit a written change of address notice to the voter registrar. Voters who move from county to county within the state must re-register in the new county of residence.

No Mississippian is required to declare a party preference in order to register to vote.

Voting Absentee: Registered voters who meet one of the following criteria can apply for and vote by absentee ballot:

- Away from county of residence on election day
- 65 years of age or older
- Temporarily or permanently physically disabled
- Student, teacher, or administrator, or a spouse and/or dependent whose studies or employment requires absence from the home county on election day
- Must be at place of work during the times the polls are open

- Member of the armed forces, a spouse, and/or dependent of military personnel
- Member of the Merchant Marines or Red Cross, a spouse, and/or dependent of a member
- Hospitalized, disabled war veteran, a spouse, and/or dependent of a hospitalized veteran
- Civilian attached to and serving outside the U.S. with any branch of the armed forces, Merchant Marines, or Red Cross or a spouse and/or dependent
- Parent, spouse, and/or dependent who will be with a temporarily or permanently disabled individual who is hospitalized outside his/her county of residence or more than 50 miles away from his/her residence, on election day
- Member, spouse, or dependent of Mississippi's Congressional delegation

Applications for absentee ballots are accepted during regular working hours at the voter registrar's office beginning 60 days before an election. Applications also are accepted at the voter registrar's office from 8:00 a.m. until 12:00 p.m. on the two Saturdays before an election. Absentee balloting begins 45 days before the election.

Only registered voters who meet any one or more of the following criteria may apply for and cast absentee ballots by mail:

- 65 years of age or older
- Temporarily residing outside the county of residence
- Parent, spouse, and/or dependent who will be with a temporarily or permanently disabled individual who is hospitalized outside his/her county of residence, or more than 50 miles away from his/her residence, on election day
- Permanently or temporarily physically disabled

Mail-in absentee ballot applications must be notarized and officially sworn to by any one of the following:

- Notary public
- U.S. Postmaster

- Assistant U.S. Postmaster
- U.S. Postal Supervisor
- Clerk in charge of a contract postal station
- Any officer having authority to administer an oath or take an acknowledgment

Applications of persons who are temporarily or permanently physically disabled are not required to be notarized. It is sufficient for the application to be witnessed by a person 18 years of age or older.

Permanently physically disabled voters may receive absentee ballots on a continuing basis by submitting a regular absentee ballot application along with a statement signed and sworn to by a licensed physician or nurse practitioner to the voter registrar.

Members of the military and Mississippi citizens residing overseas may mail or fax a Federal Post Card Application (FPCA) to the voter registrar. The post card is obtained from their military command or employer and can be used to either apply for an absentee ballot, apply to register as a voter, or both. In addition, Mississippi law allows military and overseas voters to receive by fax from the registrar an absentee ballot and to return by fax to the registrar a voted absentee ballot. Absentee ballots can also be scanned and emailed to the Secretary of State's Office at uocava@sos.ms.gov. The Secretary of State's Office will relay the ballots to the appropriate circuit clerk's office. If time constraints dictate, a military or overseas voter may use a federal write-in ballot for voting.

Absentee ballots voted in the office of the voter registrar must be cast by noon on Saturday preceding a Tuesday election.

Mailed, completed absentee ballots must be received by the voter registrar before 5:00 p.m. on the day before election day, except for military and overseas ballots for President of the United States which may be received by the registrar until 7:00 p.m. on election day.

Absentee ballot fraud is a crime in Mississippi. A person convicted of absentee ballot fraud is subject to a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $5,000, or by imprisonment in the county jail for no more than one year, or by both fine and imprisonment, or by being sentenced to the state penitentiary for not less than one year nor more than five years. The laws describing the crime and penalties are found in Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-753 (1972).

The Election Process

The two major political parties in Mississippi are the Democratic Party of the State of Mississippi and the Mississippi Republican Party. Other registered political parties include the Libertarian Party of Mississippi, Constitution Party of Mississippi, Green Party of Mississippi, and the America First Party of Mississippi. Candidates who do not align themselves with any political party are known as Independents.

Generally, political parties choose members to serve on county executive committees during county caucuses held the year after gubernatorial races. Party state executive committees are elected at congressional district caucuses and state party conventions. Municipal party executive committees are elected in the municipal party primaries, usually held the year following presidential elections.

Qualifying for office: All candidates must meet the legal requirements to hold the office sought. Most qualifying deadlines are the same for both independent candidates and party candidates.

Party candidates pay qualifying fees and file qualifying papers with the municipal clerk or county circuit clerk or, in the case of state and state district races, with either the county circuit clerk or secretary of state's office.

Independent candidates do not pay qualifying fees to run for office. Rather, they qualify by filing petitions signed by a specified number of registered voters. Independent candidates for state and state district offices file with the Secretary of State's Office petitions which have been certified by the local county voter registrar. Independent candidates for county and county district offices file qualifying papers with the county registrar's office, and independent candidates for municipal office file qualifying papers with the municipal registrar's office.

Code Ann. §§ 23-15-297 and 23-15-977 (1972). Party candidates must file the required fee and a qualifying statement of intent (available from the Circuit Clerk or the Secretary of State’s Office). The completed and certified petitions of Independent candidates for multi-county offices must be submitted to the Secretary of State’s Office by the appropriate qualifying deadline. Accordingly, the petition must first be submitted a reasonable time in advance to the appropriate circuit clerk’s office so signatures may be certified as those of registered voters. More information can be obtained from the Secretary of State’s Office or the Circuit Clerk.

Primary Elections

Party candidates are nominated during party primary elections. Voters cast ballots in the party primary of their choice. If no candidate receives a majority of the votes, a run-off, or second primary, is held between the two candidates with the most votes. Run-offs are held either two or three weeks after the primary depending on the office.

Voters in the first primary of one party may not “crossover” and vote in the run-off of another party. Persons who do not vote in a first primary may vote in any party’s run-off.

County or municipal party executive committees conduct party primary elections and certify party primary election returns. These certified returns are filed with the applicable voter registrar. Results of state or state district primaries are sent to the state party executive committee for certification. Certified results of state and state district party primaries are filed with the Secretary of State’s Office.

Non-Partisan Elections

The elections for Supreme Court Justices, Court of Appeals Judges, Chancery Court Judges, Circuit Court Judges, and County and Family Court Judges are conducted as non-partisan races. Thus, candidates for these offices must submit qualifying fees and papers to statutorily designated offices.

General Elections

Party nominees, qualified independent candidates, candidates for non-partisan offices, and certain ballot measures like bond issues and constitutional amendments usually appear on general election ballots.

The Secretary of State issues the official “sample ballot” for state and state district offices. Local election commissions issue the official “sample ballot” for county and municipal offices.

Usually, the candidate receiving the highest number of votes is elected in the general election. However, run-off elections held after the general election are sometimes necessary for non-partisan judicial offices and some special elections because no party primary/run-off system is held.

General elections are run by county election commissions or municipal election commissions with limited oversight from the State Board of Election Commissioners, comprised of the Governor, the Secretary of State, and the Attorney General. Voter registrars and the Secretary of State’s Office assist. Local election commissions file certified election returns with the Secretary of State’s Office. Municipal election commissions file copies of the certified election returns with the Secretary of State’s Office.

Electing Statewide Officials in Mississippi

Section 140 of the Mississippi Constitution of 1890 states that in order to be elected Governor or to any of the other seven statewide elected offices, a candidate must receive a majority of the popular vote in the general election and a majority of the electoral vote.

The electoral vote totals are determined by state House of Representatives districts. The candidate who receives the most votes in an individual district is awarded the electoral vote for that district. With 122 House Districts in the state, a majority of electoral votes is 62.

The electoral vote for the 2007 General Election is presented below:

STATE OFFICE	ELECTORAL VOTE TOTALS
Governor
Haley Barbour	78
John Arthur Eaves	44
Lieutenant Governor
James R. (Jamie) Franks	45
Phil Bryant	77
Secretary of State
Delbert Hosemann	81

If a candidate does not receive both a majority of the popular votes and a majority of the electoral vote, Section 141 of the Mississippi Constitution provides that members of the House of Representatives shall choose the Governor from the two persons who received the highest number of popular votes.

Campaign Finance Disclosure and Organization

Candidates for public office in Mississippi must follow state law regarding disclosure of their political contributions and expenditures. Political committees, groups that raise and donate money on behalf of candidates or issues, also must follow the state’s disclosure laws.

The Mississippi Legislature passed a major campaign finance reform bill in 1998; it became law in 1999. Campaign contributions and expenditures that exceed $200.00 must be reported by candidates and committees.

Any person or group who spends or receives in the aggregate $200.01 or more to influence an election must file all applicable campaign finance reports, even if qualifying papers have not been filed. In addition to campaign finance disclosure reports, political committees must register their organization within ten days of receiving or spending in excess of $200 to influence voters.

Candidates for state, state district, and legislative office file reports with the Secretary of State’s Office. County and county/district candidates file reports with the appropriate circuit clerk, and candidates for municipal office file reports with the municipal clerk.

All judicial candidates, except justice court judges, are required to establish committees to handle campaign finances. Candidate committees for judges are prohibited from soliciting donations earlier than 60 days before the candidate qualifying deadline and later than 120 days after the last applicable election day, according to Canon 5 Code of Judicial Conduct.

Once authorized by a candidate to conduct campaign activities for any elected office except a federal office, a candidate’s political committee must also register their organization and file campaign finance reports. Candidates for federal office should contact the Federal Election Commission for campaign finance disclosure requirements.

Campaign Finance Report Requirements:

Five types of campaign finance reports are required of all candidates, candidate’s committees, and political committees. These reports are filed at different times.

1. Pre-election reports – Aggregate from January 1 through the tenth day before each election. Due date: the 7th day before any election. Candidates and candidate committees file only in elections in which the candidates’ names are on the ballot, but political committees file before any primary, run-off, or general election, even if the committee is not involved.
2. Periodic reports – Aggregate from January 1 through the due date. Periodic reports are due in gubernatorial and judicial election years. Due dates: May 10, June 10, July 10, October 10, and January 10.
3. Annual reports – Aggregate for the period from January 1 through December 31. Due date: January 31 except following gubernatorial election years, during which periodic reports are filed and judicial candidates in years they file periodic reports.

4. 48 Hour reports – Applies only to candidates. Reportable contributions received after the tenth day, but more than 48 hours before 12:01 a.m. on the election day, must be reported by fax, mail, or hand delivery to the appropriate office within 48 hours of receipt.
5. Termination reports – Due when political activities cease. Contains all reportable activity since the last filed report. Unless and until a termination report is filed, every candidate and committee must file every required report. A termination report may be filed when contributions are no longer accepted, expenditures are no longer made, and there are no outstanding debts or financial obligations associated with the candidate or committee activities. Filing a termination report is the only way to end reporting obligations and responsibilities. If no termination report is filed, candidates and committees remain subject to filing all other required reports.

Political committees and individuals aligned for or against constitutional initiatives must file monthly initiative committee reports with the Secretary of State.

Report Contents: All reports must include:

1. Aggregated year-to-date totals – Total year-to-date amount of contributions received and expenditures made must be reported by all candidates.
2. Cash on hand – All cash on hand must be reported and carried over year-to-year.
3. Contributions – An itemized listing must be reported of each contributor who has contributed in the aggregate over $200 year-to-date, including name, address, occupation, employer, date of each contribution, amount of each contribution, and year-to-date aggregate contribution.

4. Expenditures – An itemized listing must be reported of each expenditure of over $200 in the aggregate year-to-date and the person or business, including name, address, occupation, employer, date of expenditure, amount of expenditure, and year-to-date aggregate expenditures.

Campaign finance report forms may be obtained from the local voter registrar’s office, the Secretary of State’s Office, or downloaded from the Secretary of State’s website at www.sos.ms.gov or filed electronically.

Statement of Economic Interest: Candidates for public office also must file a “Statement of Economic Interest” with the Mississippi Ethics Commission. The form may be obtained from the Mississippi Ethics Commission.

Technical Assistance: Candidates, candidate’s committees, and political committees are advised to review the appropriate statutes and state laws regarding regulation and disclosure of campaign finances and other obligations and responsibilities. Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-801 et seq. (1972).

The information printed in this edition of the Official and Statistical Register regarding voter registration, voting, absentee voting, candidate qualifications, dates of elections, qualifying deadlines, and campaign finance disclosure is subject to change due to legislation or action by the Courts. Always refer to the current language in effect for the appropriate statutes and contact your circuit clerk or the Secretary of State’s Office before relying on the information in this book.

The Secretary of State’s Office Election Hotline number is 1-800-829-6786 and the website address is www.sos.ms.gov. Telephone numbers and addresses of the state’s circuit clerks and election commissioners are listed in the County section of this book.
