Mason General Waits Medicare

Mason General hospital may be experiencing the calm before the storm. For the past year the hospital has been carrying a capacity patient load and just this month it began to ease up a little.

Just in time according to hospital officials as they are expecting an increased patient population with the inception of Medicare July 1.

"We are as ready as any hospital to handle the Medicare patients," Robert Recher, hospital administrator, said. "It is difficult to estimate how many patients will qualify for medical services at this hospital because of our doctor shortage."

Under Medicare before a patient is covered by the medical insurance he or she must be admitted by a physician. "There are presently 8 doctors in the Mason area, ideally we should have 12," Recher explained. "The hospital will attempt to care for all Medicare patients, but if doctors are not available to admit the patients, they will have to be sent elsewhere."

"There is bound to be an increase of patients, but I do not think it will be too extreme until our doctor shortage is eased somewhat."

According to the director, Medicare will not cause any increase in the office staff even though the admissions process and bookkeeping procedures will be a little more complex. "Right now all I see a need for is an adding machine and another typewriter," he said.

One is the interpretation of the law itself. "The law was written in such a way that only a lawyer can figure out the proper billing and reimbursement procedures," Recher said. "No one fully understands the law and there are bound to be lots of problems—even the Social Security administration hasn't defined all the various areas covered by the new law."

In preparation for Medicare the entire office staff at Mason General hospital has attended at least 8 hours of seminar workshops with the director attending 16 hours of classes.

"We expect some people to come into the hospital and say, 'I'm covered by Medicare, put me to bed,'" the administrator said. "These people and many others not so assuming have a big surprise awaiting them when they realize Medicare does not cover all hospital expenses, in fact I don't even consider it a good insurance policy."

Under the law a committee of doctors and the hospital administrator review the Medicare admissions deciding on necessity. If the patient is not approved, he must pay the hospital costs and leave. A patient's stay is reviewed after 14 days, 21 days, 30 days and again in 30 days following admission to insure necessity.

Proposed Mason Teachers' Contracts To Cost School District $65,000 More

Extra Curricular Jobs To Be Paid on Percentage

A proposed contract between the Mason school district and the teachers was approved by the board of education this past week and is now in the hands of the Mason Education association lawyers. Teachers are expected to vote on the proposed contract September 1.

Under the proposed contract a person with no experience would receive $5,300 with a bachelor's degree, $5,500 with a master's degree and $4,600 for a non-degree teacher. If a teacher possesses 11 years of teaching experience and has a master's degree, his or her salary would be $8,025. Under the contract a person applying for a teacher's position may be given a maximum of 5 years credit for experience outside the Mason school system. In the past those teachers who were in charge of extra curricular activities, such as an athletic coach, were paid a set amount. This is not the case under the proposed contract which states a teacher will be paid on a percentage basis according to his salary. Head varsity football and basketball coaches, athletic directors and special education teachers will be paid on a percentage basis according to their salary. (See Contract Page A-2)

Court Halts Merger

A restraining order halting the merger of the White Dog school (Wheatfield District No. 6) with the Williamston school district was issued last Friday by Judge Marvin Salmon in Ingham circuit court.

The restraining order was issued pending a hearing on alleged election irregularities. It halts transfer of the White Dog finances, records and property to the Williamston district pending a hearing on an order to show cause scheduled for next Friday, July 1.

The annexation was approved last Monday, June 20, by a vote of 154 to 33.

Attorneys for the White Dog board of education asked the restraining order, alleging certain errors in the ballot.

The Ingham Intermediate board of education has been named as defendant in the action. It is represented by the F.M. Thrun law firm of Lansing and the state attorney general's office is expected to intervene in behalf of the defendants, Alton J. Stroud, superintendent of the Ingham Intermediate district, said.

Rholand F. Reed, Lansing attorney, is representing the White Dog board. He said he will claim 2 errors in the election procedure.

His first allegation is that absentee ballots were available only at the Ingham Intermediate board of education offices in Mason and not at Williamston White Dog.

He also cited another election law which states that paper ballots may not be used in any election precinct having

Clouds Show Silver Lining For Richeys

The Fred Richey family at 819 N. Phillips road knows now that every cloud has a silver lining.

The 9-year-old daughter, Ruth, who was seriously injured when struck by a truck near her home last April 15, is now on the road to recovery.

For 10 long weeks she has been fighting a battle for her life at Edward W. Sparrow hospital in Lansing, but now has progressed to the point that she expects to be discharged in 2 or 3 weeks, her father said Monday.

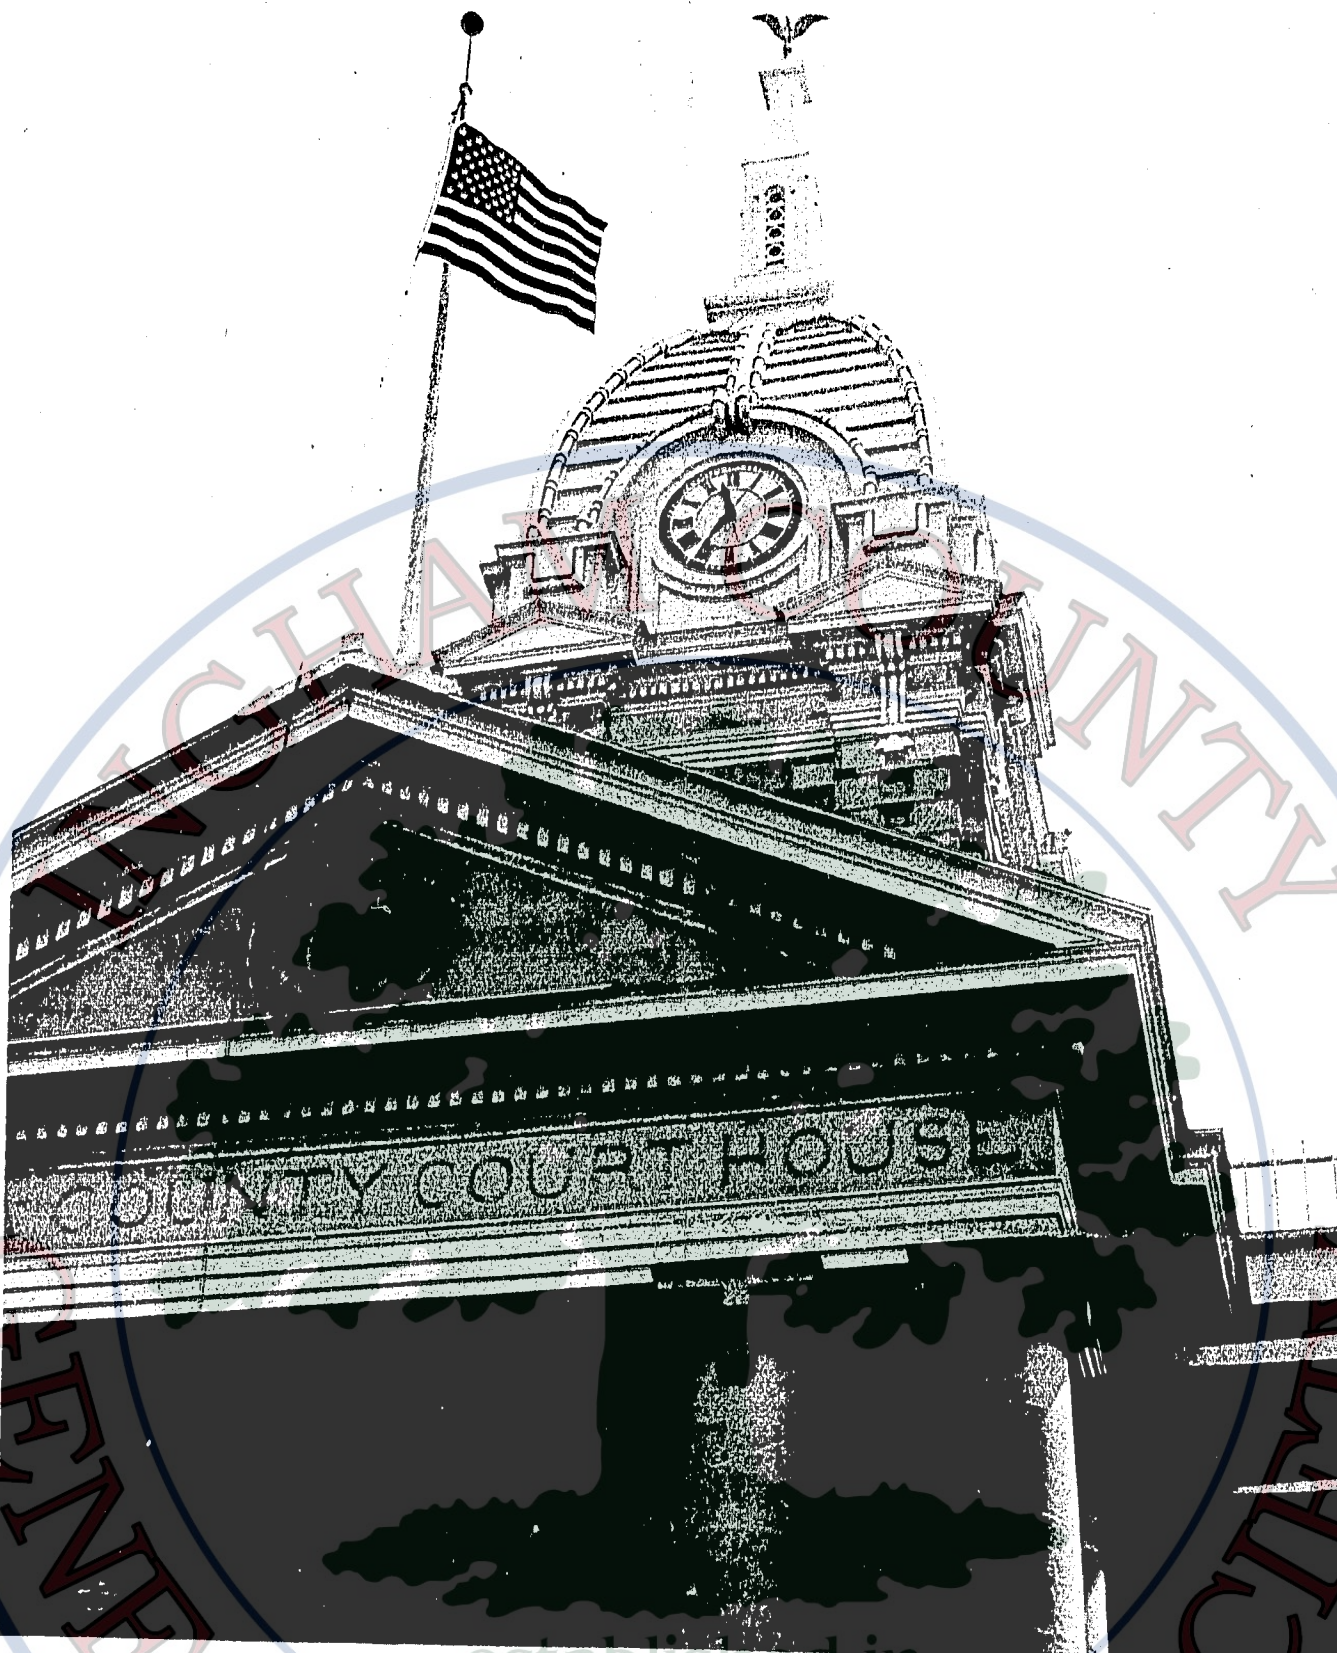

Ruth was hit as she crossed a road in front of the Richey home. She was taken first to Mason General hospital and then transferred to Sparrow with a broken left leg, broken ribs on her left side and head injuries. The head injuries were the most serious.

Ruth now is in a rehabilitation ward of the hospital and is undergoing speech, occupational and physical therapy treatments.

Her condition is good, her father says, and there will be no permanent injuries.

"Ruth was home for a few hours Sunday and it will just be a matter of a few weeks before she will be discharged from the hospital," he said. "We hope that she will be able to resume her school work next fall."

Richey said he wanted to express his thanks to the many friends and acquaintances for their help and cooperation extended to his family during its period of trouble.

One of the most scenic sights in Mason is the County Court House. Old Glory flies there daily to remind everyone of his American heritage, especially on July 4th.

Lt. Col. Robert Shoemaker Tells of Viet Nam Conflict

There is little hope for Viet Nam ever establishing a stable centralized government, according to Lt. Col. Robert Shoemaker, son of Mrs. U.

B. Shoemaker, 511 W. Ash street, Mason. Shoemaker just returned from Viet Nam where he served as commanding officer of the 1st Battalion, 12th Cavalry of the 1st Cavalry Division (Air Mobile).

"It would be very difficult for Viet Nam to maintain a stable government for several reasons, one being the fact so many people of the country have no concept of what a centralized government is," he said.

In the Asian country most of the people are governed by a village unit, which is smart and very localized.

Shoemaker, who is visiting his mother before entering the Army War college, Pennsylvania, had approximately 900 men under his command and 90 helicopters. It was their job to make reconnaissance runs, fly rescue missions and check out villages thought to have Viet Cong forces present.

"The morale of the American troops in Viet Nam is absolutely magnificent," Shoemaker said. "Our troops are doing the finest possible job under some pretty rugged conditions, in fact, their performance compared with World War II and Korea is amazing."

Meningitis Hits Mason Baby

Little James Pelton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pelton of Mason is in Sparrow hospital this week confined with a case of spinal meningitis.

The youngster was one year old Tuesday. The disease was detected Friday. Wednesday morning his condition was listed as "fair."

Changes Due In Schools On Friday

Friday will mark the changing of the guard in Mason public schools.

Robert Watts will take over as superintendent of schools and Jerry Spink will assume a newly created position of assistant superintendent.

M. Chandler Nauts will step down as superintendent to take over the post of principal of the senior high school at Holt. He will take his duties there July 15.

Watts comes to Mason from the schools of Southfield. Spink has been principal of the Farmington school.

Nauts has been superintendent of Mason schools for the past 2 years. Prior to that he was principal of the Mason high school for 2 years.

Watts and his family which consists of his wife, Mary Ann, 2 daughters, Sharon, who will enter Michigan State university in the fall, Barbara, who will attend Mason junior high school in the fall, and James, who will be in the 2nd grade.

The family has purchased a home at 104 E. Oak street and is now in the process of getting settled. For the past 14 years the family has made their home in Berkley, Michigan, a Detroit suburb.

Spink comes to Mason after several years with the Farmington schools. He and his family will make their home in a house they have purchased on E. Sycamore street.

HAPPY HOMECOMING--Lt. Col. Robert Shoemaker and his wife "Tuke" spent several days visiting with his mother Mrs. U.B. Shoemaker of Mason this past week. Shoemaker recently returned from Viet Nam where he was in command of the 1st Cavalry Division, (Air Mobile) the only military unit of its kind in the world.

Radio Thief Nabbed

A Negro man about 25 years of age walked into Ware's drug store about 12:45 p.m. Wednesday, picked up a radio and walked out.

Ed Ware rushed out the door and caught the man just as he reached the curb in front of the store. Then Ware called to a check out girl in the store to "get that gun".

The bluff worked and the man made no effort to get away.

Ware took the radio away from the man, hailed a motorist, Don Rector, and asked him to call police.

Within 5 minutes Chief Tim Stelz arrived and the man was taken to the Ingham county jail.

In the interval the mandrew a jack knife from his pocket, opened it and hurled it at Ware, the knife struck Ware but caused no injury, Stelz said.

Stelz said he could not reveal the name of the man, pending the issuance of a warrant. The chief said he planned to ask the prosecutor's office for 2 warrants--one for larceny from a building and one for assault with a deadly weapon.

Stelz left immediately for Lansing to seek the warrants.

3-Year-Old Mason Girl Runs into Side of Auto

A little 3-year-old Mason girl narrowly escaped death Monday morning when she ran into the side of an automobile on East Ash street.

Witnesses told Mason police that Barbara Lockwood, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lockwood, 324 E. Ash Street, dashed from the south side of Ash street across the road and then reversed direction.

actions colliding with the car driven by Mrs. LaVonda M. Foster of Walker road. The young girl was struck with the right front fender of the Foster car and sent tumbling.

She was taken to Mason General hospital by the patrol for abrasions and released. Mrs. Foster was not ticketed in connection with the accident.

M. Chandler Nauts, superintendent of schools, indicated that in the past extra curricular jobs cost the school district about $7,500 and that the new increases would add approximately $3,000 to this total.

Other provisions included in the contract are the board will hire personnel to supervise noon hours at the elementary school playgrounds at an estimated cost of $4,000.

★ Viet Nam

"Each man is carrying his own load of responsibilities plus a little more."

The officer had many impressions of the country one of which was its overwhelming potential if it would once was given the chance to develop.

Stationed in the central highlands of the country, Shoemaker felt the country would make a wonderful resort area. "The country is beautiful with any number of water falls, beaches stretching for 30 miles and plentiful game for hunting in the hills," he said.

When asked if the bombing of North Viet Nam was serving any purpose, he replied it did help the South Vietnamese cause, but was not halting all the infiltration by the Communist troops from the North.

The commander indicated he did not expect to see any drastic changes in the war conditions within the next 6 months and that there was no basis for making an estimate on how long the conflict would continue.

Lt. Col. Shoemaker and his wife "Tuke" make their home wherever he is assigned. He will enter the war college in August to study on a doctoral level. Following his graduation in mid-June of 1967 he will be reassigned, possibly back in Viet Nam.

Truck, Car Crash, Youth, 18, Dies

STOCKBRIDGE—A Dansville youth was fatally injured when his car and truck collided 5 miles southeast of here Tuesday morning on M-52.

John Thomas Risner, 18, died of his injuries an hour later in an Ann Arbor hospital. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Risner of Dansville.

bridge suffered minor injuries. The truck was destroyed and the cattle escaped into a nearby wood. They were rounded up and re-loaded on a truck owned by John Taylor who drove them to Detroit market. The accident occurred about 7 a.m. Washtenaw sheriff's officers are still investigating the crash. They said the 2 vehicles collided head-on.

What causes accidents? Ask an expert

He sees them every day, in the traffic congestion of large cities, on the quiet streets of small towns and on the open road. He spends most of every day behind the wheels and he knows what the dangers are on our streets and highways. His driving record shows that he is well trained because Mr. "Average Truck Driver" drives hundreds of thousands of miles without a chargeable accident.

Discuss accidents with him. He won't talk about nuts and bolts. He knows that most accidents are the result of poor driving practices.

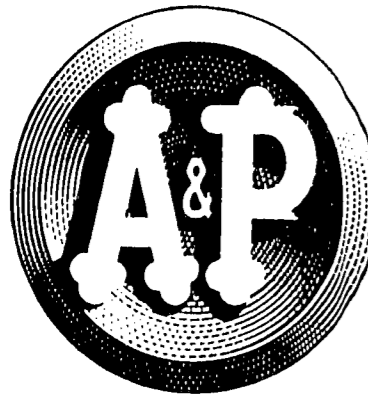

The excellent safety record of professional truck drivers is no accident; it is the result of proper driver training and a continuing campaign to emphasize safe driving techniques. As a result, truck drivers obey the law, are courteous, alert and always drive, aware of the dangers which are present.

If you ask an expert what causes accidents, he'll tell you it's the driver behind the wheel that makes the difference.

Dispurses Late Taxes

This week the townships, cities and villages of Ingham county will have some change to jingle in their pockets. Harry Spenny, Ingham county treasurer, distributed $128,687 in delinquent taxes collected in April to these government units.

The total tax collected was $168,792 with $31,056 going to the county general fund, $128,687 to the Townships and cities' fund, $2,610 for the County Debt Retirement fund, $3,182 to the Special education fund and $1,696 to the community college fund.

more than 800 registered voters. He claimed that paper ballots were used in Williamston which has more than 800 voters.

Before the election the White Dog board filed a suit challenging the constitutionality of the state law under which the election was conducted. The board had asked for an injunction to stop the election but failed to obtain it.

The restraining order halts transfer of the White Dog finances, records and property to the Williamston district pending a hearing on an order to show cause scheduled for next Friday, July 1.

In his order, Judge Salmon said that in view of the constitution challenge and the allegation of election errors, transfer of White Dog's records and assets to the Williamston district before the questions are settled would cause harm to the White Dog school district.

White Dog is a small one room school at Noble and Zimmer roads. It is the only non-high school district in Ingham County.

Bertha Lee Patton was injured and taken to Mason General hospital where she was treated and released. Ellege was not hurt.

Sheriff To Try New Traffic Control on 4th

Sheriff Kenneth L. Preadmore and his deputies are trying something new over the July 4th holiday weekend. Previously emphasis had been placed on safe driving for those on long holiday treks, this weekend deputies will be watching out for those close to home.

"Statistics from Memorial weekend show that most fatalities occur within 25 miles of the victims' homes," Preadmore said. "Therefore, we are going to turn our attention closer to home on our friends and neighbors." The sheriff also warns that traffic on county streets and highways over the fourth of July weekend may be heavier than ever and extreme caution must be exercised when driving to the grocery store one block away or to a resort area 300 miles away.

TO SPEAK-Mrs. Elly Peterson of Charlotte, chairman of the Republican State central committee, will talk to Mason area Republicans Friday night, July 8, at 8:30 at the chapel room at the Ingham County Jail. Mrs. Peterson is the first woman to be selected a state chairman in the history of the Republican party. The Mason Area Republican club is a newly-organized club gearing up for the 1968 elections.

MEMO FROM A CAR DEALER

THE CAR BUYER'S PROBLEMS

It was recently estimated the average motorist spends $26 per week on his car. This includes the financed purchase, annual depreciation, insurance, license, and of course, oil and gas.

The fact this represents more money than some families spend on their homes indicates how important the automobile has become to all of us. Its importance has made the car industry the largest single business in the country by far.

It is possible for the average motorist to get more value out of his motoring dollar than he now does? We think so. So we're planning to devote this space each week to some plain talk about the automobile business.

How can a Mason motorist deal most wisely who is trading in his old car on a new one? Or make the even more difficult decision of what used car to buy? And how can he get the most performance satisfaction out of the car he now has?

This industry is changing rapidly, even for our changing world. Being on the inside looking out we'd like to share some of our knowledge of this business with you. We're sure a lot of light can be shed on a problem by discussing it impartially.

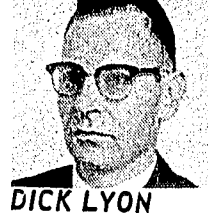

Marketing studies show 65 percent of buyers are looking for useful information before buying their car. We hope you'll find at least some of what we have to say fills this need as well as proving interesting. See you next Wednesday.

Mason Antique Sale Brings Out Collectors

Nothing draws a crowd like an antique sale. Mrs. H. M. Silsby of Edgar road, Mason, recently purchased the former home of Mrs. Minnie Kelly Collar at 117 Sycamore street complete with all the furnishings, which were offered for sale Thursday - Saturday.

Mrs. Silsby plans to remodel the interior of the home and needed to clear out the house, she, therefore, decided to hold a sale.

Antique dealers from Detroit, Midland, Saginaw, Owosso and Lansing area attended the sale, but the largest number of people came from Mason.

All in all Mrs. Silsby estimated that over 400 came to the sale and carried off hundreds of articles from pots and pans to feather tick mattresses. Most of the articles sold were things from a different era.

Probably the most unique thing sold was a wood-burning kitchen stove, which Mrs. Collar used up until her death last November. A barn at the back of the property was also full of miscellaneous things including a band saw which Mrs. Collar used to cut wood for the stove.

The stove itself was estimated to be 86 years old and was purchased by one of the antique dealers to be used in a display.

It was as if Mrs. Collar lived in the past, as well as, in the present. In the kitchen with her wood stove was an apartment size gas stove. Although there was no plumbing facilities in the house, the city water and sewer facilities are in place and only need connecting. Mrs. Collar preferred to pump her water by hand with a kitchen pump connected to a cistern.

The old fashioned feather mattresses used as blankets or mattresses covered 2 of the antique beds in the un-stairs. Again there is a combination of the new and old, for the feather mattresses were placed on top of the newer type mattresses that everyone uses today.

Rocking chairs collected over 3 generations were real popular items at the sale. Those buying had over 20 chairs to select from, one chair was 200 years old.

Mrs. Collar had only a distant cousin in Jackson and a relative from Dansville surviving her. Mrs. Silsby had been her friend for 30 years and when the estate was up for bids, Mrs. Silsby decided to submit an offer.

Although hordes of people attended the sale, some furnishings, dishes and miscellaneous items were not sold. These items are offered for sale in the Ingham County News classified section this week.

DISHES GALORE--Admiring the dishes, many of which were collectors' items, are Mrs. Coe F. Emens and Mrs. Katherine Swinehart of Mason.

Pre-registration Starts For M.S.U. College Week

Michigan homemakers are hearing and reading much about College Week for Women this month. The reason? Because it's the time now for them to make their plans to attend this annual four-day event, July 26 through 29, on Michigan State university campus.

Complete programs and full information are available now on request at any County Cooperative Extension office. Ask for the home economist's desk. Here in Ingham county call or write the County extension office, 127 E. Maple st., Mason, telephone 677-9411, extension 25.

College Week for Women is the time when any Michigan homemaker may join the hundreds of her sister homemakers for an inspirational, educational and recreational change of pace. There's learning, but there are no tests to take, no grades to earn, no requirements of previous training to be met.

Any woman who registers for the entire conference may choose 3 classes to attend for 3 days -- and there are 28 different and widely varied subjects for her selection.

For inspiration there are morning devotions each day if she wishes to share them, there's music to sing or listen to, there's the beauty of the campus to enjoy, and always the stimulating contact with old friends and new ones whose interests are like her own.

For recreation there are bus tours of the campus, a tour of the capitol building, a performance at the planetarium, or the ice arena, or swimming in the big outdoor pool. Then, too, it's recreation for most homemakers to have someone else plan and prepare her meals for several days and to have no dishes to wash.

Under the heading of recreation, also (but not on the program) are those college-type dormitory activities that seem to crop up in Shaw Hall where the full-time conferees live while at Michigan State.

It costs $29 for the full four-day event, including room, meals and registration fee. It costs $4.75 for the registration fee alone, and anyone who wants to drive each day may attend full time but live at home for this amount plus any meals she wants to buy.

Pre-registration for the classes of your choice is going on now and is due July 20. Pre-registrants have preference as classes fill -- the early ones most likely to get into their first choice.

Dos and Don'ts

Canned food is easily carried to a picnic. But DON'T make the mistake of heating unopened cans, because they may explode.

Trim Sprangly

Trim lettuce and cabbage sprangly. It's the dark outer leaves that are rich in iron, calcium, and vitamin A.

Between The BOOK ENDS

At sometime or other in our life, we experience the loss of a loved one, and UP THE GOLDEN STAIR, written by Elizabeth Yates, has been written with the idea of providing comfort to those who need to be reassured in this moment of bereavement.

THE STROVE VENTURER, by Hammond Innes, is a good adventure story about a family of ship owners and the son of another owner whose line it had absorbed. BRIGHTLY OF THE GRAND CANYON, by Marguerite Henry and illustrated by Wesley Dennis, is a book written for juniors, and is well illustrated with a picture on almost every page. It is a story of one little burro who lives in the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

When temperatures soar past 90 degrees, the experts say that is the time to think cool thoughts. Being a believer in the "think positive" theory, I tried all last week to think cool while the News air conditioner was on the fritz.

Some of the cool thoughts included putting my feet in a kiddies' swimming pool, stockings and all, and floating on a raft in the middle of cold, clear Higgins Lake. As the hot days continued and my thoughts began to waiver, I resorted to thinking about sitting in front of an 8-inch fan.

My nomination for hero of the week, walked through the door Friday: the repair man. One simple adjustment and 15 minutes later the entire office staff was singing his praises -- guess who sang the loudest?

During one of the hottest days a special photographic assignment came up in Dansville. Jeff and Randy Ruest, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Ruest, have some unusual pets: baby pheasants and a black crow.

Everyone ought to try getting 4 baby birds, an adopted chicken for their mother and a young boy to pose for a picture. While trying to set the picture up Mama chicken and the crow had a beak battle. (the crow lost)

This created somewhat of a problem as the crow fled to the top of a walnut tree and refused to come down. Nothing would do, but the youngsters had to get a ladder and climb the tree.

Some time later following express flights to the barn, back to the tree and finally to the house, the nervous crow was coaxed to pose for the camera. Hot weather and flighty birds do terrible things to my disposition, but Randy and Jeff displayed the patience of Job.

Watch out homemakers your territory has been invaded by none other than a man -- Dick Brown. A week ago he ordered 2 cases of home-grown strawberries, not thinking that the little woman was spending her days in Northern Michigan.

Having no choice in the matter, but to get busy while the berries were still good, Dick hulled one case which made it to the family freezer. Now the second case was another story.

Picture this! It's the wee hours of the morning, strawberry hulls spilling over the kitchen sink, a cookbook lying open on the counter and the head of the household frantically pouring stringy red stuff into any size and shape container available.

From all reports, the end product is great. The jam jelled, tastes out of this world and has a beautiful color. No one at the Ingham County News has had a sample yet, but Thursday the girls are bringing bread, butter and a toaster.

Portrait of a Holiday

Most of Memorial Weekend Drivers in Fatal Accidents Were Under 25 years of Age

First look at an on-the-spot study of the 35 drivers involved in 25 fatal accidents that killed 40 persons on Memorial weekend shows that most of the drivers were:

1. Under 25 years old.
2. Regular traffic law violators.
3. Driving on streets or roads familiar to them.
4. Not on holiday trips over 25 miles from home.

Three injured have died since the survey was made.

These facts emerge from preliminary examination of an analysis by Automobile Club of Michigan, supervised by retired State Police Sergeant Mike Sibal.

The 35 drivers had an average of 6.1 moving violations and 10 definitely had been drinking, while 17 others were checked as uncertain, bypassing category "not known if drinking." Auto Club analysts feel drinking was the proximate cause of most deaths, along with driver error.

Average age of the violators was 23 years. Over half of those killed were involved in head-on collisions, with 28 percent single-car accidents.

No obvious mechanical defects were revealed in examination of cars involved, excepting one bald tire. It was on a car that traveled 115 miles per hour in a police chase before hurtling 100 feet through the air.

"It is doubtful if perfect tires would have helped," Sibal said.

"We will have a complete breakdown of this study early next week with recommendations on how July 4 weekend motorists can avoid these situations," Auto Club general manager Fred N. Rehm said.

"Most of us have had the impression that the motorist who drives a long distance from home on a holiday is the one in most danger," Rehm said.

"This was not so on Memorial weekend. Almost 2,750,000 motorists took trips without serious mishaps, while only 6, or 15 percent, of the 40 killed were as much as 25 miles from home on the holiday. It is not the holiday motorist, but the stay-at-home who caused most of the deaths," Rehm said.

Rehm welcomed Michigan's new traffic safety group TSM (Traffic Safety for Michigan) and the $150,000 a year it will spend.

"We figure that Michigan is now devoting more resources than any state to research and prevention of traffic deaths. Auto Club's $600,000 safety effort combined with groups like the Detroit Traffic Safety Association, bring traffic safety expenditures in Michigan close to a million dollars a year," Rehm said.

All Grade A Milk After Next Friday

Michigan's bottled milk all became "Grade A" on July 1, and simultaneously became subject to the nation's most advanced milk sanitation procedures.

Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan department of agriculture credited the foresight of the 1965 Michigan legislature for its prompt action to adopt the 1965 edition of the U.S. Public Health service Grade A pasteurized milk ordinance—the first such action by any state.

Under the state's new milk law, inspectors of the Dairy Division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture have the responsibility for insuring that, for the first time in Michigan history, all bottled milk is "Grade A." Its entire production, from pasture to delivery truck, is subject to scientific inspection of the department's staff of specialists.

While Michigan became first to adopt the USPHS 1965 Grade A Milk Ordinance through specific legislative action, 37 other states have adopted earlier versions of the code. Nearly two-thirds of the entire United States population now enjoy a milk supply insured wholesome through this model milk measure.

The new law also provides milk processors with the opportunity to develop new dairy products designed to specific consumer tastes, Director Ball said.

MMM--GOOD -- Michigan milk drinkers, who smack their lips over the cool white beverage to the tune of more than one billion quarts a year, now enjoy the most wholesome milk in history. Under their new milk law, which takes effect July 1, all bottled milk will be "Grade A." The law is administered by the Dairy Division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. The entire history of milk, from pasture to delivery truck, is under rigid scientific control of department dairy inspectors. Previously, "Grade A" was available only through certain dairies who voluntarily met the standards.

New Wheat Allotment Seen for 1967 Crop

A new farm wheat allotment may be established for the 1967 crop wheat for farms that did not have a 1966 allotment and meet eligibility requirements, Ludell Cheney of the Ingham County ASC committee announced this week.

A 1967 wheat allotment will automatically be established for all farms that had a wheat allotment established for 1966.

To be eligible for a new farm allotment, the operator must expect to receive 50 percent or more of his income from the production of agricultural commodities on the farm; neither the owner or the operator may have an interest in any other farm which has a 1967 wheat allotment; and the person making application must have had at least two years experience in the last five years on producing wheat.

Application for a new farm allotment must be filed in the county ASCS office, 155 W. Maple St., Mason, Michigan on or before June 30, 1966. Any interested producer who can meet these requirements should contact the county office before the final date for filing an application.

Poultry Graded, Inspected For Convenience, Safety

Housewives sometimes are confused by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's round inspection mark and shield-shaped grade mark that appear on officially inspected and graded poultry. They ask, "What is the difference between the two marks? What do they stand for?"

The inspection mark is a symbol of safety, and the shield-shaped mark denotes quality, say marketing specialists at Michigan State university.

The Consumer and Marketing Service of the USDA is responsible for inspecting all poultry passing through interstate and foreign commerce. The agency also conducts a voluntary grading service for processors and handlers on a fee-for-service basis. The agency applies the marks to poultry.

MSU marketing specialists say that the round inspection mark means that poultry—chickens, turkeys, geese, ducks or guineas—was examined by a Federal inspector to determine that it is wholesome. The symbol also means that it was processed in a plant meeting strict requirements of USDA for cleanliness, that it is not adulterated, and that it is truthfully labeled.

The shield-shaped grade mark shows that poultry has been certified by official graders under supervision of USDA. Poultry cannot be graded until it has been first inspected for wholesomeness.

U.S. grades for poultry are A, B and C. They are based on meatiness of a bird and freedom from defects. Poultry marked "USDA Grade A" is the highest table quality.

It's a Small World

Mr. and Mrs. York Heystek of Dearborn made a special trip to Mason last week to buy some Svend's home-smoked ham and bacon at Densmore's IGA Foodliner. A checker, Mrs. Sharon Showers, asked the couple where they had heard about the meat. Their reply was a shocker -- they had heard about it in Honolulu, Hawaii. The Heysteks had been guests of an Hawaiian couple whose daughter was a student at Michigan State university. The hostess apologized for her meat, saying that meat on the mainland was much better. Her daughter, she said, had brought her some "delicious ham and bacon" on a recent trip. The Heysteks back-tracked on the information and were directed by the MSU couple to Densmore's.

Ford Asks Support For Law Enforcement

"We can hardly be said to be living in a Great Society if we're afraid to walk down the streets of a town at night."

These are the words of Michigan Congressman Gerald R. Ford as he issued a call for greater public support of law enforcement agencies.

"It is long past time for Americans to awaken to the WHY of the crime wave that has swept across this nation and touched all our lives with fear," said Ford.

"The why of it goes into every home in the country," Mr. Ford continued, "It traces to a reluctance to become involved, concern only with our own lives and immediate family and false economy in paying the unnecessary expenses of local government."

Ford went on to say, "I believe that every community in America is getting just about the kind of law enforcement it deserves . . . the kind it is willing to pay for."

He said that every citizen should ask himself whether or not he is doing everything he can to help the police do their job.

"What I am saying," said Ford, "is that if a community is to reduce crime, it must want to do so. It must become involved, not just stand by and silently watch while criminals

Beef Dinner Is Planned

WILLIAMSTON -- Plans were made at a meeting of St. Mary's altar society of Williamston for the annual beef dinner scheduled for August 7. Hours of serving will be from 12 noon to 4 p.m. Based on previous years' records, 1,500 are expected to attend. This is a parish wide affair.

The altar society hosted a senior members honorary tea Thursday afternoon in the church hall. All members of the altar society who are no longer able to be active in the everyday affairs were invited. Refreshments were served following a program and games.

Farm Views And News

Because of the cold, wet spring, more farmers than usual will be sidedressing nitrogen this year. And that's probably just as well.

Michigan State university research conducted over 7 years, showed that 40 or 80 pounds of sidedressed nitrogen produced 5 to 20 percent more corn than the same rate of nitrogen applied at planting time.

Furthermore, in 5 years out of 7 on the sandy loam soil in East Lansing, there was less than 5 percent reduction in corn yield when a 40-pound sidedressing of nitrogen was substituted for 80 pounds banded at planting time.

"Except for an essential 'starter application,' the efficiency of nitrogen fertilizer is increased by delaying its application until near the time of peak demand by the crop."

"This reduces the time during which the nitrogen is subject to loss by leaching or denitrification. This can happen when wet weather occurs while the young crop is establishing itself and not using nutrients in large quantities. (Corn consumes most of its nitrogen at the silking and tasseling period.)"

"Thus, the farmer who has had no problems with nitrogen deficiency with the rates of nitrogen he has been plowing down can probably decrease these rates by 10 to 20 percent with sidedressing."

To avoid injury by injection or sidedressing equipment, sidedressing should be made before crop roots begin to fill the soil between the rows. This occurs when the corn reaches a height of about 18 inches.

With crops like potatoes or beans, the soil fills with roots somewhat before the tops fill the rows. Careful inspection, says the MSU soil scientist, will reveal the limits of the very fine feeder roots which should not be damaged.

In the county corn plots last year on the Diehlfelds

Farm, 100 pounds of actual nitrogen increased the yield of corn 25 bushels per acre. This would mean that corn at a $1 per bushel, approximately $10 worth of nitrogen would provide $25 worth of extra corn. Few investments can be made on a farm that will return 250 percent interest on investment.

New Law to Increase County Tax Returns

Senator S. Don Potter (R-Lansing) announced today that Ingham county will receive approximately $68,187.60 annually under terms of a bill signed into law last week by Governor Romney.

Beginning on January 1, 1968, proceeds from the transfer tax on real estate transactions in Ingham county will be directed to the general fund of the county rather than to the federal government.

Currently, a federal transfer stamp tax in the amount of $1.10 per thousand dollars is required on real estate transfers. The federal excise tax expires January 1, 1968 and will be replaced by the state law which directs the money to the counties.

"Originally the Democratic legislature wanted to divide this money between the state and the county. Fortunately we prevailed in our efforts to direct the total amount to the county so that we could continue our efforts to strengthen local government by giving cities and counties the tools to do the job," Senator Potter said.

Season Starting At Ledges Theater

The Ledges Playhouse in Grand Ledge began its 10th anniversary season Tuesday with a production of "A Thousand Clowns." Opening week interest was so high an extra holiday performance of "See How They Run" has been scheduled.

The new management has made several changes in the old theater. The lobby has been redecorated and this week features a display of the designs and blueprints which resulted in the unique thrust stage.

The new stage creates an intimate relationship between performers and audiences. The first audiences were highly enthusiastic about it.

The second production, "See How They Run," will open Monday July 4 with a special holiday performance beginning at 6:30 p.m. and finishing at 8 p.m. Grand Ledge has scheduled its annual fireworks display at 9:15 p.m.

"See How They Run" is a fast paced romp through an English country vicarage. Kate Wenger as Penelope Toop, the Vicar's slightly unconventional wife, and Jay Davis as Clive, an old friend from her acting days, unintentionally create most of the confusion.

The ridiculous situation is further complicated by the pompous village spinster, Miss Skillon, portrayed by KEEPING COOL--Ingham county deputy Sgt. Joe Southwell of Mason in his new short-sleeve uniform shirt was about to make quick work of the hot, uncomfortable shirt that deputy Ed Martin of Lansing was wearing with a snip of the shears. Martin and Sheriff Kenneth L. Preadmore halted the shortening process by issuing Martin a set of the new summer-styled shirts. (Besides--winter is coming and Martin might want those long sleeves in 6 months for warmth.)

Sandra Kourey, and the accidents which befell poor Lionel Toop, Penelope's absent-minded husband. Dean Tschetter, a young actor from Nebraska, makes his first appearance on the Ledges stage in this role.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Fat Cats

Brass at Fault

As you seem to be interested in "fat cats", I have found some more for you. In your June 15th issue, you cited examples of "fat cats" in the poverty program. I have found that Gov. George is fattening up a few also.

1. He recently approved a new depreciation schedule on business personal property saving business millions of dollars on local property taxes.

2. Wiped out millions of dollars in negative balances owed by industry to the state's unemployment compensation fund.

3. Backed a revised Constitution that business property taxes in many communities be reduced 50% of valuation, which has forced many of these communities to raise taxes paid by individual home owners.

4. Approved legislation eliminating the property tax on tools, dies, jigs and fixtures.

He claims this tax gift was needed to keep Chrysler and other firms from moving out of state. After this bill was passed, Chrysler announced it was moving to Ohio.

At the same time Romney voted tax reductions for business, he was asking for an income tax that would cost the states average wage earner millions of dollars.

In comparison: General Motors financial report of 1965 - a profit of over 4 billion dollars before taxes. The government's entire poverty program costs a little over 1 billion dollars a year. Last year's corporations after tax earnings rose 20%. Our minimum wage at $1.40, or annual income of $2,912, is below poverty wage of $3,130, and many workers are not even earning this.

In the same line of thought, Michigan's newly appointed Republican Sen. Griffin, has a record of opposing the anti-poverty program, increases in minimum wages, housing loans to veterans, emergency public works, community facility loans and grants, and area redevelopment legislation.

Gov. Romney opposes any involvement in politics by organized labor claiming to be equally opposed to business involvement also, but public records show he has accepted thousands of dollars in contributions from business executives, including oil magnate J. Howard Pew, a leading John Birchler.

I ask you, who are the "fattest cats"?

Florence Dakin Dies at Home

Florence Ann Dakin, 71, died at her home June 25. She had lived at 990 Union street, Dansville, for 24 years. Born November 4, 1894, she grew up in the Stockbridge area.

Surviving are her husband, Guy L.; 2 daughters, Mrs. Marguerite Thornton and Mrs. Marguerite Thornton, both of Holt; 5 sisters, Mrs. Loretta Reed of Tampa, Florida, Mrs. Marie Furguson of Hamilton, Ohio, Mrs. Marguerite McEwan of Royal Oak, Mrs. Flora Brandt of Pontiac and Mrs. Mae Combs of Williamston; 2 brothers, Lawton Jesse of Weldman, Delbert Jesse of Pontiac and 5 grandchildren.

Funeral services were Tuesday, June 28, 2 p.m. at the Ball-Dunn Funeral home-Dansville chapel with burial in Fairview cemetery, Dansville.

Officiating was Rev. Christy E. Gentry of the Dansville Baptist church.

Much criticism has been directed lately at many Great Society programs including the Job Corps. Since our tax dollars, yours and mine, are being used to finance this venture I think it should be of great concern to us just what is going on.

Recently I had an opportunity to meet and work with several Job Corps trainees. They did not seem like such bad fellows. The administrators, however, did not share this view. They looked for trouble - and found it. They exercised undue control and thereby created more problems, they refused to attempt to successfully communicate with their delegates and thereby built a wall of hostility so high it alienated many delegates.

This could be a worthy program, it is a basically good idea, but it cannot be handled by instant child psychologists or directed by a free spending administration. Let's slow down and do the job right!

CUTE, BUT QUICK--The baby pheasants recently hatched out by a banty hen belonging to the Lucien Ruest family of Dansville are real cute, but move almost too quick for the camera. Randy Ruest tried to round them up several times only to have them flit away. Finally a box was used to keep the birds cornered for a short minute.

Dansville Boys Find Pheasants, Crow Make Pets

DANSVILLE--The Ruest boys--Jeffrey and Randall--sons of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien, 255 E. Dansville road, are great on finding things in out of way places and bringing them home.

This summer the boys will be helping a small Banty hen raise 5 pheasant chicks. Several weeks ago, the boys were given 5 pheasant eggs by a neighbor who found them in his field. With several Banty hens setting on eggs it was no problem finding a hen willing to exchange her eggs for the pheasant eggs.

Last week the pheasant chicks were hatched, along with one banty chick. Integration and coexistence between the pheasants and chick were spontaneous and "Maw", the banty hen mother, is showing no partiality.

A check with Martin Pollok of the Dansville State Game farm on Dexter trail gave assurances that the strange family would have no difficulty adjusting to this unusual situation and would thrive.

However, the boys will have to release the pheasant chicks when they are 6 to 8 weeks old. Parting won't be so bad though, because the youngsters have another unusual pet -- a baby crow they call the Ravenous Raven because of his prodigious appetite.

While on a Boy Scout overnight hike, Randy found the baby crow who could barely fly at the time. He brought the bird home and after several experiments found that the crow would accept milk when fed from an eye dropper.

The next step was to feed it various worms dug up in the garden and bread soaked in milk. The crow has adopted the boys and now has full run of the Ruest homestead, flying from tree to tree and lighting on the boys' heads when they are not expecting it.

The line between pet and pest is very narrow and at times Ravenous Raven is definitely more of a pest than a pet, especially as far as Lucien J. Ruest, father of the boys, is concerned.

When the senior Ruest leaves for work in the morning, the crow finds his head an irresistible perch and it takes some time to convince the crow that the apple tree is a more natural habitat for crows.

Before releasing the pheasants, Randy and Jeff plan to band the pheasant's legs and hope the nimrods who bag them this fall will contact the boys indicating how far the birds have traveled to find a new home.

Randy is a member of the Dansville 4-H Conservation club, which is headed by Dr. and Mrs. George Harris of Dansville.

Junior Members

Allen, 13, and Scott, 11, Rae, Onondaga, have been granted junior memberships in the American Angus Association at St. Joseph, Missouri. Their new junior memberships entitle the members to register purebred Angus at regular membership rates and to the privileges of the Association until the age of 21. At that time junior members are eligible to convert to lifetime memberships in the Association. There were 179 young people in the United States to receive junior memberships last month.

Edward Yerke of Detroit spent the weekend with relatives in the Dansville vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sandi of Muskegon Heights attended the reunion of the 1961 graduating class of the Dansville high school Sunday June 26 and also spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Chesley.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. William Garner took a trip to Reading, Michigan, and called on several relatives of the Edwards family Sunday.

ALWAYS HUNGRY--Ravenous Raven, a black crow the Ruest brothers have raised by feeding through an eye dropper, is now grown enough to eat unlimited amounts of food. This is especially true if someone is willing to hand him the tasty morsels. Jeff (on left) and Randy are always making trips outside with snacks for the crow.

"Eye in Sky" To Watch Traffic

The Michigan State Police are primed to have their "eye in the sky" traffic watch in full operation to augment the department's July 4 weekend holiday patrols, Col. Fredrick E. Davids, director, reports.

The 3 State Police planes will team with patrol cars for traffic law enforcement in selected hazard areas according to plans to make this a regular operation.

Though police patrols will be intensified over the holiday, Colonel Davids emphasized that individual motorists must co-operate fully in accident prevention efforts if Michigan is to realize a reduction in death tolls which numbered 43 for the recent Memorial Day weekend and 23 in the July 4 period last year. Both were 78 hour weekends as is the coming holiday.

He singled out two factors of concern. One is the greater possibility for multiple death accidents because holiday motoring is generally a full family affair. The other is the added dangers in driving after dark. Both can be effectively countered by sensible compliance with safety rules, he said.

Colonel Davids noted that Michigan had 11 multiple death accidents during the Memorial Day period which accounted for 27 of the weekend's toll of 43 and that 20 of the holiday's 27 fatal accidents occurred in the evening, night or early morning hours.

POLICE PROBLEMS
Anticipated difficulty in bringing criminals to justice hopefully will be offset in Michigan by steps taken by the state police and legislature this year.

Many law enforcement officials complain that several U.S. Supreme Court decisions regarding confessions, interrogations and presentation of proof add obstacles to the already difficult job of getting evidence to convict criminals. The first step was undertaken by the state police some months back. Efforts began to hire an attorney with police training in his background.

Aim in this addition to state police personnel was to keep policemen current on the legal implications of U.S. and state court decisions regarding their difficult daily job.

It had already become apparent, even before the latest U.S. High Court edict, that policemen would need more familiarity with the intricacies of the law if they were to remain effective in criminal proceedings.

Earmarked for a special computer operation, a $344,000 legislative appropriation is designed to help establish Michigan's hookup with a national communications network to exchange information on criminal activity.

Initially the computer will be set up to "remember" and distribute information about stolen cars and warrants issued in Michigan. Eventually it will provide police officers and the courts with descriptions of wanted criminals, unsolved crimes and prison records, all on very short notice.

One side benefit expected to be opened by use of the computer is that it will lessen the paperwork required of law enforcement officers, thus potentially freeing more men for the important work of prevention, detection and enforcement.

BOTTLED DANGER

Boys will be boys. Figures compiled by the U.S. Public Health Service would lead one to believe it's almost sheer accident that boys live to manhood.

In Michigan alone last year, the Service reports, some 10,087 people were involved in accidental poisonings. Of this number, 8,117 were children under five years of age. Aspirin alone, found in almost every home, accounted for 1,694 of the poison accidents. Again well over half of these involved small children.

Household detergents and other cleaning compounds, vitamins and mineral preparations account for the bulk of the remaining accidents.

Curiosity of children can be a wonderful thing to watch. Unfortunately, the curiosity often involves tasting. It is often the carelessness of adults which transforms this curiosity to catastrophe when bottles clearly labeled "Keep Out of the Reach of Children" are involved.

MORE PAPER WORK
A change in civil service hiring policies adds paperwork to the administrator's job, but may serve little other purpose.

The change requires the hiring agent to explain in writing his reasons if he does not take the person who ranked first in the civil service examination process for the position to be filled.

State agency heads have for years been given the names of the top three applicants in filling any position. They could choose any of the three, but could not go lower in the roster than the No. 3 spot unless one of the three was unavailable for work.

Change was instituted to meet objections of civil rights advocates who originally proposed that rule of three be replaced by a straight regulation that the top applicant be hired in every case.

Civil service officials turned down this idea on the basis that in some cases job experience or personality factors entered into the selection process.

Under the new policy, the hiring administrator will submit his explanation for selecting, for example, the person ranked third on the personnel roster. Then the Civil Rights Commission will analyze the explanation to determine whether race was a factor in the administrator's decision.

Possible flaw in this idea is that both experience and personal evaluations are subjective ones. The able administrator could easily write an explanation which would effectively hide his racial bias as if he were discriminating on this basis.

Millage Issue Is Up Again

LESLIE -- Leslie school district voters will be asked again at the primary election August 2 to approve an added millage levy, identical with that which was defeated last June by a vote of 194 to 177. The proposal will ask for 8 additional mills for school operation.

David Eddington, superintendent of the Leslie schools, said the levy, if passed, would produce $30,000 a year and put the finances of the school district in the black. The district presently, he said, is operating at a deficit and now has a debt of $120,000.

A public meeting has been set for July 7 at the high school when the issue will be discussed and a pre-election campaign outlined. The campaign will stress the importance of approving the additional 8 mills in the face of growing enrollments.

Eddington said enrollment in kindergarten classes are expected to reach 140 pupils next year, which would be an increase of 40 over the last year.

Fourth, give yourself time to react. Allow space between your car and other cars so you'll have a chance to save the situation if you run into trouble.

Fifth, and finally, drive defensively. Assume that the other fellow is going to do the wrong thing -- and drive your car accordingly.

If you bear these simple rules in mind your chances of getting through the Fourth-of-July holidays without an accident are excellent.

Apartment Planned In Leslie
 LESLIE -- Leslie is to get a 15 unit apartment building. L. B. Childs offered the village council a right of way across his property for the sum of $1. This would extend W. Race street to Hull road. Childs said he would start the apartment building within a month if the village would extend the street and make water and sewer available.

The council agreed to fill and grade the proposed right of way and Childs was told it is a village policy to provide water facilities. There already is a sewer on the property. The matter was referred to the village attorney to draw up the necessary papers and to the village surveyor. The council signed a contract with Rockwell manufacturing company for the delivery of water meters and make a down payment of $6,240.00. This necessitated a transfer of $6,000 from Water and Sewer Receiving to Water and Sewer Operating and Maintenance.

The petition of William Rauli to rezone his property at 115 W. Race from Commercial to Industrial was approved as there were no objections. In response to several complaints, the street committee agreed to see what could be done about improving the drainage on Spring st.

Weekend Crash Injures Woman
 Bertha Edith Patton, 45 of Lansing, a passenger in a car driven by Maholon L. Patton, 44, of Lansing suffered injuries when the car in which she was riding collided with another vehicle at Pryor road and US-127 near Mason Saturday about 3:55 p.m.
 Sheriff's officers said Weldon Ellege, 30, of Lansing, was the driver of the other car. Neither he nor his passenger Harold Lee Ellege, 4, were injured.
 Sheriff's deputies explained the accident in this way. They said Ellege was moving north on US-127 and carrying a sheet of plywood on top of his car. A passing truck caused the wood to break loose and fly into the oncoming lane. The wood landed on the hood of the Patton car, which was moving south on US-127. This caused the driver to brake sharply and head into a ditch.
 Bertha Edith Patton was taken to Mason General hospital where she was treated and released.

Barbs and Praise

One Year Ago--1965
 Mrs. Arthur Good and daughter, Patrice, 3, of 1000 Rolfe road, left last week by air for Hamburg, Germany, where Mrs. Good's parents reside.

Mason's observance of its Centennial has come and gone but 25 years from now the pleasant memories of the event will be recalled when a time capsule will be uncovered. The capsule, filled with memories of the Centennial, was buried with ceremony in the court house lawn and marked with a stone.

10 Years Ago--1956
 Five teaching positions in the Mason school system were filled during the past week. The teachers hired are Mrs. Helen McDaniels of Leslie, Mrs. Ruth M. Finch of Eaton Rapids, Mrs. Carol M. Warner of Williamston, Thomas A. Gidding of Lansing and Mrs. Wilma J. Gordon of Mantua, Ohio.

Nearly 5,000 members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars elected Mason's Max McCarn to the highest post in the Michigan organization Sunday at Bay City. He was unopposed in his election as state VFW commander and will take up his new duties immediately.

20 Years Ago--1946
 Carl Edmonds, recently discharged as an army pilot, has gone to Seattle, Washington to confer with transport officials about piloting a sky freighter from Seattle to Anchorage and other points in Alaska. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Edmonds. Dr. William E. Clark has completed a graduate course at the University of Michigan since his release from the army last winter and will resume practice in Mason, July 1.

30 Years Ago--1936
 Mayor A. W. Jewett and Nathan B. Davis, both well known Mason men, are candidates for positions on the Democratic ticket. Jewett is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for state representative in the 2nd Ingham district and Davis is seeking the Democratic nomination for sheriff.

Fred E. Searl will have served 25 years as county school commissioner when he closes his office door Tuesday night. He taught rural and village schools before becoming commissioner.

50 Years Ago--1916
 Zola Otis has taken the place of Ethel Moore as operator in the Citizens' Telephone office. A number of citizens gathered at the depot Thursday evening to extend greetings to Colonel L. H. Ives who was that day elected department commander of the Michigan G.A.R.

75 Years Ago--1891
 Last Thursday evening the wire that supplies the incandescent lights about town came in contact with the Postal Telegraph wire and the electricity was shut off, allowing the lights to wink out and disturb the peace at the stores and stop a prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church. The telephone wire was burned in two. The ball players of Mason have been organized as follows: Batteries; Henderson and Smith and Snook and Laseby; 1st base, George Brown; 2nd, E. Tyler; 3rd, F. C. Sayers, s.s. Dyer, E. F. Scully, C.F. Pratt, R. F. Worden, F. E. Mills and C. H. Hall, substitutes, S. B. Madden is general manager and Charles Worden, captain.

Ann Page, Mrs. Smuckers and Mrs. Owens, along with the Kraft food company had better watch out for their jam and jelly laurels. They have competition in the jam making business.

Every year we have a supplier of a couple cases of berries who always calls and says when the berries will be ready. Wednesday afternoon the message came through. But, thanks to the late season, my expert jam maker was taking it easy on the beach at Higgins lake.

So, dear old dad tried his hand at it and a more delectible, prettier sight than Wednesday night's production never came from the kettles of Ann Page and the other assorted jam experts.

Daughter, Nancy and I didn't need any advice on making the strawberry jam but if there are any female homemakers who could give me the word on how to get the stove cleaned up before my wife gets home, I would appreciate it. My, but that boiled-over jam sticks to the range top and the bottom of the pan--or rather the bottom of just about every pan in the cupboard.

It would also be helpful if someone among all the MSU farm experts could develop a strawberry that didn't have to be hulled. My pointing finger was a little sore Thursday morning.

Well, the Michigan legislature has done it. They gave themselves a boost in the pay envelope. I suppose we taxpayers should consider ourselves lucky that they backed off from the proposed $5,000 boost in favor of a "modest" $2,500 pay raise.

The deed is practically done, inasmuch as just about all that is needed is going to be Gov. Romney's signature. So there is no use tilting with the legislative windmill.

What is needed, though, is a good, long look at those law makers and aspiring makers, who will have their names on the ballot for the highest-paying legislature in the United States. If us taxpayers are going to pay the top dollar then we will be demoted in our duties if we do not pick the best man to represent us.

It might be well right here to remind Michigan legislators of one of President Kennedy's better known quotations, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but ask what you can do for your country."

The legislators have done it for themselves now let's see them get down to work, cut all the juvenile wrangling and temper tantrums and see what they can do for the people of Michigan for a change.

It's about time to face of to the struggle of living within our income as a state, as a nation and as individuals.

Someone once pointed out that from the time an infant tries to get toes in his mouth, life is a constant struggle to make both ends meet.

Dick Brown

Hasty Legislation Isn't Progress

Legislation hastily conceived, hastily studied and hastily passed quite frequently brings lasting headaches and sometimes unsolvable problems.

Washington observers, both inside and outside of the government fold, are mighty nervous about and fairly certain that expanded medicare is going to fall in that category July 1 or soon after.

Under pressure from proponents and opponents, the congress swallowed an administration program as an addition to medicare without studying the quality of the program, the scope of the program or the cost of the program.

Now the news is coming out that even the department of health, education and welfare, the agency charged with the responsibility of medicare, has some misgivings about whether the hospital and medical professions and the department of health, education and welfare can deliver what the politicians have committed.

The cost factor is one giving the administrators of the program the biggest headache. As presented to congress by the Johnson administration, the program expansion was to have cost the taxpayers an estimated $230 million. This 6-months old estimate is now being revised to at least one billion dollars.

Groundwork is being done now on asking a supplemental appropriation of $500 million and the program hasn't even started yet.

Congress was set up by the designers of our system of government to act as a check. A rubber-stamp congress which bows and scrapes and is subservient to the administration is shrinking its responsibility. Congress was not designed to parrot the thought of the administrative branch.

Ode to the Super Patriots

When the super patriots of 1776 met in Philadelphia at Independence Hall on a hot July day, they had something else in mind besides creating a play-type holiday.

They never gave a thought to such things as potato salad and lemonade mixed with cold cuts and other picnic goodies.

The signers of the declaration of independence gave no thought to catching the big league doubleheader or spending the day on the family boat pickled in beer and sun tan lotion.

The boys who met in the Chestnut street building in Philadelphia were not worrying about whether they were going to get double time on the Fourth of July. They had no thoughts about the best way to beat the traffic on the way to the picnic. They weren't sweating out getting to take their turn on the No. 1 tee at the golf course. They weren't thinking about just staying home and rocking away the day in the backyard hammock.

These "super patriots", a dirty word these days, were concerned about injustice, about the trampling of freedom and the lack of recognition of freedom of their day. They argued and debated and fought and compromised to come up with a young and vigorous nation.

It might do well for the American of 1966 to wonder just a little about the thoughts and the aims of those great patriots as they gave birth to the United States.

It might also help us if we could get some of that spirit of independence of which they had so much.

It Takes More Than Money

Federal spending in the field of education has surged 5 or 6 times in the last 4 years. The federal education budget for 1963 called for expenditures of $660,000,000. The expenditure for the 1967 fiscal year will hit $3.4 billion.

The labor department has another interesting figure when it is placed next to the education cost. Not only is the figure interesting--it is appalling. The labor department claims that high school dropouts rose last year by 75,000. The report shows that 680,000 boys and girls dropped out of high school before finishing. This was more than half the number who graduated in the same period.

The increase in federal education participation in tax dollars and the increase in high school dropouts are not cause and effect--but it should prove the point that the tough dropout problems of education can't be solved by doling out tax dollars in increasing quantities.

Dedicated teachers, responsive school boards and most important, concerned parents, still hold the key to the dropout problem.

Money from Washington is not going to work any miracles in keeping the nation's youth walking the education trail. The front line in the battle to keep the pupil in high school is the home front, particularly the home. No amount of money from the federal money tree is going to keep pupils in school.

GUEST EDITORIAL

Automation Not Bad

Tuscola County Advertiser

Recently there was quite a bit of concern expressed over the effect that automation would have on a number of jobs. It was feared that machinery would take over man's work and that as a result, people would be jobless. Automation, in actuality appears to work quite the opposite way. In a recent magazine article we read these rather interesting facts that certainly seem to indicate automation has not detracted but has added to the well-being of the economy.

If Detroit had not been automating since the 1920's the modern car would cost $65,000, a national authority believes. There would be precious few of them and hundreds of thousands of jobs in auto plants, tire factories, steel mills, gasoline refineries and road construction simply would not exist.

--Low priced Japanese transistor radios threatened to close American plants and throw thousands out of jobs. An American manufacturer automated his plant and so improved his product's value and salability that he employs a third more workers.

--An American company developed the automatic pin setter for bowling alleys in home neighborhoods, made bowling increasingly popular. Yes, the pin setters are gone, but the number of jobs in the industry was increased 700%.

--Washing machines, dryers, ironers, dishwashers and a dozen more items have automated our kitchens. That turned the lady of the house from a drudge to a partner and may have done away with the "servant class" but created a half million jobs in stores and automated appliance stores.

Automation is simply a means of doing things better with less effort and at lower cost. And lower costs increase markets which means more markets which means more workers are needed to fill the new and greater demand.

If I were a preacher I would prepare a sermon on the sheep which went astray: "All we like sheep have gone astray." Take a look at sheep. They don't go astray by racing to the far end of the field and leaping the fence. Sheep go astray by keeping their heads down, their eyes away from the shepherd, nibbling a tuft of grass here, and going just a little bit further for the next tuft. They go astray a step at a time, not by leaps and bounds. They then look around too late and find they are lost, having just nibbled themselves away from the flock.

That's the way bad habits are formed; snatching a tuft of grass at a time; a tuft of indulgence here today, a little more tomorrow, and lo, a bad habit has us trapped.

 The Presbyterian concert

Sunday night was excellent. I knew I liked it but I didn't know why until Nate Fry from Lansing told me how good it was. I hope I can always remember that poignant refrain of "Sweet Hour of Prayer" played by the violin trio made up of Mrs. Frank Evans, Mrs. Russell Robbins and Mrs. Richard Somers, with Mrs. Dorn Diehl of Dansville at the piano. The Presbyterians had Methodist help on that one. Mrs. Robbins and Mrs. Diehl were incited to become Methodists at an early age.

Did you ever read Lincoln's tribute to the Methodists? He said, "The Methodist church sends more soldiers to the field, more nurses to the hospital and more prayers to heaven than any."

The Melting Pot

Freedom is a precious thing and Americans are fortunate enough to have more of it than any other nation on the face of the earth.

In fact, we have so much freedom in this country that a lot of us take it for granted. We don't stop to think that we have freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom of the press and freedom of assembly--something a whole lot of other people in the world would give a lot to have.

We have a Bill of Rights and a federal constitution that has stood for nearly 200 years without change, attesting to the foresight of those intrepid colonists who signed the Declaration of Independence in Philadelphia on a sultry summer day in 1776.

That day was July 4 and ever since America has celebrated the event, which was the birth of freedom for the United States of America.

Next Monday another fourth of July rolls around but it will be a more or less quiet one compared with those that were celebrated 50 or 100 years ago. In those days there were firecrackers, bombs and fireworks that made the day one big bang after another.

There were parades and picnics and it was a great day for the orators. They spoke loud and long about patriotism, waved the flag, pointed with pride and viewed with alarm.

They were all part of the day's celebration and the people loved it. The present day observances are more quiet. There may be a few picnics and the wise ones stay off the roads, for the Fourth of July holiday coming as it does this year over a long weekend will see highways choked with cars and after it is over there will be long casualty lists of those who drive too fast or who slept at the wheel or committed some other mistake that brought death and injury to scores of people.

The wise ones stay home and confine their celebrating to the backyard, for the open road now has become a highway of death.

Fireworks have been outlawed, except for supervised displays by clubs, municipalities or other groups.

But there are still ways of showing our patriotism and recognizing the freedoms our forefathers gave us.

One is to display the flag on the Fourth of July. Let Old Glory wave from every home, every public building and every school.

Governor Romney has asked all Michigan communities where there are bells in churches, on schools, farmyards or any other places, to ring them for 4 minutes promptly at 1 p.m. next Monday.

Mayor Gilson Pearsall of Mason with the cooperation of the churches has arranged for the only 2 bells left in the city--at the Methodist and Presbyterian churches--to ring out the message of freedom next Monday at the stated hour.

We would all do well to listen for the ringing of the bells, wherever we are and say a little prayer that America may always be free.

Yes, freedom is a precious thing. Let us all be reminded of that constantly and do everything in our power to maintain that freedom.

Here is a little historical note. One hundred years ago on May 16, the nickel was born to replace the silver half-dime.

Over the years the nickel has played a big part in economics especially in such fields as a cup of coffee, a pack of gum or an ice cream cone. That's all history now as a nickel doesn't buy very much.

One of our vice-presidents once said that what this country needs is a good 5-cent cigar. Now it would seem that what we really need is a good 5-cent nickel.

Including No-Hitter Mason Legion Team Keeps Record Clean with 2 Wins

Mason's Junior American Legion baseball team sponsored by the Browne-Cavender Post 148, had themselves a great time this week, including 2 wins, one of which was a no-hitter pitched by Ray Dull.
In one game Mason turned back the Lansing Optimist entry in the Lansing league 9-5 with Don Hendershot and Jim Bodrei sharing the mound duties.
Then Dull came up with his far from dull pitching performance and the Mason hitters sparkled to post a 32-1 win over West Lanes.
In the 9-5 victory Mason banged out 14 hits with Harold Moore collecting a double and 2 singles in 5 trips to lead the attack. Doug Engle and Lynn Reid both hit triples.
Mason led through the first 2 innings but the Optimists

Probing $100,000 Barn Fire

LESLIE -- A $100,000 fire that destroyed the Hanchett Livestock Auction barn on Rives - Eaton road Monday afternoon is under investigation.
Fire officials said several boys were seen in the area around the barns before the fire and were seen running away from the scene after the fire was discovered.
Four fire departments fought the blaze, but it had gained such a start before they arrived that it was impossible to save the structure which was built of poles and metal siding.
Firemen from Leslie, Rives Junction, Henrietta and Blackman township fought the blaze but it had advanced too far for them to control it. When the metal siding began to melt the heat became intense, firemen said.
A contractor who erects buildings such as the barn estimated the loss.

INDEPENDENCE

...that good old American brand. A "way-of-life" that was signed into being July 4th, nearly two hundred years ago. Ah, for that memorable day, when in the course of human events...
 Liberty! That's the word. Then let us, on this Independence Day, dedicate ourselves to this "Way-of-life-without-way" this way of life that guarantees for all men, Freedom, Equality and Justice. Give us an unyielding faith and supply us with genius that cannot err. Endow us with vital religious convictions to pilot our inherited ship of state. Let us always remember that the source of our freedom is The Book. Then Americans, don't forget to remember that, "Must Was Born When Liberty Spoke. It is our Independence Day!"
