Ivy Tech Procurement

- Ivy Tech has largely a de-centralized or “Center Led” procurement structure
  - What does this mean?
    - Purchasing is not done in one centralized location or central office
    - Purchasing decisions are largely made at a “purchasing center”, but each purchasing center must follow a central Procurement Policy that governs all purchasers for the College
  - What does this mean for prospective suppliers?
    - Opportunities to supply goods and services at multiple Campus locations throughout the state
    - Opportunities to build relationships with the multiple Campus locations (which often share referrals with other Ivy Tech campus sites)
    - But, may have different contact persons depending on location and goods / services being supplied
