TROUBLESHOOTING

Problem: The Missile Launcher isn't connecting to my computer.

Solution: Make sure you install the Missile Launcher's software BEFORE you connect the Missile Launcher to your computer.

Problem: The Missile Launcher will not connect, or takes a long time to connect, to my computer.

Solution: Try a different USB Port. Try using a USB port directly on your computer or laptop (not using a hub or other external device).

Problem: When the webcam is connected, I see an animated landscape, and not what the camera is facing.

Solution: Reset the Missile Launcher by shutting down the program, unplugging the USB jack and re-connecting.

Problem: The darts do not launch off the launch tubes at all, or, if they do, they do not go very far.

Solution: Make sure you are pushing the dart all the way on the launch tube as far as it will go. The dart must make a seal in order to be pushed off the launch tube.
