

Plymouth Given $212,779 Urban Renewal Grant

Plymouth received a $212,779 capital grant from the Federal government Monday to aid in its Urban Renewal project for 11 acres of land in the city limits.

Condemnation procedures on the Mill Street site will begin next month, now that the allocation has been authorized, City Clerk Joseph Near said.

In addition, a federal loan for $292,054 has been authorized to be paid back when the project is completed.

FACTS and OPINIONS by Paul Chandler

This newspaper flatly advocates a "No" on the school millage proposal which will appear on the ballot Monday, and recommends that the Board of Education return in June with a smaller request.

Several factors govern our recommendation, but not the least of them is that a part of the proposal has been delivered to the taxpayers at gunpoint.

This is the portion for salary increases which were demanded of the Board by the teacher's association, with a threat of mass "walkout" if the requests aren't granted.

If we have entered an era where our professional educators bargain on a mass basis like any semi-skilled labor union, and if the alternative to their demands is a "walkout" then this one observer believes the time has come to face it and take whatever consequences result.

By and large, we agree that teachers are underpaid in the American society. But we have deep, serious basic disagreements with the teaching unions as to the manner in which they are underpaid.

Most specifically, we do not agree that the antidote to the problem is to give every teacher in a system, young and old, new and veteran, good and fair, specialist and general practitioner—the same, identical $200 to $300 raises across the board.

This is a subject in itself and there is no point in exhausting it today. The general philosophy simply should be resisted wherever it is forced.

Plymouth taxpayers have not stinted with their education system, compared to any of its neighbors of comparable means and standards.

In the current year, Plymouth is spending $458 per student.

Compared to Plymouth's $458 is Livonia's $449; S. Redford's $425; Garden City's $331, Redford Union's $401; Wayne's $401; Northville's $447; and Farmington's $363.

We don't say any of these figures are high enough, under ideal conditions. We do contend that Plymouth is better off than many—and so are its teachers.

The only control the voting public has over the policies of its school board or over the threats of "teacher unions", is the control of the purse strings.

That opportunity avails itself Monday and Facts and Opinions thinks it is a proper time to say "No."

Debate Tightens As Voters Prepare For School Election

Trial Set In Assault Complaint

Trial examination for two Plymouth men accused of felonious assault has been set for next week, Police Chief Ken Fisher told The Livonian today.

Arraigned last Friday on the charge were Ronald Wall and James Duty, both local residents. The pair was charged by another man, Arthur Saunders, with assaulting him in the Toll House Bar, 335 N. Main on Sunday, April 1.

Police said Wall and Duty "hit Saunders with a beer bottle and cue sticks and kicked him." Saunders had to be taken to Wayne County General Hospital for treatment, they said.

Defendants Wall and Duty were picked up by police after a warrant for their arrest was sworn out April 4. They are free on $1500 bond each.

Symphony Honored in City Week

Plymouthites are marking the annual tribute to the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra this week, with April 8 to 14 having been proclaimed "Symphony Week" in the city.

Highlighting activities will be a fund drive during which the Symphony hopes to raise funds toward its estimated $10,000 budget.

The Symphony hopes to raise more than half of its budget by selling memberships—from $7.50 to $50 or more—and will seek the remainder from the Community Fund, the Plymouth Symphony Women's League, and special activities which include its Christmas Ball and Pops Concert.

Mrs. Fred J. Beitner, membership chairman, reports that active memberships are available for $7.50, supporting memberships cost $15, sustaining memberships are $25 and patron memberships are $50.

This is the orchestra's 17th year.

Looking Around Plymouth

A meeting of the Inter-County Baseball League will be held at the City Hall in Plymouth on Sunday, April 8, at 3 p.m. All managers or teams wishing to enter the league this year are requested to be present or to contact Earl Gray at 453-0477.

The Plymouth Civic Chorus and Band is in rehearsal for an early May concert. Monday night practices are being held at Plymouth High School.

SCHOOL VOTE: Election returns in next Monday's Plymouth school millage voting will be tallied at the Board of Education office and should be available by 10 p.m., according to Assistant School Superintendent Melvin Blunk. As a public service, telephone lines at The Livonian—GA 2-3160—will be open Monday night and interested readers may call us for returns.

Workmen are repairing Arthur St. between Farmer and Blance, reports DPW Superintendent Joseph Bida. That's the reason for the roadblocks, he states.

Knights of Columbus in Plymouth will be holding their annual rummage sale this week. K of C members have all details.

DEBATING THE PLYMOUTH school millage issue at a Town Hall meeting last Thursday were (left to right) opponent Kenneth Bisbee; moderator Earl West of the Chamber of Commerce; and speakers for the proposal: George Lawton, Gerald Fischer, Urey Arnold and Harold Niemi.

OPEN IN SEPTEMBER, the new Plymouth Junior High School-West is one of the items for which the Board of Education is seeking operating funds in next Monday's election for school millage. Teachers' salary increases is the other big item in the Board's request.

City Seeks DSR Buses As Substitute For Train

The Plymouth City Commission this week asked the Department of Street Railways—Detroit's spiderweb public transportation system—to fill the gap caused by elimination of an early-morning commuter train between the two cities.

In a resolution passed at a special meeting Monday night, the Commission asked the DSR Board to "conduct a survey to determine what services can be offered between Plymouth and downtown Detroit."

Said the Commission: "The DSR has indicated it is willing to furnish commuter service to Detroit." Whether it will or not depends on the result of the survey requested by the Commission.

Action on the issue was spearheaded after the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway announced a change in schedule for its "Sportsman" commuter train which now leaves Plymouth at 6:50 a.m. Many Plymouth residents who work in downtown Detroit had been dependent on the train for service. Under its new schedule—changed to fill the gap caused by elimination of a Washington-west train—the "Sportsman" will leave Plymouth in mid-morning. To other trains later in the day serve the city.

Some Commissioners were hesitant about taking the step Monday because of fears it might force out service now given by DeLuxe Motor Stages, Inc.

The local company, which offers service now between Detroit and Plymouth—but at awkward hours for commuters—denied this week it had offered to purchase a new 51-passenger air-conditioned coach if 40 residents promised to use its new service.

Last week, Commissioners had reported the DeLuxe Company would offer such a service and asked City Manager Al Glassford to act as a "clearing house" for citizen requests for the new bus. The bus, as reported last week, would have arrived in Detroit at the same time the railroad presently arrives.

Train service will be discontinued April 23.

Voting "no" on Monday's resolution were Commissioners William Hartmann and James C. Houk. Others expressed caution.

He was backed up by Niemi who told the citizens, "We want to continue quality education for our continually growing district."

A steady rise in school enrollment, which will amount to 175 this year and next, need for improvement of salaries, and provision of funds to staff and operate the new Junior High School-West were given as reasons for the hike.

Arnold told citizens, "An increase in millage will vitally affect the economic welfare of everyone in Plymouth." He continued, "We must decide what we want from our schools. We in Plymouth must collectively decide where in our set of values

Last week, Plymouth's City Commission spent time discussing a proposal to petition the state legislature to institute daylight savings time in Michigan. Action was delayed so Commissioners could feel out public opinion on the matter.

In connection with the Commission's discussion, The Livonian's man-in-the-street reporter this week asked Plymouth area residents—

"Do You Favor Daylight Savings Time?"

Here are their answers: "I would like having daylight savings time," replied Betty Stoehr, 11408 Arden. An employee at the Kresge Store on Main St. in Plymouth, Mrs. Stoehr said, "When I get through work, there would be an extra hour of daylight."

"I think it would be a good thing," agreed Mrs. Gerald Krumm, 572 S. Harvey St. "My husband works until 5 p.m. and this would give him another hour of daylight in the evening, which I know he would enjoy."

Ronald Darga, 49405 Maple, said, "I've worked with daylight savings

Balloting Set For Monday

A "serious change" for Plymouth's school program was forecast this week if voters turn down the Board of Education's 7½-mill tax request.

The prediction came from Gerald Fischer, one of four speakers who defended the Board's request Thursday as proponents and opponents of the measure prepared to battle down to the wire before the election next Monday.

The two sides met head-on Thursday in a Community Town Hall meeting at Plymouth Junior High School cafeteria and quarreled over size of teachers' salaries, needs for improvement in the school system and "economy."

Urging a "no" vote on the issue before 150 citizens present was Kenneth Bisbee, former teacher and now a local businessman. Bisbee was one of the members of the Citizen's Advisory Committee on school needs.

Plugging the "yes" position, besides Fischer, were George Lawton, Chamber of Commerce secretary who said he represented "himself", Urey Arnold, Plymouth Education Association spokesman, representing teachers, and Harold Niemi of the Board of Education.

Fischer—who presented background information on the issue—said the Board had spent two years "going through school needs, assessing desirability of school programs and everything. Generally," he concluded, "we've come to the conclusion that we have a sound program."

He was backed up by Niemi who told the citizens, "We want to continue quality education for our continually growing district." A steady rise in school enrollment, which will amount to 175 this year and next, need for improvement of salaries, and provision of funds to staff and operate the new Junior High School-West were given as reasons for the hike.

time in the Air Force and I've found it was nice compared to what we have now. I spent four years in the service and it worked out fine there. We should do the same here."

"I used to live in Cleveland when they had daylight savings time," commented Joseph R. Fletcher, 14230 Ridge Rd. "I think I like the time setup the way we have it now."

In order to give the City Commission an indication of public feeling on the issue, The Livonian is printing the sample ballot below, which we are asking readers to fill out and send to us. Check "YES" if you favor daylight savings time and "NO" if you're opposed to it. Results of this informal poll will be passed on to the Commission by us. 'The Readers Speak Up,' Some Angry, Some Not Editor: Welcome to the new mayor! He brings with him the promise of reduced taxes through population control and a more fair and realistic apportionment of assessed valuations.

I am sure, through listening to him, that here is an individual who knows all the answers and has already well within his capabilities a bold aggressive plan to accomplish these aims quickly. However, just in case the control of lot sizes in the city might prove to be a little slow in showing results, might I, in a spirit of helpfulness, offer an alternative method which I am sure would get immediate results?

I read somewhere that there are about 900 commercial and industrial firms who contribute only about 50 per cent of the total tax bill including school taxes. Obviously, this is quite unfair to the little guy and needs a more realistic approach right now!

This amount should be immediately upped from 50 per cent to 75 or 80 per cent. The 25 or 30 per cent this realized could then be spread across the board in an immediate 25 or 30 per cent reduction to home owners.

This action should immediately cause the removal of most of the 900 business firms together with their employees to other localities. In one full sweep we could accomplish both tax reduction and population reduction. It also seems reasonable that no additional schools would then be required.

If the loss of tax return from business became to severe, I'm sure we could be declared a disaster area and get the Federal Government to clear up any deficit.

Sure, it's bold but, in these days, boldness is an attribute not to be sniffed at.

I look forward eagerly to my reduced tax bill next year as do about 8700 others.

Sincerely,
Walter M. Grayson

Mr. Harvey Moelke,

Dear Sir:

I have for the past eleven years served as Deputy Director of Civil Defense as well as Chief of the Auxiliary Police. This has been a continuous period of service and gratification to the City.

Inasmuch as you're the new Mayor elect, I am at this time submitting my resignation both as Deputy Director of Civil Defense and Chief of Auxiliary Police, to become effective immediately upon your taking of office.

We do have a present training class of Auxiliary Police which will have been completed with examinations taken as of the last of April, 1962, and subject to your approval, I will carry on and see to it that this class has completed the present training session.

You will learn that our Auxiliary Police program is looked upon as a very efficient and well trained unit of Civil Defense and I will be very happy to brief whoever is detailed to take over the training sessions as to the present method of operation.

I shall, of course, remain as one of the members of the Civil Defense participants and will always be ready for duty service in the event of emergencies.

Wishing you the best of success during your administration, I am,

Very truly yours,
Lonnie H. Brashear,
Deputy Director of Defense

Mr. Edward M. Also our thanks to Mr. Webster, Student Council sponsor. We have always enjoyed the cooperation of Bentley High School students and the opportunity of working together.

To say that I'm disappointed with the results of the election, is putting it mildly. And tho' I wish I could say "the best man won," I can only say that I sincerely believe "the best man lost." Mayor William Brashear carried on a very clean and decent campaign, one that we may all be proud of. No dirty under-handed remarks, no smearing of anyone's name. Knowing him, as a man, as well as a Public Servant, has been a wonderful experience for me and has taught me another great lesson in Humanity.

I am now anticipating a reduction in my Taxes; and less children in this wonderful City of Livonia. No need for more Schools now! I'm also very glad to know that we will be having better Police and Fire Protection. With more men added to the Payrolls of these two Departments, at no Tax raise to the Home Owners, will certainly make this an ideal City. Too bad many more deserving families won't be able to move to Livonia.

And to you Mr. Chandler, thanks a million for a wonderful City Newspaper. I look forward to receiving it each and every week and never miss reading a word. If Oscars were given to Editors, you surely would have a shelf full. And rightly earned. Your Honest and straightforward manner in presenting the News is just what this City needs. Orchids to you for your excellent services. Also to our past Mayor William Brashear for his devoted and excellent services. He will not be forgotten soon, if ever.

Now that the election is over, we can all take a deep breath, and no matter whose side we were on relax a bit, knowing we worked hard and did the best we could.

Our job now is to support the new mayor and to help Livonia remain the leading city it has become.

Although my political opinions are not shared by you, I want to commend you, sir, for the way you retained your composure election night under great duress.

The mere fact that you took the bull by the horns and entered "the enemies camp" so to speak, spoke for itself but when you were attacked by that woman with her glass throwing, kicking and forked tongue, tirade my hat went off to you for your being a gentleman. I was ashamed at that moment that I was a woman and wished she was a man so you could have defended yourself.

That a person of her caliber could support anyone I might have voted for made me wonder if I had voted wisely. She and her following are not assets to anyone and I hope our newly elected officials realize association with her, her husband and her friends could spell disaster.

Her kind are a blight to every decent citizen who have honest gripes and axes to grind but can handle themselves like a lady or a gentleman.

Unfortunately, she is neither.

How a Shell research team got 168.47 miles per gallon

A Shell research team drove this car to a Mileage Marathon record. They used the same Shell fuel that could be bought at Shell stations.

168 miles per gallon must be a world record. Here's how the record was made—and how a quiet marriage of careful driving and today's Super Shell can help you get better mileage.

SOME years ago, a group of Shell scientists had a friendly argument. The gist of it: who could get the most miles from a gallon of gasoline. They decided to find out. And Shell's Mileage Marathon was born. All contestants had to use the same gasoline anybody could buy at a Shell station. Beyond that, the Marathon had few rules. And ingenuity ran wild.

How the record was set Here are some of the things that Dave Berry and Fred Schuette, the winning team, did to set their record.

- None are recommended for informal marathons. But they do offer a few clues on how to get more miles per gallon.
- Berry and Schuette removed their engine cooling fan to save power and muffled their radiator to retain heat.
- They used tires worn smooth and pumped up to 50 pounds pressure to cut rolling friction to a minimum.
- On the road, they accelerated to 20 miles per hour, cut the ignition and rolled until speed dropped to 5 miles per hour. Then they repeated the cycle.

NOTE: they used a standard carburetor from an old one-cylinder engine. Since "on-and-off" driving is illegal on public roads—and since most Marathon modifications are dangerous for normal use—you may wonder if Shell's Mileage Marathon had any point. Indeed it did. In the months of preparations, every contestant learned a bit more about the care and feeding of automobiles. Knowledge of this sort gets passed along to you in the form of better Shell products for your car.

EXAMPLE: As a result of Shell's research studies, including many mileage tests, one of the 9 ingredients in today's Super Shell is a mileage-booster called Platformate. This ingredient alone can release up to 8 percent more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane aviation gasoline. Result: extra mileage.

To help boost mileage even more, follow these driving tips from Berry and Schuette.

- How you can save gasoline
1. Don't race your engine when standing still. Unnecessary engine speed is pure waste and takes you nowhere.

2. Avoid jackrabbit starts. Fast getaways waste gasoline and power.
3. Drive at moderate speeds. Your car uses about 25 percent more gasoline at 65 mph than at 45 mph.
4. Keep an even speed. Ragged driving uses extra fuel—without taking full advantage of the power it could generate.
5. Pace yourself in traffic. Don't be the fastest or the slowest. You'll just be trapped into wasteful spurts and slowdowns.
6. Keep tires up to their proper pressure. Soft tires can soak up power.
7. Ask your Shell dealer about these checks: Spark timing should be set correctly. Fuel filters and air cleaner should be cleaned regularly. Brakes should be properly adjusted. And your cooling system thermostat must work right.

Motorists who follow these rules, and use Super Shell, can expect good mileage. Chances are, you can improve the mileage you are now getting. Now that you know how, why not give it a try?

Here's Lowdown On Balloting

Issues in the April 16 school vote in Plymouth:

Up for voter approval is a 7.5 millage request. Three-and-one-half of the mills which the Board of Education seeks is renewal of existing millage. It won't raise taxes.

What will mean a tax increase, however, is the four mills which the Board is seeking in addition. Board members have promised to levy only 3 1/2 mills of this next year; the full amount the next two years.

Board members say the hike is necessary to provide funds to staff and operate the new junior high school, improve teacher salaries and adopt a professional growth plan, provide an economic adjustment to other employees' salaries, continue quality education for growing enrollments.

"Taxes," they point out, "will continue to be less than most neighboring school districts."

News Notes From Nankin

By MARGARET GIBSON

After a long and hectic winter of fighting colds and a dozen different virus infections that have even the doctors puzzled, we are indeed proud to season of all, Spring.

Yes indeed, Old Mother Nature is proving to us once again, that she has a great deal to offer in the way of beauty. Our only obligation is to take the time to enjoy it.

What does Spring mean to you? Maybe your interpretation differs from mine. If so I would enjoy hearing from you.

Mrs. L. C. Collier was entertained at the home of her daughter, Isabelle Moorehouse of Dearborn recently. Attending were her daughter Isabelle, granddaughters Kay Perrie, Marilyn Rapp, great grand children Steve, Donnie and Lyn Perrie and Bobby and Danny Rapp.

Joe and Helen Vidmar and children of Gary are back home after their trip to Chicago. While there the family was the guests of Helen's parents Mr. and Mrs. Kuchek.

Our deepest sympathies were extended to Ed Zarb of Geraldine Blvd. who suffered the great loss of his mother, Mrs. Jessie V. Zarb. Funeral Services for Mrs. Zarb were held Saturday March 31.

Potluck suppers are fast becoming one of the most popular ways for friends to get together and Monday night was no exception as members of the annual potluck.

Monroe P.T.A. enjoyed their annual potluck. The multi-purpose room was a happy place as parents and children had quite a chore choosing which of the many foods to try first.

Bernard H. Pyne Jr. will be baptized at the Rosedale Presbyterian Church Sunday April 8. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Pyne Sr. of Geraldine Blvd. Sponsors will be Irwin and Kay Perrie.

We were sorry to hear that David Giacobozzi of Gary cut his hand recently and required 8 stitches.

Happy birthday wishes go out to Bobby Juntilla of Geraldine Blvd. who celebrated his 6th birthday March 31. Helping Bobby with the celebration were the Bushaw family and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Culp. Among the most cherished of Bobby's gifts were a transistor radio and a boxing glove. Traditional ice cream and cake were served to the party goers.

Willie Johnson was hostess to her card club Tuesday evening. First prize was won by Sarah Sears and booby prize went to Violet Toth.

Shirley Jerden, Joan Antos and Kathie Gornick were among the hundreds attending the Fashion Show at Marshall School Wednesday evening. The Fashion Show was put on by members of the P.T.A. with the cooperation of Wards. Decorating credit goes to Joan Hall as she chose daffodils and daisies as her main theme throughout the school. A mad hatter table supplied a large array of hats that could be tried on and purchased if desired.

Get well wishes go out to Mr. Richard Holtz who is in Detroit Osteopathic Hospital recuperating from surgery. Mr. Holtz is the father of Shirley Jerden of Merril.

Livonia League of Women Voters Now Official

"League" Welcomes Suburban Members

By Mimi Singer

Livonia has another feather in its cap—the Livonia League of Women Voters. Two years ago, 35 women, then officially members of the Detroit League of Women Voters, contacted the state-national offices and signified their desire to form a Livonia League.

Permission was granted, and the Provisional Livonia League of Women Voters was formed. Under the leadership of Mrs. John M. LaRue and her board, the membership almost doubled, the group proved financially stable, the board politically non-partisan, and the leadership capable to provide study in government according to League program. Another requirement, the publishing of a "Know Your Livonia" booklet will soon be accomplished. And so, with the coming of spring, Livonia sprouts a new full-blown group devoted to community service.

Livonia now has a recognized League of Women Voters, branch number 32 on the Michigan tree. This tree like all the other 1,120 non-profit volunteer League "trees" in the 50 states has its roots secured in the belief that democracy can best be served by getting the maximum number of people interested, informed and involved in government.

The National League of Women Voters is an outgrowth of the suffrage movement. It was organized in 1920. The Wayne County League of Women Voters was organized in November, 1919. From 1920-1962 the message of the League remains the same. Vote! Get others to vote! Be informed! Participate in government! There are now 128,000 members of the League of Women Voters in the U.S.

The League never supports nor opposes a candidate. However, after much study and a consensus of members, the League does take positions on issues. It is an action as well as a study group. Members are encouraged to participate in government. However, board members may not participate in political activities while serving on a board.

The program is carried out at three levels—national, state and local. The national program, to be approved at the forthcoming national convention, calls for "supporting U.S. economic policies which promote world development and maintain a sound U.S. economy." For instance, gold problems and the common market are studied. Problems such as water conservation, which was a past study item, now termed a "continuing responsibility" is reviewed.

Metropolitan problems was one of the 1961-62 items on the state level along with constitutional revision. The League's part in calling the constitutional convention currently in session in Lansing is well-known. The League obtained 209,000 of the 322,000 petition signatures filed at the end of the drive, this with a membership of 3,675 women!

Among its community service accomplishments these past two years Livonia's League includes the distribution of Voters Guides, (As a provisional League, however, it was not permitted to prepare these for local elections), two candidates' meetings, Get-Out the Vote campaigns including the use of a sound truck, distribution of "Know Your Wayne County" and other League publications to the library, schools, citizens; as well as the usual monthly unit study meetings and the general meetings.

Mrs. LaRue places the president's gavel into the hands of Mrs. Theodore Samore. Other newly elected officers include Mrs. Myron Singer first vice president, Mrs. Jerome Bates, second vice president, Mrs. Carl Fogelberg, secretary; Mrs. A. Edward Katz, treasurer. Elected directors are Mrs. King Adamson, Mrs. Donald Friedrichs, Mrs. John Goldstick, Mrs. Lawrence Hodges, Mrs. William McAninch and Mrs. Avram Rosenthal. Membership is open to all women citizens of voting age.

Women from the surrounding suburbs are welcome. Membership dues are five dollars annually. For further information contact the membership chairman, Mrs. John Goldstick, GA 7-0667.

OFFICIAL OFFICERS meet for a Board meeting and oblige by posing for their first formal picture. The re-election of officers followed the Livonia League of Women Voters becoming chartered after two years as a Provisional League. They have fulfilled all the requirements necessary to making them official. (l-r) seated Mrs. Carl Fogelberg, Secretary; Mrs. A. Edward Katz, Treasurer; Mrs. Theodore Samore, President; Mrs. Jerome E. Bates, 2nd Vice President. (l-r) standing Mrs. J. Carlos Dawson; con-con chairman; Mrs.

Albert Klevan, current agenda chairman; Mrs. L. W. Hodges, publications; Mrs. William McAninch, metropolitan problems; Mrs. Donald Fredricks, foreign policy chairman; Mrs. King Adamson, national continuing responsibilities chairman; Mrs. Harold Firestone, finance chairman. Not shown in picture but serving on the Board are Mrs. Myron Singer and Mrs. Avram Rosenthal in the capacity of 1st vice president and unit organization chairman.

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA CCX

To be sure there will be many changes around the halls of Livonia's seat of government in the next two years. The proof will be in the pudding. At this writing no one can say how far reaching the changes will be.

One thing for sure, however, is the fact Livonia still has a gracious first lady. Grisella Brashear has always made a stranger feel at ease in her capacity as Mayor's wife. Bette Moelke shares this talent.

We had lunch together last week and I feel quite well acquainted with her. I came away thinking perhaps she had turned the tables and interviewed me. She was an enthusiastic listener, and showed sincere interest, a talent too few politicians wives have.

I have been around many who make the right words with their mouth, because they have been instructed to do so at home—"for their man", but their eyes are disinterested, and slightly bored.

Bette Moelke is an astute observer, a wonderful attribute in a Mayor's wife—for while he is shaking hands, meeting new people, and making friends, she can observe from a distance should there be enemies lurking.

Bette is convinced her husband is not a politician. He is a businessman who became interested as a resident in the Citizen's League studying reassessment several years ago. He just became seriously interested as a candidate three months ago.

"From the first I was sure he would win, Harvey is idealistic an honest above all things," said Bette.

There is no fear in Mrs. Moelke's mind this is the way he will hold his office too.

"How could I not have confidence in Harvey's winning, the very day he filed, our seven year old, Sharon took Harvey's picture to her second grade class and to the teacher's amazement announced during 'show and tell' time her daddy would be the next mayor of Livonia." She added she personally felt a little embarrassed as though the children had been brain-washed.

On the other hand, any mother with a memory will testify having a few prickly, uncomfortable moments when the little darling chirps up at the dinner table with "You know what I told em at 'show and tell' today." I have often thought teachers could probably write books on this alone.

The Moelkes are a close family, enjoying at least one night of recreation together. This the children (there are five) have missed of late but hope to get back to although Mrs. Moelke realizes their family life has changed.

Already personal plans have been interfered with. For 17 years they planned a trip to Hawaii with two other couples—They made a friendly joke among the six saving for "the trip" which was to have happened this Spring. With the consent of the other two the whole thing has been postponed, but not without some regret to be sure.

Mrs. Moelke will continue in their real estate and insurance office "part-time" and will be assisted by her father-in-law, who will come out of retirement to give a hand in the business. Incidentally she is a Cooley High alumni, my own vintage.

As a couple the Moelkes are square dance fans and enjoyed learning from Betty and Bob Carson of Plymouth. Bette doesn't anticipate politics will replace this as recreation in their home.

Nor does she think Harvey or herself will be too busy to enjoy their own natural lake in their back-yard. They have cultivated, developed it and feel sure they are the only folks in Livonia with a natural-spring fed pool for their children and neighbors to enjoy.

Although the months ahead may bring frustration, and at times discouragement to Mayor Moelke, I am sure he will find a constant help-mate and source of encouragement from his wife Bette—what more could a man ask?

Clarenceville Forms Honor Society

Twenty-two juniors and seniors from Clarenceville High School, each having an academic average of B or above, became charter members of a proposed chapter of the National Honor Society, on Thursday, March 29, 1962. This group is under the supervision of Lois McColloch, Clarenceville High School Counselor. The purpose of such a society is to create an enthusiasm for scholarships, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership and to encourage the development of character in students.

Students with B averages or above are considered by a committee of the faculty and evaluated in terms of character, leadership, and service. The group decided upon its constitution and elected the following officers: Cheryl Nelson, President; Carole Welton, Vice President; Janet Ford, Secretary; Ruth Ann Oman, Treasurer. The following are the charter members:

Jacqueline Anold, Christine Babinski, Lee Corcoran, Joan Ellis, Janet Ford, John Griffin, Jere Harris, Charlette Helton, Sandy Karmazin, Juanita Kassa, Claudette Morse, Rosa Naparsk, Cheryl Nelson, Ruth Oman, Judy Scholes, Pat Simons, Marsha Spencer, Marsha Van Dyke, Sandra Wellich, Carole Welton, Larry Wehner, Sharon Marbury.

Detroit School To Be Redford Neighbor

Plans that the Detroit Public Schools were seeking to condemn land in Redford Township for construction of a new school are untrue, the manager of a service station told this newspaper this week.

Statements had been made that the city—which plans to construct the school on Fenkell, east of Telegraph, just east of the Township line—had sought to purchase a gas station on the southeast corner of Five Mile and Telegraph.

The manager of the station said that approaches had been made, but only to see if adjacent land could be graded evenly to provide a level surface all around the school. "No condemnation can be effected," the manager said. Township officials and School Board spokesmen agreed.

Girl Scout Notes

The girls of Troop 26543 regret losing the services of their leader, Mrs. Viles, but wish to express their gratitude for the fine leadership and wonderful companionship they've experienced with her.

During their tour of the Sheets Greenhouse, the Brownies of Troop 2248 learned how plants were started and saw the great variety of flowers being readied for the Easter holiday. The girls were overjoyed, when at the end of their tour, each girl received a geranium plant to raise.

Color Eggs for Prizes

The second annual city-wide Easter egg coloring contest is set for Saturday, April 14, in the second-floor classroom at the Montgomery Wards wonderland store.

Co-sponsors for the event, Montgomery Wards and the Department of Parks and Recreation, announced that all contestants must register their entries between 12:30 and 2:30 p.m. on the contest day. All Livonians are eligible to enter the contest. Prizes will be awarded in four categories to winners in each of the age groupings—3-5 years, 6-8 years, 9-12 years, and 13 years and over.

Categories are: most creative, most unusual, funniest, and best non-shell design. Judging will take place at 3 p.m. Saturday, April 14. Mr. and Mrs. S. Bagnall, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Sutton, and Walter Maurus, will judge the entries.

Baptist Revival Here

The Rev. Kenneth Day, superintendent of missions of the Baptist State Convention of Michigan, will lead a two-week revival beginning Sunday, April 8, at Livonia Baptist Church, 32940 Schoolcraft.

The Rev. Willard Martin, pastor of Livonia Baptist, said members of the church have been holding prayer meetings in their homes during the last week for the success of the revival.

Mr. Day, who was pastor of the Bethany Baptist Church in Lansing for three years prior to accepting his present post in the state organization in 1957, is a graduate of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky.

Cage Crown To Southfield In Thriller

What else could one expect? After finishing the regular-season tied, Southfield Community and Galleian Baptist collided in a special playoff to settle the championship in the Brighton Church Basketball League.

In a game, which left the capacity crowd limp, Southfield gained a 64-63 verdict thus ending Galleian's three-year reign as the league's champs.

Southfield grabbed a 12-4 lead at the outset with Frank Camper meshing 10 points. But Galleian went into a full-court press and trailed by only three at halftime. Galleian managed to knot the score several times in the second half, but Southfield always was equal to the occasion.

Camper led all the scorers with 21 points. Dave Fredricks had 20 in a losing cause.

Retarded Learn Later, Study Shows

Dr. Thomas Coleman will appear at the monthly meeting of Western Wayne County Parents' Association. The meeting will be in Room 25 of Emerson Jr. High School on W. Chicago just east of Middlebelt in Livonia on Monday Evening, April 16 at 8 p.m.

Some new conclusions have been drawn by Mrs. Warren Ketchum and Thomas Coleman as the result of a careful case study of more than 100 children who have attended the Coleman school within the last five years.

These are children who have been excluded from regular and special education in public schools.

Here are some of the findings of the Ketchum-Coleman study. The period of actual learning among retarded frequently comes later possibly at 15, 20, or 25 years of age.

An educational system willing to accept this would forestall the placing of many children in an institution at an early age.

A social education for such children at an early age and continued learning at later stages would make more such retarded persons able to live within the community throughout their lives.

All interested people are urged to attend this informative meeting.
