

Flindersia brayleyana (Queensland Maple)

A large evergreen, fast growing tree with a spreading crown of attractive, glossy, dark green leathery foliage. Large clusters of sweetly scented, small white flowers appear in early summer followed by interesting woody seed pod. Fast growing. [More closely related to orange trees than to maple trees].

Type: Tree to 15+m
Aspect: Full Sun
Soil: Moist/Well-Drained
Habitat: Wet Sclerophyll

Special features:

- Attracts –
 - Bees
 - Birds
- Moderate Frost Tolerant
- Shade Tree
- Timber Tree