

Commission on Chicago Landmarks

CERTIFIED LOCAL GOVERNMENT ANNUAL REPORT FOR 2015

The Commission on Chicago Landmarks, whose members are appointed by the Mayor and the City Council, was established in 1968 by city ordinance. The Commission is responsible for recommending to the City Council which areas, districts, places, buildings, structures, works of art, and other similar objects within the City of Chicago should be designated as Chicago Landmarks, which protects them by law.

This annual report has been prepared in fulfillment of the City's annual reporting requirement under the National Park Service's Certified Local Government Program established under the National Historic Preservation Act. The City of Chicago has been a "Certified Local Government" since 1985.

The Commission is staffed by the Historic Preservation Division in the Department of Planning and Development. The 2015 staff consisted of six and one half staff, a reduction from 2014 due to retirement/loss. Though the Division participates in Department-wide planning and economic development initiatives, the majority of the work performed by staff is focused on the duties outlined in the Landmarks Ordinance and the Rules and Regulations of the Commission on Chicago Landmarks. This work includes, but is not limited to, landmark designations, permit review, economic incentives for landmark properties, and the demolition delay process.

1. CHICAGO LANDMARK DESIGNATION

The landmark designation process begins with a preliminary vote by the Commission on Chicago Landmarks (CCL). This vote not only initiates the formal designation process, but places the review of building permits for the proposed landmark under the jurisdiction of the Commission unless there is a final denial action by the Commission or City Council.

In 2015, four proposed designations were considered by the Commission, with two landmark designations approved by the City Council. As of December 31, 2015, three properties were under consideration by the Commission.

TWO LANDMARKS DESIGNATED BY CITY COUNCIL

Sears, Roebuck & Co. District – Ward 24

Bounded roughly by Homan Avenue, Arthington Street, Spaulding Avenue, and Baltimore & Ohio Railroad viaduct (Designated March 18, 2015)

The four buildings, a park, and pergola exemplify the historic importance of Sears as one of Chicago's most important companies and America's leading retailer for much of the 20th century. The complex was designed by Nimmons & Fellows.

Sears, Roebuck and Co. District

- ① Administration Building
- ② Printing/Merchandise Development and Laboratory (MDL Building)
- ③ Merchandise Building Tower
- ④ Power House
- ⑤ Park and Pergola

Fulton-Randolph Market District – Ward 27

Primarily the 800- to 1100-blocks of West Fulton Market Street, the 900-block of West Lake Street, and the 700- to 1000-blocks of West Randolph Street (Designated July 29, 2015)

HARMAN'S 36. U. T. BARNUM PHOTOGRAPHS, RANDOLPH, LOOKING WEST FROM JUST EAST OF HAL

The designation of this district was a product of a comprehensive planning process for the near west side of Chicago. This landmark district of 144 buildings preserves the sense of place and the historic west side market of Chicago within the greater Fulton Innovation District context. The district also includes a significant number of loft manufacturing and warehouse buildings that exemplify the importance of industry to the city's economic development.

As of December 31, 2015, four proposed designations remain in process (date report was submitted to the Commission is in parentheses):

West Burton Place District – Ward 27

143-161 West Burton Place; and 150-160 West Burton Place (August 6, 2015)

The West Burton Place District encompasses a portion of one residential block on West Burton Place in the Old Town neighborhood. The earliest structures on the block date from the mid-1870s and early 1880s, but the architectural, artistic and cultural significance of the street is primarily found in the remodeling of many of the original buildings into artist studios from the late 1920s through the 1940s.

Uptown Square District – Ward 46

4518-4866 North Broadway (evens), 4601-4829 North Broadway (odds), 1014-1226 West Lawrence Avenue (evens), 935-1213 West Lawrence Avenue (odds), 1100-1214 West Leland Avenue (evens), 1111-1213 West Leland Avenue (odds), 4350-4758 North Racine Avenue (evens), 4647-4731 North Sheridan Road (evens), 1048-1118 West Wilson Avenue (October 1, 2015)

During the first two decades of the 20th century, real estate development transformed the intersection of Lawrence and Broadway from a rural crossroads to one of the region's most vibrant entertainment, business, and shopping districts. Today, Uptown Square is one of the city's finest surviving examples of an early 20th century neighborhood commercial and entertainment district, one rivaling the size of downtowns of many smaller cities.

Commercial National Bank Building – Ward 42

125 South Clark Street (October 1, 2015)

This building was designed by D.H. Burnham & Company as a headquarters for Commercial National Bank. The design was a precursor to the monumental Classical Revival banks seen on LaSalle Street. The building was later used as the headquarters of Commonwealth Edison.

Marina City – Ward 42

300-340 North State Street; 301-351 North Dearborn Street (July 9, 2015)

Marina City is an icon of Chicago urban planning, an exemplary example of Expressionist architecture and represents Bertrand Goldberg's unique architectural perspective as one of Chicago's most notable architects. This nomination would include the four historic buildings and the podium structure.

2. PERMIT REVIEW FOR CHICAGO LANDMARKS

The Commission reviews permit applications for designated landmark properties and, upon a preliminary landmark recommendation initiating the consideration process, permit applications for work on proposed landmark properties. Prior to the issuance of permits by the City, the Commission must approve proposed construction projects as part of the review process. The Commission urges applicants to discuss proposed changes prior to seeking permits, and often reviews proposals on a preliminary "pre-permit" basis.

The Permit Review Committee (PRC), comprised of five Commission members, typically reviews design policy issues and pre-permit applications for major projects such as new infill construction, significant alterations, construction of visible additions, and demolitions. PRC meets once per month. Historic Preservation Division staff review all other applications on behalf of the Commission.

In 2015, the Commission reviewed 2,466 permit applications and performed 2,848 reviews in total:

The number of permits reviewed in 2015 was 50 more than in 2014.

Ninety-three percent of reviews were performed in one business day, and 100% within 14 days.

One permit application was denied.

The PRC reviewed 52 projects in 2015; 71 projects were reviewed in 2014.

Phase one and two of the expansion of Wrigley Field continued in 2015 with reconstruction of the bleachers, installation of two new LED video boards, and structural repairs to the grandstands. CCL staff conducts frequent site visits and monitors this important project on behalf of the Commission. In 2015 the Permit Review Committee reviewed additional plans for the visible concession stands of Wrigley Field at its June 4 meeting. The Five-year Master Plan and Master Sign Plan, as approved by the CCL and updated, will guide this multi-phase renovation.

(for seven or more permits approved in the 2015 calendar year)

3. MONITORING AND STEWARDSHIP

At the close of 2015, Historic Preservation Division staff continued to monitor approximately 50 active court cases. The City's Department of Law initiates cases against owners of historic properties for violations of the City's building and other codes. The administrative hearing process is also used to enforce building code violations. Historic Preservation staff work with the Department of Buildings, Department of Law, and owners to address violations and propose possible alternatives to demolition.

An area of continued effort is the north part of the Pullman District. Approximately 48 properties were found to be vacant, open and/or in need of maintenance by a survey of Historic Preservation staff. Staff continues to work with the Department of Planning and Development's Housing Preservation Division, the City's Law Department, and Chicago Neighborhood Initiatives in an attempt to stabilize and rehabilitate these troubled properties.

4. ECONOMIC INCENTIVES FOR LANDMARKS

The City of Chicago promotes the use of local, state, and federal preservation incentives, as well as other available City development incentives (e.g. Tax Increment Financing [TIF], facade rebate program, etc.), to assist in the preservation of the City's landmark buildings and other historic properties.

Class L Property Tax Incentive

A special property tax assessment classification for landmark rehabilitation was developed by the City of Chicago along with the Cook County Assessors' Office and approved by the Cook County Board in 1998. The Class L incentive reduces the tax assessment level over a 12-year period for commercial and industrial buildings designated as local landmarks provided their owners invest at least half of the building's value in an approved rehabilitation program. The Class L incentive was expanded in 2002 to include buildings used for multi-family rental (seven units or more) and certain not-for-profit-owned, income-producing properties. Individually designated buildings and contributing buildings in landmark districts are both eligible for the Class L incentive.

Granting a Class L incentive for a building begins with review of the proposed scope of work and budget by the Commission to determine if the proposal meets the minimum investment threshold and the standards and guidelines for rehabilitation of historic buildings. The Commission then recommends that City Council approve an ordinance for the proposed project. Once the ordinance is passed, project work can begin. Certification is the final step of the Class L incentive process and occurs when the Commission reviews the project to determine if the proposed scope of work has been substantially completed according to the approved Class L budget.

In 2015 the Commission recommended that two building projects receive the Class L incentive. One of those projects was subsequently approved by City Council. The second project, the Commercial National Bank Building located at 125 South Clark, is still pending. Introduction to the City Council is scheduled for 2016.

2015 Class L Ordinances

The City Council adopted a Class L Ordinance for the following property in 2015:

Motor Row District – 2230 South Michigan Avenue

This project is an exterior and interior restoration to use this former Marmon Motor Company Showroom building as originally intended, as a car showroom and parking garage for a private car collection. The exterior scope of work includes terra cotta and brick repair; repair of the cast iron storefronts and windows; recreation of the missing entry doors facing Michigan Avenue based on historic photographs; installation of a vegetative ‘green’ roof; and exterior lighting. Interior work includes restoration of the first-floor car showroom and an update of the HVAC, plumbing, electrical, and fire protection systems. The owners have agreed that at the completion of the project, they will enter into a restrictive covenant with the City of Chicago to protect the historic car showroom interior space.

Amount invested by the applicant: $14,820,000 (including acquisition cost)
Other financing: 20% Federal Tax Credit

2015 Class L Property Certifications

In 2015 the Commission reviewed and issued final certifications for the rehabilitation of four properties:

CLASS L INCENTIVE – COMPLETED PROJECTS

Chicago Motor Club – 68 East Wacker Place

The adaptive reuse of the former office building included the conversion of the building into a new hotel with 143 rooms. Exterior improvements included a new hotel canopy and entrance doors facing Wacker Place; extensive repairs to the deteriorated cast iron features; repairs to the historic windows; a new green roof; and discreet architectural accent lighting. The ground-floor lobby and the United States Map mural, both included in the designation ordinance as significant features, were restored. The interior rehabilitation project also included elevator modernization, modification of exit stairs, a new sprinkler system, and new mechanical, plumbing, electrical, and fire protection systems. Due to all of the energy efficient upgrades, the building’s energy performance now exceeds ASHRAE-90.1/2004 by at least 14%.

Other Projects

Another notable City-assisted restoration project involving an historic landmark building was the rehabilitation of the Rosenwald Apartments at 4600 South Michigan Avenue which began in 2015. This property is not a designated Chicago landmark but is identified in the Chicago Historic Resources Survey as potentially historically significant and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

On February 26, 1997, the City Council passed legislation to enable owners of landmark properties to apply to receive a waiver of Chicago building permit fees. Sixteen permit fee waivers were approved for landmark properties in 2015 compared with 19 in 2014. See list below for details of these waivers.

5. HISTORIC PRESERVATION PLANNING

Two thousand fifteen saw the designation of the Pullman Landmark District as the City's first National Monument. A tremendous group effort, City staff continues to work with the National Park Service, the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency, and the National Parks Conservation Association to improve the district including access and development. The National Parks Conservation Association, with the City of Chicago, was awarded a Chicago Metropolitan Area Planning Grant to develop a transportation plan for Pullman and Roseland to accommodate visitors to the park. The plan is expected to be completed in late 2016. The City of Chicago assisted AIA Chicago and the National Parks Conservation Association in their planning charrette "Positioning Pullman." This workshop enlisted practitioners to work on four areas: Park Experience, Historic Preservation and Adaptive Reuse, Access and Mobility, and Community Development. A book documents this combined effort of community and professionals for a future vision of Pullman.

Historic Preservation Division staff initiated a comprehensive planning study of its landmark designation program in 2013. The Division received a CLG grant in 2015 to prepare a context statement on the city's industrial architecture as part of the plan. This would be the first historic context statement developed by the Division and it is hoped that this document will serve as a model for additional context statements to inform the overall designation plan. In carrying out this study, staff is following the Secretary of the Interior's Standards and Guidelines for Preservation Planning as well as the National Park Service's "History in the National Park Service: Themes and Concepts" published in 1994. This study is underway with a target completion date of Q4 2016.

In addition to being part of a comprehensive planning effort, the landmark designation of the Fulton-Randolph Market District is also noteworthy in that it includes design guidelines. These design guidelines, which are in draft form, have been prepared to guide the treatment of properties and streetscapes throughout the proposed landmark district in order to preserve and enhance its unique character. Overall these guidelines aim to strengthen the identity of this area and support existing uses, while encouraging new, compatible development. Renovation of existing buildings for contemporary use is encouraged and new construction and additions are allowed throughout. Streetscape guidelines aim to maintain existing uses such as loading to best serve existing businesses, while improving pedestrian safety and comfort and promoting other streetscape improvements. The draft guidelines were developed with property owners in the district and design professionals, and are currently available for public comment and input. The Commission on Chicago Landmarks will consider formal adoption of the design guidelines in 2016.

As was noted in last year's annual report, the Historic Preservation Division remains a consulting party in Federal Section 106 reviews for the proposed redevelopment of three Chicago Housing Authority complexes: the Julia C. Lathrop Homes, Altgeld Gardens, and the Frances Cabrini Row Homes. The Division will continue in that role as these projects move forward. The Division's overall objective with these projects is to ensure that the resources remain listed or eligible for listing on the National Register so that their redevelopment can leverage the Federal Rehabilitation Tax Credit for historic buildings.

6. DEMOLITION DELAY ORDINANCE

Conducted from 1983-95, and published in 1996, the Chicago Historic Resources Survey (CHRS) identified more than 17,000 properties throughout the city that were considered to have some potential architectural and historical importance. This information is available at City libraries and research institutions, as well as on the Chicago Landmarks website. The two highest survey ratings (“red” and “orange”) are also mapped as a GIS layer on the city’s online Zoning Map.

In 2003, the City Council passed an amendment to the Chicago Building Code to establish a delay of up to 90 days for the issuance of any demolition permits for certain historically significant buildings identified in the CHRS (those rated as “red” or “orange”). The delay allows DPD to explore options, as appropriate, to preserve the structures, including possible landmark designation.

In 2015, some 1,209 applications were reviewed with a total of 36 permit applications involving partial or full demolition triggering review by DPD under the provisions of the Demolition Delay Ordinance (36 applications were reviewed in 2014). The majority of the demolition applications were for neighborhood residential buildings including worker’s cottages, single family residences, flats, and apartment buildings.

Two of the applications reviewed (1534 West 63rd Street and 4901 West Ferdinand Street) were in response to court-ordered demolitions as the result of dangerous and hazardous conditions. The demolition delay ordinance does not apply in these cases.

As of the time of writing there are two permit applications in the 90-day hold demolition delay process: a masonry building at 1354 North Bell Avenue and a two-story frame building at 1415 West Walton Street. These applications were submitted in 2015 and are under review with the 90-day period continuing into 2016.

While we can report on demolition applications which triggered the Demolition Delay Ordinance in 2015, it is impossible to measure how often the Ordinance deterred property owners, or potential purchasers of property, from considering demolition as an option for real estate development.

7. NATIONAL REGISTER NOMINATIONS

During 2015, the Commission reviewed two Chicago nominations to the National Register of Historic Places:

Peck and Hills Furniture Company Warehouse, 909 West Bliss Street – 27th Ward

The Central Manufacturing District: Pershing Road Development Historic District, the south side of West Pershing Road from 1831 to 2245, and 1950 West Pershing
Road – 12th Ward

These projects were reviewed at the February and May meetings of the Commission’s Program Committee. The full Commission subsequently voted to recommend National Register listing for both of the nominations. As of December 31, 2015, both of the recommended nominations were listed by the Keeper of the National Register.

8. PRESERVATION ENVIRONMENTAL CLEARANCES FOR SECTION 106 REVIEW

In 2015 the Historic Preservation Division reviewed a total of 421 projects pursuant to the Section 106 review process and the City's status as a Certified Local Government, compared to 1,450 projects in 2015.

The lower number of reviews in 2015 is the result of streamlining measures that leverage the capabilities of the City of Chicago's Department of Fleet and Facility Management (2FM). Since 2009, Historic Preservation staff have participated in Section 106 reviews of programs funded through the Community Development Block Grant program of the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Neighborhood Stabilization Program funded through the Housing and Economic Development Recovery Act of 2008 (aka, stimulus funds). These programs are administered by 2FM. Prior to March 2015, 2FM or its consultants prepared a checklist for properties impacted by its federally-funded programs to determine if the properties were historic resources. These checklists were then sent to the City's Historic Preservation Division for verification. The Division's experience in administering the program for several years was that 2FM and its consultants' determinations of whether buildings were historic or not were consistently accurate. Therefore, on March 12, 2015, the Division, in cooperation with 2FM, agreed to streamline the process so that the Division would only review and verify checklists where 2FM and its consultants determined that a historic resource was impacted. The streamlined process has been beneficial to both the Division and 2FM as well as reducing overall review time for applicants.

The Division also continues to coordinate with other City departments and agencies, including the Chicago Department of Transportation, the Chicago Transit Authority, the Chicago Housing Authority and the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency on City projects triggering Federal Section 106 and State Section 107 reviews, including the CTA's Red Line Extension and CTA Red-Purple Bypass, both of which projects will continue into 2016.

9. PUBLIC OUTREACH AND OTHER ACTIVITIES

During the year Historic Preservation Division staff assisted the public with over 10,000 information requests, including questions on Chicago history and architecture, individual house history, permit review, the historic resources survey, economic incentives, technical assistance, and local and National Register designations. The public also uses the Commission's website, library, and photo collection. Historic Preservation Division staff answer inquiries by phone, e-mail, and in person.

Historic Preservation Division staff attended several meetings, conferences, and training sessions in 2015, including participating as speakers, panelists, moderators, and committee members. These activities included:

- Chicago Architecture Foundation, Emerging Chicago: 2015, Tour of Fulton Market, West Fulton-Randolph Area, and South Portion of the West Loop (Guides)
- Community and public outreach meetings for the proposed Uptown Square District
- The Richard H. Driehaus Foundation 2015 Built Environment Symposium
- 2015 Illinois Main Street and Historic Preservation Conference (Speaker)

2015 PRESERVATION EXCELLENCE AWARDS

Welcome 2015 Preservation Excellence Award Winners

In its sixteenth year, the Chicago Landmark Awards for Preservation Excellence are given by the Commission on Chicago Landmarks for designated Chicago Landmarks, properties within Chicago Landmark Districts, and other projects that promote Chicago's architectural history. These awards are to recognize and acknowledge the critical role property owners, businesses, and citizens play in the preservation of the city's historic and cultural heritage.

Selected by the Commission's Permit Review Committee, this year's projects represent a great cross-section drawn from throughout the city – from the rehabilitation and adaptive reuse of a church building, to the rehabilitation of a neighborhood residential house, and to the restoration of a downtown architectural high-rise icon. What the projects all have in common is an exceptional commitment to Chicago's historic architecture.

The Steger Building

Rehabilitation and Adaptive Reuse

Recipient: CA Student Living

The Steger Building was designed by the prominent architecture firm of Marshall & Fox and was built as the headquarters of the Steger & Sons Piano Manufacturing Company. The building is a fine example of the Classical Revival style within the area of the loop known as "Music Row". CA Student Living purchased this building and the adjacent Gibbons Building to convert them from underutilized office buildings into new residential apartments. After purchasing the building, the developer consented to landmark designation and then embarked upon this extensive adaptive reuse project. The project included significant exterior improvements such as recreating the missing cornice based on the original detail drawings, installing new compatible ground-floor storefronts to match the historic configuration, and extensive terra cotta repairs. The project also included restoration of the main entrance lobby and its grand stair and a rear addition link to the adjacent Gibbons Building. The developer applied for the city's permit fee waiver program and utilized the 20% Federal Rehabilitation Tax Credit. The Steger Building was designated a Chicago Landmark on June 5, 2013.

1338 North Damen Wicker Park District Rehabilitation and Adaptive Reuse

Recipient: JAB Real Estate Inc.

The Wicker Park District consists of a core of elaborate homes that is surrounded by more modest homes and other cultural institutions, such as this prominent church building at the northwest corner of Evergreen and Damen. The church was used by the former Chicago Missionary Society and was purchased in 2013 by the current owner. At that time, some of the building's original windows had been concealed and the structure was infested with birds. This rehabilitation project has returned the exterior to its former glory and converted the historic structure into 11 dwelling units. The work included repairing the decorative window mullions and stained glass windows along installing new windows to match. The non-historic doors were replaced with new doors consistent with the church's architectural character. The roofing and decorative metalwork were repaired with new copper coping and details and the brick was repaired and tuckpointed. The interior wood-truss ceiling was refurbished and is left exposed to create one-of-a-kind residential units. The project also included restoring the former clergy house at the back of the church. The Wicker Park District was designated a Chicago Landmark on April 12, 1991.

30 West Monroe The Inland Steel Building Rehabilitation

Recipient: Capital Properties

Originally built for the Inland Steel Corporation in 1958, this important International-style building is significant due to its innovative column-free approach to commercial high-rise design. This building was also the first skyscraper to be built in the Chicago Loop after the Great Depression. The property underwent a major rehabilitation which was mostly comprised of interior work, including the restoration of the historically significant ground-floor lobby. Exterior work included select repairs of the curtain wall system and installation of a new vegetative 'green' roof. Interior work on the typical upper office floors included replacement of ceilings with new energy efficient lighting fixtures, renovation of the elevator lobbies and bathrooms, and upgrades to the building's mechanical systems. With these improvements the building now has a Class A rating, an increase in tenant occupancy, and the typical office floor energy usage has been reduced by about 65%. The building owner received the Class L Property Tax Reduction incentive and utilized the 20% Federal Rehabilitation Tax Credit. The Inland Steel Building was designated a Chicago Landmark on October 7, 1998.

228 West Illinois (Former) Engine Company 42 Firehouse Rehabilitation

Recipient: Latsko Interests

The (Former) Engine Company 42 Firehouse was built in 1887 in the so-called “storefront” style and originally accommodated horse-drawn fire equipment. This firehouse features high-quality materials, fine craftsmanship, and distinctive masonry detailing which demonstrates the efforts of the Fire Department to be responsive to the surrounding Near North Side neighborhood’s historic architectural character. The developer undertook the rehabilitation of this historic firehouse as part of an Adopt-A-Landmark floor area bonus for an overall development that included construction of a 25-story mixed-use building with ground floor commercial space and 188 residential dwelling units. The work to the firehouse included masonry repairs, tuckpointing, cleaning and reconstruction of the missing stepped parapet. New windows and decorative mullions on the upper-floors were installed to match the originals and the ground-floor storefront and carriage doors were repaired and restored. 2337 South Michigan Motor Row District Rehabilitation

Recipient: BSB Holdings, LLC

The Motor Row District is considered to be the largest, intact early “motor colony” in the United States. This streetwall along South Michigan Avenue is formed by the continuous masonry fronts of showroom buildings and forms an indelible urban image of Chicago at the beginning of the 20th century, when the automobile became a standard feature of American life. This 3-story commercial building was built in 1910 for the Federal Motor Car Company Showroom. When the owner purchased the vacant building, portions of this front façade were hazardous, with structurally unsound brick walls and substantial water infiltration from the roof. The owner obtained an emergency repair permit and rebuilt the upper part of the façade using salvaged glazed brick. The overall rehabilitation project, which was subsidized with Tax Increment Financing, also included new storefronts and windows. The restored building is now used as a microbrewery with a bar area on the ground-floor and office space on the upper floors. The Motor Row District was designated a Chicago Landmark on December 13, 2000.

In 2013, the owner purchased the property and after consultation with the Department of Planning and Development as part of the Demolition Delay Ordinance, the owner consented to landmark designation. The exterior and interior rehabilitation project included masonry cleaning and repairs, repairs to the front decorative bay, a new front stair and ornamental railings, new windows. 4921 South Dorchester Kenwood District Rehabilitation

The Kenwood District on Chicago's South Side is comprised of tree-lined streets and spacious lots with grand single-family residences, many designed by prominent architects. This Queen-Anne house was built in the late nineteenth century and was designed by Frederick Perkins. The recipient purchased this house several years ago and undertook a major rehabilitation project. The non-historic siding was removed which exposed the deteriorated siding and scarring from original porch and window configuration. New cedar siding has been installed to match the historic profiles and the front porch was recreated. The curved glass windows at the corner turret and the art glass windows were restored and the remaining windows were replaced to match the historic windows. 2413-17 North Orchard Mid-North District Rehabilitation

Recipient: Ronan Construction

The streetscapes of the Mid-North district display a rich variety of design and textures united by common elements of scale, proportion, high-quality building materials, and fine craftsmanship. These structures display the common building type in this district - the balloon-frame cottage built on a base of common brick. These adjacent historic frame structures had been vacant and boarded for a number of years and were in building court due to their condition. This developer purchased the properties and undertook a major rehabilitation project to convert them back into single-family homes. Work included replacement of the non-historic front stairs, construction of new compatible front porches, replacement of siding, windows, and doors. The design of the replacement windows were based on the physical scarring uncovered. The brick base has been cleaned and tuckpointed and new garage door off the alley was installed. The Mid-North District was designated a Chicago Landmark on August 31, 1977.

3600 North Halsted 42nd Precinct/Town Hall Police Station Restoration and New Construction

Recipient: Heartland Housing and Center on Halsted

This police station is one of the oldest and most architecturally significant historic police station buildings in Chicago. The building exemplifies the influence of Classicism on the architecture of government and public buildings in the city during the early twentieth century. In 2010, the Public Building Commission issued an RFP to sell the structure for redevelopment. The building was purchased as part of a negotiated sale and the developers agreed to landmark the building. The project includes a new 6-story contemporary addition at the rear of the property. The project has 79 rental apartments for mixed income seniors aged 55 and older, including lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender seniors, along with community, retail, and office space. Restoration work to the historic police station included brick and limestone repairs, tuckpointing, cornice repairs, and removal of the non-historic window awnings. New window transoms were put in and a new glazed entry storefront system and recreation of a missing window were installed facing Addison Street. The addition, which was designed to appear as a separate building from the historic police station, is setback from the street which also allows the finished wall and cornice return of the historic structure to be left exposed. The addition's contemporary design has a brick first floor for the retail spaces and the upper-floors have a colored metal panel and glazing cladding system. The 42nd Precinct/Town Hall Police Station was designated a Chicago Landmark on September 11, 2013.

2018 West Walton Ukrainian Village District Extension New Construction

Recipient: Belinda Bauer

The historic development of this residential block includes primarily 1½-story Kerfoot cottages. This vacant lot sat within a row of nine Kerfoot cottages, and these cottages display only slight variations of roof heights, stoop heights, materials, and façade designs. The “Kerfoot cottage” is named for W.D. Kerfoot, a well-known real estate developer who was significant in the original development of this area. This new construction project is a good example of fitting within the constraints of a unified historic streetscape. The single-family house has a similar massing, uses compatible materials, and its design is in keeping with the architectural character of the adjacent historic cottages. The Ukrainian Village District Extension was designated a Chicago Landmark on April 11, 2007.

The John Baird Award for Stewardship In Historic Preservation

Recipients: Chicago Neighborhood Initiatives and National Parks Conservation Association

The John Baird Award for Stewardship was created to recognize those who advocate for preservation through long-term ownership of a historic landmark or extraordinary efforts to further preservation awareness. The declaration of Pullman as a National Monument on February 19, 2015 was an honor achieved largely through the advocacy efforts of Chicago Neighborhood Initiatives (CNI) and the National Parks Conservation Association (NPCA). Pullman has many local neighborhood organizations and residents united behind the effort to name Pullman a monument through the focused organization and strategic planning by both CNI and NPCA. In addition to working with residents, CNI and NPCA coordinated discussion and outreach between the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency and the National Park Service as well as legislative leaders to ensure coordination to move this effort forward. Locally-based Chicago Neighborhood Initiatives, created in 2010, has invested more than $5 million to renovate many historic row houses in the Pullman neighborhood. The National Parks Conservation Association is a non-profit organization that started in 1919 with the purpose of advocating for National Parks and the National Park Service. In an early effort on behalf of Pullman, NPCA, with the City of Chicago, published an economic report which stated that a Pullman National Monument will bring more than 300,000 visitors to the area each year, create 350 jobs annually and $15 million in annual wages, sustain $40 million in economic activity for the community, and generate more than $32 million per year in visitor spending. The Pullman District was designated a National Historic Landmark on December 30, 1970. South Pullman was designated a Chicago Landmark on October 16, 1972, and North Pullman on June 9th, 1993.
