Marshall Bascombe Marie Megett

LOVE REJECTED, DWARF SHOOT—Marshall Bascombe, 27-year-old midget of Osage, Ia., shot and critically wounded Marie Megett, 24-year-old waitress, because she spurned his love, according to police. "She told me she never wanted to see me again," the three-and-one-half-foot youth told police, admitting he fired into the girl's rooming house after following her home.

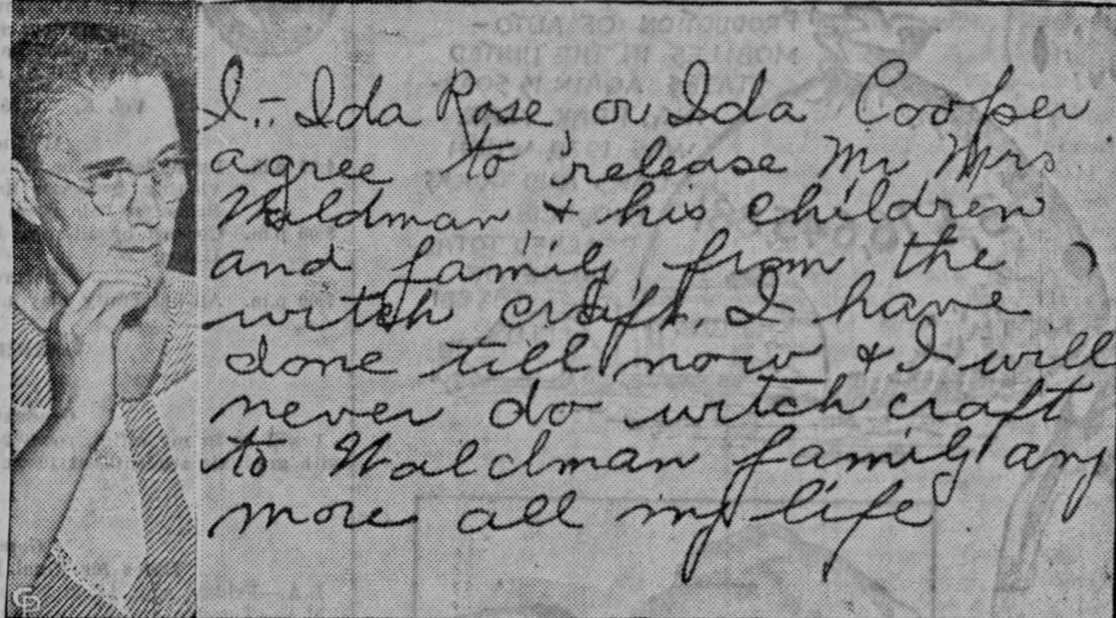

Mr. and Mrs. Enzo Fiermonte

IS IT A SECOND HONEYMOON?—Following a stormy marital experience in Europe, when a previous wife in Italy demanded a settlement, Enzo Fiermonte, ex-pugilist, and his wealthy bride, the former Mrs. Madeleine Force Astor Dick, return to New York. The mother of John Jacob Astor, III, and her youthful husband posed for photographs with reluctance.

FRENCH MORTARS NEW IN ETHIOPIA—Exclusive spot picture from Ethiopia (Abyssinia) shows a closeup of an Ethiopian soldier manning a trench mortar. The trench mortar is new to the army of Selassie but soldiers are rapidly learning how to use it.

Mrs. Waldman

Note Mrs. Waldman requested "witch" to sign.

HAPPY AS BULLET KILLS WOMAN FEARED AS WITCH—Asserting she was glad she "broke the witch's spell" under which she said she and her husband had been "held for years," Mrs. Matilda Waldman was held on a first degree murder charge by Cleveland police after the slaying of Mrs. Ida Cooper. A note that Mrs. Waldman asked Mrs. Cooper, proprietor of a neighborhood grocery, to sign just before the shooting, is pictured, with Mrs. Waldman, above. Mrs. Waldman told police the witchcraft often took the form of fireballs which she and her husband nailed to the walls, keeping a hammer handy for the purpose. Police planned to have mentality of both Mr. and Mrs. Waldman tested. He also was held under a murder charge.

Mandeville Zenge

CONFRONTS ZENGE—With the body of her slain husband, Dr. Walter J. Bauer, buried in Cleveland, Mrs. Louise Schaffer Bauer, his 23-year-old bride of a few weeks went to Chicago to confront former sweetheart, Mandeville Zenge, above, suspected of conducting the emasculation operation from which Dr. Bauer died.

July 31, 1935
Dear Dad
I left home because I was so miserably unhappy over losing Louise that I couldn't get along with anyone and was making everyone unhappy at home. I thought maybe I came up better.
Tell Cloyd & Celestia godbye for me. I am going to take a cab to the lake and jump in. I will leave this in my coat in the cab and the police or someone will send it to you.
Love Dad
Mandeville

Note and clothes of Zenge

FIND NOTE, THEN FIND ZENGE—Though a note found near Lake Michigan with the garments of a man believed to be those of Mandeville Zenge expressed suicidal intent, Chicago police did not give up the search, but continued till they arrested the mutilator-slayer of Dr. Walter J. Bauer of Cleveland. In the meantime the body of Dr. Bauer was taken to Cleveland, home of his parents, accompanied by Mrs. Louise Schaffer Bauer, bride of a few weeks. Note is shown above, with clothes being examined by John Gianni, taxicab driver, who took a man identified as Zenge to Navy pier in Chicago.

SCHRADER DEFENDS IOWA LAURELS—Gus Schrader, 1934 national dirt track racing champion, is one of the first entries for the enlarged 3-day auto race meet at the Iowa State fair in Des Moines, Aug. 23, 24, and 30. This year, however, he will have upwards of 40 of the greatest drivers in the country to challenge his title in the National Circuit races at the fair. Speed fans are promised some of the hottest racing they have witnessed in many years.

Demeter Chesok and bride.

WIFE NO. 3 SIGNS UNIQUE PLEDGE—Demeter Chesok was not well versed in American customs the first two times he was married, but before he took wife No. 3, shown with him above, he had her sign an agreement wherein she promised she would ask for neither money nor property if she ever sued him for divorce. The agreement was filed at Pueblo, Colo., when the couple obtained a marriage license. Chesok explained a former wife had obtained all of his property when she divorced him.

Jo Andrews

RHUMBA QUEEN—Jo Andrews of Boston has been voted by the English club of Mexico City, as the best American rhumba dancer. She began studying the rhumba last December and since has out-danced several of Mexico's best rhumba dancers at social affairs.

CHECK MORE UTILITY TELEGRAMS—District Attorney Mortimer E. Graham of Erie, Pa., shown holding a city directory, is checking on names appearing as signatures on telegrams sent to Congressman Charles Crosby of Meadville, Pa., urging him to vote against the Roosevelt administration's utilities bill. Standing beside Graham is Councilman Jack Dundon, aiding in the investigation.

Miss Lone Morf

SAINTLY CHAPEAU—Unusual charm of the new "halo" hat is shown in this model worn by Lone Morf during Los Angeles Market week. Notice the "horseshoe ringlets" coiffure.

"BOOTS, BOOTS, BOOTS!" MEANINGLESS IN ETHIOPIA—Kipling's famous poem, "Boots," holds no interest for the soldiers of Ethiopia who march barefooted. The shock troops, expertly trained, are shown marching through Harrar, one of the mustering cities, preparing for the threatened invasion of Italian troops.
