From author Daniel Waters comes Passing Strange, the third book in the Generation Dead series.

Karen DeSonn tragically passed away, but the drama of her life has just begun.

You see, instead of staying dead, Karen joined the ranks of other Oakvale High School students who are labeled as “living impaired,” also known as zombies...

And in order to save her other undead friends who need her help, Karen has to pass as alive, and pose as the girlfriend of the one person she hates the most—Pete Martinsburg.

Will she be able to save the zombies from having to go into hiding and end Pete’s schemes for good?

Passing Strange is in stores now.
