Foreword

Texas Property Tax Code Section 5.09 directs the Comptroller to publish an annual report on the operations of appraisal districts. An appraisal district is a political subdivision of the state, authorized by law in each county, responsible for appraising property within its boundaries for taxing entities to use in setting their ad valorem tax rates. Appraisal districts are also called county appraisal districts or CADs.

This annual report includes appraised values by class of property, the total taxable value for most taxing units and the tax levy and tax rate for each county, school district and other taxing units in each appraisal district. Taxable value is a property's appraised value minus all applicable exemptions and other deductions or limitations. The tax levy is the total amount of taxes imposed by a taxing unit on taxable property within its boundaries.

Taxing units derive the tax rate by dividing the proposed tax levy by the taxable value of property and expressing it in dollars and cents per $100 of value. The assessor applies the rate to the taxable value to compute the amount of tax due on each property.

The Property Tax Code charges the Comptroller with reviewing the CADs' performance and providing information and technical assistance to CAD boards of directors, appraisal review boards (ARBs), tax professionals and the public.

An appraisal review board is an appointed group of appraisal district residents that hears taxing unit challenges and taxpayer protests. ARBs can also order corrections and must approve the appraisal records to create an equal and uniform appraisal roll for the taxing entities. An appraisal record shows the property identification number, owners' names, appraised value, the value of any exemptions and the taxable value of property. The appraisal records, when collected, reviewed and approved by the ARB, become the appraisal roll. A CAD's appraisal roll lists all properties within its boundaries; a taxing unit's appraisal roll lists the same data within its own boundaries.

CHAPTER 1

Focus on Statewide Taxes

In tax year 2006, Texas' 3,758 local taxing units levied $35.5 billion in property taxes, 6.2 percent more than in 2005.

The Texas Constitution authorizes local governments to levy property taxes. Local governments include counties, school districts, cities and special-purpose districts such as junior college, hospital, utilities, flood control and emergency service districts, among others.

Each of the state's 254 counties has a single appraisal district that determines the appraised value of taxable property, with the exception of Potter and Randall counties, which form a single district. Appraised value is the county appraisal district's estimate of the full market or productivity value of a property, usually as of Jan 1. Local governments, commonly called taxing units, levy property taxes based on the property values set by the CADs. Local governments set the tax rate based on their budgetary needs.

Table 1 shows taxing units for 2005 and 2006. It lists the number of units, the tax levy and the percent of levy per type of taxing unit for both years. It also compares the percentage change between 2005 and 2006 for each type of taxing unit. School property taxes—imposed by 1,027 independent school districts and representing about 58.8 percent of total property taxes—totaled about $20.9 billion in 2006. In that year, city property taxes increased to more than $5.3 billion, as did county property taxes. The levy of special purpose districts rose by 10.04 percent from 2005 to 2006, to more than $3.9 billion.

Property Tax Growth

Table 2 shows the growth in property taxes levied by the four major types of taxing units since tax year 1986. Comparing tax years 1986 to 2006, these taxing units' combined levies rose by 269.7 percent, or an average of about 13.5 percent per year.

Property Taxes Compared to Other Taxes

When examining the role of property taxes in state and local taxation, it is important to remember various taxes have different collection cycles. Table 3 and Figure A show the amount of 2005 property taxes levied compared to 2006 state sales tax, local sales tax and other state taxes. These figures represent tax expenditures for fiscal 2006, which ended on Aug. 31, 2006.

TABLE 3: Property Taxes in Relation to Other Taxes

Type of Tax	Tax Amount	Percent of Total Tax
Property Tax	$ 33,478,989,315	46.4%
State Sales Tax	$ 18,275,209,754	25.3%
Local Sales Taxes	$ 5,124,731,898	7.1%
Other State Taxes	$ 15,269,287,793	21.2%
Total Taxes	$ 72,148,218,760	100.0%

Source: Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts, Property Tax Division and 2006 Annual Cash Report.

Figure A graphically illustrates amounts and percentages of the taxes listed in Table 3. State and local sales taxes, other state taxes and property taxes exceeded $72.1 billion in 2006. Property tax represented the largest tax source, at almost $33.5 billion or 46.4 percent of the major four tax sources.

State sales taxes, the next largest revenue source at $18.2 billion, represented 25.3 percent of the total. Other state taxes totaled $15.2 billion, or 21.2 percent, followed by local sales tax revenue at $5.1 billion, or 7.1 percent of the total.

When combined with other state taxes, such as motor fuels and motor vehicle taxes, the franchise tax, oil and gas severance taxes, mixed beverage and cigarette taxes and all other taxes, the state's share of the total state and local tax levy is about 46.5 percent.

Tax Rate Rollback Activity

While the Comptroller is not required to track rollback elections, the agency assembles this data from information provided by CADs.

Local voters may limit adopted tax rates if local taxing units adopt rates above their rollback tax rates. A rollback tax rate is the rate a taxing unit other than a school district may not exceed without allowing its voters to petition for a reduced rate. A school district exceeding this rate must hold an election automatically, without the need of a petition process, to allow its voters to roll back the tax rate.

Local voters in only one of the 15 school districts that exceeded the rollback rate succeeded in limiting their 2006 adopted tax rate. That school district was Montague Independent School District. Voters in the other 14 school districts ratified 2006 tax rates that exceeded their rollback rates. In 2005, 17 school districts exceeded the rollback rate; two districts had to limit their tax rates after an election.

Except for school districts, the rollback rate provides the taxing unit with about the same amount of tax revenue it spent in the previous year for day-to-day operations, plus an 8 percent increase for those operations, as well as sufficient funds to pay debts in the coming year. In 2006, for their rollback rate calculation, school districts multiplied the adopted 2005 operating tax rate by 88.67 percent plus a 4-cent increase for operations plus the necessary rate to pay for the coming year's debt requirements.

If a local taxing unit other than a school district adopts a tax rate above the rollback rate, local voters may petition for an election to roll back the adopted tax rate to the calculated rollback tax rate. A school district that adopts a tax rate above the rollback rate must hold a rollback election between 30 and 90 days after its board of trustees adopts the rate. Again, no petition by citizens is required. The school district's election differs from other taxing units in that the school district asks voters to ratify the district's adopted tax rate. If a simple majority of the votes cast in the election favors the adopted tax rate, it stands. If the voters disapprove the adopted rate, the school district's rollback rate becomes the adopted tax rate.

Table 4 shows the taxing units that held rollback elections in 2006; the county in which each taxing unit is located; the election results; the adopted tax rate; the rollback tax rate; and the percent by which the adopted tax rate exceeded the rollback rate. Tax rates are per $100 of value.

County voters are more likely to roll back the tax rate via an election. Since 1982, 83.3 percent of county rollback elections have received voter approval (Table 5). By contrast, only slightly more than a quarter of school district rollback elections rejected a school board's adopted tax rate. In all, Texas voters have approved about 43 percent of tax rollback elections since 1982.

Over the last 24 years, the number of rollback elections called by voters has spiked four times, in 1982, 1990, 2001 and 2004 (Figure B). Voter approval of these elections, however, has declined steadily over the years.

Appraisal Districts

In 2006, Texas' county appraisal districts continued to appraise property with uniform results and close to market value. Market value is the price at which a property would transfer for cash or its equivalent under prevailing market conditions, if:

- it is exposed for sale in the open market with a reasonable time for the seller to find a purchaser;
- both the seller and the purchaser know of all the uses and purposes to which the property is adapted and for which it is capable of being used, and of the enforceable restrictions on its use; and
- both the seller and purchaser seek to maximize their gains and neither is in a position to take advantage of the exigencies of the other.

State law requires tax appraisals to be equal, uniform and at market value. The median appraisal ratio measures how close a CAD's typical appraisal is to market value. A median is a statistical measure of "central tendency"—the middle number in a group of numbers ranked from highest to lowest. If the sequence of numbers has an even number of entries, the median is the average of the two middle numbers. According to the 2006 Property Value Study, the CADs' median appraisal ratio for market value was 99 percent.

The tool the appraisal industry uses to measure appraisal uniformity is the coefficient of dispersion (COD), which measures whether appraisal districts are appraising properties at an equal percentage of market value. It does this by measuring how closely arrayed individual ratios are around the median ratio; the smaller the measure of dispersion, the greater the uniformity of the ratios.

Property assessment is more equitable when appraisers group the individual ratios more closely around the median. According to the International Association of Assessing Officers, "...a coefficient of 10 percent or less indicates a good distribution of assessments for residential properties. Similarly, a coefficient of 15 percent or less indicates a good distribution for more diverse classes (of property)..."

In 2006, the statewide COD was 11.61, compared to the previous year's 11.24.

Table 6 compares the statewide median appraisal ratios from the Property Value Studies for 1996 through 2006. The Comptroller calculates the statewide median appraisal ratio for an individual property category using the appraisal ratios of all sample properties in that category from across the state. The agency then calculates the overall statewide median appraisal ratio using the appraisal ratios for all sample properties.

Appraisal District Workload

The Comptroller reports on appraisal district operations in the Appraisal District Operations Report. Each year, the Comptroller’s Property Tax Division (PTD) surveys the state’s 253 appraisal offices to obtain data about their operations and their budgets and plans for the following year. Each year’s report is available on the Comptroller’s Web site, Window on State Government, at www.window.state.tx.us/taxinfo/proptax/reports.html.

In 2006, Texas CADs appraised more than 16.7 million pieces of property. The CADs performed this task with operating expenses of about $301.6 million. The total result of these appraised values exceeded $1.6 trillion. In 2005, appraised property totaled $1.5 trillion.

Property Tax Code Section 25.18 requires CADs to reappraise all real and personal property in their districts at least once every three years. Many CADs reappraise all property every year. For the 2006 tax year, 160 CADs, or 63.2 percent, reported complete reappraisals, while 127 CADs planned to reappraise for the 2007 tax year.

Texas CADs mailed 9.6 million notices of property value in 2006. In response to those notices, property owners filed 987,145 written protests, 15.4 percent more than the 855,245 filed in the previous year on 2005 values.

Appraisal review boards scheduled 505,951 formal hearings for the filed protests, 33,414 hearings or 7.1 percent more than in 2005. More than a third of the taxpayers involved, 193,892 or 38.3 percent, did not show up for their scheduled hearing.

Table 8 highlights the appraisal district workload for the 25-year period from 1982 through 2006. A parcel is any item of real property, regardless of size, that has a single owner or multiple owners in undivided ownership, and for which there is a separate appraisal record.

Appraisal District Expenditures

Final 2006 CAD operating expenses totaled $301.6 million, or an average of $18.87 per parcel. The average 2006 CAD operating budget exceeded $1.2 million, 7.2 percent greater expenses than in 2005.

The 2006 expenditures by individual CADs varied by size and types of property appraised. Panola CAD reported the lowest cost per parcel, at $2.16. Somervell CAD reported the higher operating costs of $56.88 per parcel. This range reflects the type of property a CAD appraises; for example, 90 percent of Panola CAD's value is mineral properties. Each interest, or share, in a mineral lease represents an account, and while the number of accounts within a lease can be numerous, only one appraisal is necessary per lease (the value is prorated among the mineral owners). Therefore, the costs per account for mineral properties seem unrealistically low. Somervell CAD, on the other hand, is home to the Comanche Peak nuclear facility and has a high concentration of industrial property that requires significant expertise to appraise, accounting for Somervell's high cost per parcel.

Local taxing units pay CAD expenses according to the proportion of the property tax levy to the total property taxes levied by all taxing units within the CAD. Since local taxing units fund CAD budgets, the taxing units may veto the budget adopted by the CAD's board of directors. Taxing units in five CADs vetoed their 2006 budgets, as allowed by Property Tax Code Section 6.06. While the average statewide cost per account was $18.87 in 2006, grouping the CADs by account sizes shows the variance in costs per account, with three groups of appraisal districts exceeding the state average (Table 9).

Local Self Report Data – 2006

Table 10 includes detailed appraisal information reported by each CAD in Texas. For each CAD, the reports list total appraised value in 15 property categories developed by the Comptroller's office:

- Category A. Real Property: Single-family Residential. Houses, condominiums and mobile homes located on land owned by the occupant.
- Category B. Real Property: Multifamily Residential. Residential structures containing two or more dwelling units whose individual units do not have separate owners. Includes apartments but not motels or hotels.
- Category C. Real Property: Vacant Lots and Tracts. Unimproved land parcels usually located within or adjacent to cities. No minimum or maximum size requirement.
- Category D. Rural Real (D1, D2 and E): Productivity value of land qualified for special-use appraisal and the market value of unqualified rural tracts and farm and ranch improvements.
- Category F1. Real Property: Commercial. Land and improvements devoted to sales, entertainment or services to the public. Does not include utility property, which is included in Category J.
- Category F2. Real Property: Industrial. Land and improvements devoted to the development, manufacturing, fabrication, processing or storage of a product, except for utility property included in Category J.
- Category G. Oil, Gas and Other Minerals. Producing and non-producing wells, all other minerals and mineral interests and equipment used to bring the oil and gas to the surface. Does not include the surface rights.
- Category H. Tangible Personal Property: Nonbusiness Vehicles. Privately owned automobiles, motorcycles and light trucks not used to produce income.
- Category J. Real and Personal Property: Utilities. All real and tangible personal property of railroads, pipelines, electric companies, gas companies, telephone companies, water systems, cable TV companies and other utility companies.
- Category L1. Personal Property: Commercial. All tangible personal property, including fixtures, equipment and inventory, used by a commercial business to produce income.
- Category L2. Personal Property: Industrial. All tangible personal property, including fixtures, equipment and inventory, used by an industrial business to produce income.
- Category M. Mobile Homes and Other Tangible Personal Property (M1 and M2). Taxable personal property not included in other categories, such as mobile homes on land owned by someone else. May include privately owned aircraft, boats, travel trailers, motor homes and mobile homes on rented or leased land.

- Category N. Intangible Personal Property. All taxable intangible property not otherwise classified.
- Category O. Real Property: Residential Inventory. Residential real property inventory held for sale and appraised as provided by Property Tax Code Section 23.12.
- Category S. Special Inventory. Certain property inventories of businesses that provide items for sale to the public. State law requires the appraisal district to appraise these inventory items based on the business' total annual sales in the prior tax year. There are four types of Category S properties: dealers' motor vehicle inventory, dealers' heavy equipment inventory, dealers' vessel and outboard motor inventory and retail manufactured housing inventory.

The appraisal information includes the total appraised value for each CAD. Because taxing units in an appraisal district offer different exemptions, it is inappropriate to show total taxable value for each appraisal district. An exemption is the exclusion of all or part of a property's value from property taxation. Absolute exemption excludes the total value of property from taxation; partial exemption excludes a part of the property's total value. Total taxable value is the value after reducing the appraised value for exemptions.

Focus on School Taxes

In 2006, 1,027 Texas independent school districts (ISDs) reported property tax rates, levies and values to the Comptroller's office. The ISDs reported an average adopted tax rate of $1.450 per $100 of appraised value and more than $20.9 billion in tax levies on a total appraised property value of $1.5 trillion. Because of the school district maintenance and operations (M&O) tax rate reductions required by House Bill 1, passed in the 79th Legislature, Third Called Session, the average tax rate decreased by 11.8 cents since 2005. While the average tax rate fell, the levy increased by almost $725 million (3.6 percent) because property values rose by more than $150.7 billion, or 12.5 percent.

The ISD reports do not include local school taxes by special county equalization districts and South Texas ISD, a school district that operates tuition-free magnet schools for students in a three-county area. Tax rates reported are per $100 of property value.

School Tax Rates

Some 95.8 percent of Texas school districts reduced their local adopted tax rates in 2006; 1 percent kept the same rate; and the remaining 3.2 percent increased their rates. The 2006 average statewide tax rate was $1.450 per $100 of value, compared to the 2005 average statewide tax rate of $1.568 per $100 of value. The rate calculation uses the adopted tax rates divided by the number of school districts reporting.

Table 11 provides rate change information for school districts. School district tax rates have two components. The M&O rate covers general operating costs such as teacher salaries and school building maintenance. The interest and sinking (I&S) rate, usually called the "debt" rate, is used to repay school district debt for voter-approved bonds used to build instructional facilities. In a few school districts, increases in the I&S rate offset the decrease in the M&O rate required by House Bill 1, or even caused an overall rate increase.

Only five districts had adopted tax rates of less than $1, one more than in 2005.

In 2006, about 65.8 percent of the districts (676) had combined rates between $1 and $1.50 per $100 of value. The remaining 346 districts, or 33.7 percent, had rates range from about $1.50 to $1.841.

The state’s 2006 average M&O rate for ISDs was $1.33, while ISDs’ debt rates averaged almost 12 cents. About 26.2 percent of ISDs (269) did not have a 2006 I&S rate for repaying debt obligations. Of the 758 ISDs with debt rates, 14 districts had a debt rate of $0.40 or more. McKinney ISD, in Collin County, had the highest debt rate at $0.471. With its M&O rate of $1.37, the district’s total rate was $1.841.

School Tax by Property Type

The Comptroller uses data the CADs submit electronically to estimate the distribution of exemptions across property value categories and to reclassify some of these categories according to type of property value. Residential inventory now is included in business properties. Manufactured homes as well as farm and ranch improvements are now included with the residential properties section.

The residential property category, including single-family homes, multi-family units, farm and ranch improvements and mobile homes, continues to bear the greatest share of the school tax burden. Texas residential properties represented 53 percent of the 2006 school tax levy, while single-family residences represented 46 percent. Their school property taxes rose by $500 million over 2005’s result.

Business properties accounted for almost 43 percent of local 2006 school taxes, or about $9 billion. Commercial real estate bore the largest burden of all business properties, at 16 percent of the total tax burden or more than $3 billion. Taxes on commercial real estate totaled $1.4 billion. The next-largest tax burden fell on oil and gas properties, at more than $1.3 billion, followed by industrial real property at about $1.1 billion; industrial personal property at almost $1 billion; utilities at $620 million; residential inventory at $100 million; and special inventory at about $70 million.

Vacant lots and rural acreage generated just under 5 percent of school taxes, with about $950 million in school property taxes.

Table 13 shows Texas properties grouped into four main property types: residential, business, acreage/lots/farm and ranch improvements and other personal property. The fourth type, other personal property, includes privately owned vehicles taxed in school districts. It represented less than one-quarter of 1 percent of total 2006 school taxes at $3.3 million.

Property Value Trends

For tax year 2006, taxable local values rose in 982 school districts, with an average increase in value of 14.5 percent. By contrast, 979 school districts experienced an average increase in value of more than 11.4 percent in tax year 2005.

Values declined in 45 districts by an average of 5.4 percent in 2006. In the 2005 tax year, values declined by an average of more than 4.5 percent in 67 school districts.

Property values of single-family residences, before exemptions, rose by 10.3 percent in 2006, following increases of more than 7.9 percent in 2005 and 7 percent in 2004. This category is the largest in appraised value, representing 49.1 percent of all school district appraised values.

Multifamily residence values rose by almost 10 percent in 2006, following an 8.8 percent increase in 2005.

Commercial real property increased 13.4 percent in 2006, following an increase of 8.4 percent in 2005. Industrial real property also saw appraised values rise by 13.3 percent, following a 1.9 percent increase in 2005.

Industrial personal property gained 10.5 percent in value in 2006, following a 10.5 percent increase in 2005. Commercial personal property values rose by 6.2 percent, compared to an increase of 4 percent in 2005.

Utilities increased in value by 3.3 percent in 2006, after an increase of 0.4 percent in 2005.

Oil, gas and mineral properties rose by 37.9 percent in 2006, after an increase of 29.9 percent in 2005.

Residential inventory, which is residential property held for sale by the developer, experienced its sixth year of rising average value, increasing by almost 17.6 percent in 2006. Special inventory, which is the inventory value of motor vehicles, boats, heavy equipment and manufactured housing that dealers are required to report to appraisal districts and county tax offices, rose by 7.3 percent.

School Districts Local Self Report Data – 2006

Texas Tax Code Section 5.09 requires the Comptroller’s annual report to include, for each school district, the total appraised value by property class, the total taxable value and the tax rate. Table 14 shows that Texas’ school districts had appraised values exceeding $1.5 trillion in 2006. Their taxable value, after deducting exemptions and other deductions, was $1.3 trillion. The combined school tax levy was more than $20.9 billion.

Table 15 lists school districts according to a six-digit numbering system used by the Texas Education Agency. The first three digits denote the county in which a particular school district is located. The last three digits identify the school district. The appendix groups school districts by county and lists counties in alphabetical order. To assist the reader in locating a particular school district, Table 16 provides an alphabetical index of school districts.

Table 15 presents total appraised value in 15 property categories for each school district. Definitions for each of these categories are included in Chapter 2. Appraised value represents the productivity value of qualified agricultural and timberland and the market value of all other property categories as of Jan. 1, 2006. Taxable value is the appraised value minus partial exemptions and other deductions.

Many school districts report little or no 2006 value in Category H, Tangible Personal Property: Nonbusiness Vehicles. Personal property not used to produce income, such as personal vehicles, is exempt from taxation unless a school district takes official action to tax it. Category M, Mobile Homes and Other Tangible Personal Property, represents the property value of other personal property such as manufactured homes. Although Category N, Intangible Personal Property, appears in this appendix, there is little or no intangible personal property value to tax.

Following the subtotal value for the property categories in each school district, the item labeled state exemptions shows the amount of appraised value that was not taxable because of state-mandated exemptions. This figure includes the homestead exemptions and disabled veteran's exemptions, but does not include the amount of value exempted for tax abatements; these are included in other deductions.

Local % Homestead Exempt Grant indicates whether the school district granted a local option percentage homestead exemption, and the percentage granted, if any. Local % Homestead Exempt Value shows the total amount of value not taxed because the ISD offers this local-option exemption. For 2006, 218 school districts granted local option percentage homestead exemptions ranging from 1 to 20 percent.

Local 65+/Disabled Value indicates the amount of value not taxed because of the local option exemption granted by the school district to homeowners who are more than 65 years old or disabled. During 2006, 195 school districts offered this exemption.

Other Deductions represents the taxable value lost to freeport exemptions, pollution control exemptions, tax abatements, exemptions for solar or wind power, economic development, low-income housing, historical exemptions and any other value on which the school district cannot collect taxes.

Value Lost to Tax Freeze represents value not taxable because CADs established tax ceilings for homeowners 65 or older or disabled.

Value Lost to 10 % Homestead Cap is the value loss for the limited homestead value restriction on increases in residential homestead appraised value of more than 10 percent per year since the homestead's last reappraisal.

Taxable Value reflects the deductions for all exemptions for each ISD and for the value lost to the tax freeze for homeowners aged 65 or older.

The table also shows the school districts' adopted tax rates and the actual levy reported by the school district. This may be different from a calculated levy, depending on local circumstances.

CHAPTER 4

Focus on County Taxes

Total property values in Texas counties increased by 11.9 percent, from almost 1.4 trillion to over $1.5 trillion (Table 17). The overall tax levy also increased by 11.9 percent, from $4.7 billion to $5.3 billion.

Single-family residences continue to be the primary source of county property values, accounting for 49 percent of all county value in 2006. This is slightly lower than in 2005 when the share was 49.5 percent. Intangible personal property value fell from $10.4 million in 2005 to $3.9 million in 2006. Oil, gas and minerals saw the highest percent increase in value, from $67.7 billion in 2005 to $93.1 billion in 2006.

County Deductions

State law requires counties to grant a $3,000 homestead exemption for the farm-to-market roads and flood control tax. In 2006, this exemption totaled $3.2 billion.

The amount of exemption may be greater for homeowners aged 65 or older or disabled. One hundred ninety-three counties granted the local option exemption to over-65 or disabled persons, which accounted for a loss of $48.8 billion in value. For 2006, 112 counties granted local-option percentage homestead exemptions ranging from 1 to 20 percent. This accounted for a loss of $62.9 billion in value.

County Tax Rates

Each county may levy as many as three individual tax rates for funds dedicated to specific purposes as provided by the Texas Constitution. Those three funds include farm-to-market roads and flood control, general fund and a special road and bridge fund.

All 254 Texas counties impose a tax for the general fund. In 2006, that levy totaled $5.1 billion. For the 2006 tax year, 118 counties reported levying the farm-to-market roads and flood control taxes, raising $158.5 million. Sixty-eight counties levied the special road and bridge tax, raising $76.7 million.

Counties Local Self Report Data – 2006

Table 18 summarizes county property values, exemptions, deductions and tax levies statewide. Property Tax Code Section 5.09 requires the Comptroller's annual report to include for each county the total appraised value of property by class, total taxable value and tax rate.

For each county, Table 18 lists total appraised value in 15 property categories, as defined in Chapter 2. Appraised value represents the market value of property on Jan. 1, 2006. Qualified agricultural and timberlands receive productivity appraisal. Taxable value means the appraised value minus partial exemptions and other possible deductions.

Many counties report little or no 2006 value in Category H, Tangible Personal Property: Nonbusiness Vehicles. Personal property not used to produce income, such as personal vehicles, is exempt from taxation unless a school district takes official action to tax it. Category M, Mobile Homes and Other Tangible Personal Property, represents the property value of other personal property such as manufactured homes. Although Category N, Intangible Personal Property, appears in this appendix, there is little or no intangible personal property value to tax.

Category S, Special Inventory, includes certain property inventory of businesses that provide items for sale to the public. State law requires these appraisal districts to appraise inventory items based on businesses' total annual sales in the prior tax year. There are four types of Category S properties: dealer's motor vehicle inventory, dealer's heavy equipment inventory, dealer's vessel and outboard motor inventory and retail manufactured housing inventory.

Total value in each category is the appraised value before exemptions.

Permanent University Fund Lands

The Permanent University Fund (PUF) provides money for the maintenance and support of the University of Texas, Texas A&M University and most of their branch campuses. The fund owns more than 2 million acres in 22 Texas counties. Under the provisions of Texas Constitution Article VII, Section 16(a), the state pays county taxes on the land.

In 2006, the taxable value of PUF land and minerals was $412,333,938. The state paid $1,806,380 in county taxes on that land. Table 19 provides an alphabetical list, by county, of the value of PUF-owned land.

Focus on City Taxes

In 2006, 1,044 Texas cities reported taxable value of $944.6 billion, an increase of $88 billion or 10.2 percent from 2005. In 2006, cities levied $5.3 billion in taxes, compared to $4.9 billion in 2005.

As indicated in Figure C, residential homeowners contributed the largest portion of value to cities in 2006, with 54.5 percent of market value. The commercial and industrial sector carried the next largest load, with 33.3 percent of value, including 20.7 percent in real property and 12.6 percent in personal property. Apartment complexes accounted for 6 percent of appraised values, while utilities and vacant lots each accounted for about 2 percent. Rural real properties accounted for 0.9 percent of value. Rural real properties include the market value of rural acreage that does not qualify for productivity appraisal; the productivity value of acreage that qualifies for agricultural and timberland appraisal; and the market value of farm and ranch improvements. Table 20 provides detailed dollar amounts for the appraised value of the various city property categories.

Taxable value reflects deductions for property value not taxable because of applicable homestead exemptions, tax abatements, reinvestment zones and other exemptions. In 2006, 200 cities granted local-option percentage homestead exemptions ranging from 1 to 20 percent, the maximum allowed by law. Table 21 shows all deductions to property value granted by cities.

The total value lost to exemptions granted by cities was $100,592,108,652 in 2006.

The Texas Constitution, Article XI, Sections 4 and 5, limits the rate at which a city can levy a property tax. The Constitution caps the tax rate for cities of 5,000 or less at $1.50 per $100 of valuation. Larger cities, with populations of 5,000 or more, may levy up to $2.50 per $100 of valuation. A home-rule city may limit this rate to less than $2.50 per $100 of value in its charter. Type B, general-law cities may only levy a property tax of up to 25 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The average property tax rate in Texas cities in 2006 was $0.4865, up slightly from 2005's $0.4863. The average tax for maintenance and operations was $0.3964 and for debt it was $0.0901. Eighteen Texas cities had tax rates of more than $1.00 per $100 of valuation. The city of Camp Wood in Real County had the highest rate at $1.50, all assessed to retire debt. Four other cities also only assessed taxes for retiring debt. The village of Bee Cave in Travis County assessed the lowest tax rate, at $0.02 per $100 of value. More than half of the cities (550) had tax rates of less than $0.50 per $100 of value.

This report of property taxes includes information on 1,044 cities that levied a property tax in 2006. Table 22 groups the cities according to the appraisal districts in which they are located and lists the appraisal districts in alphabetical order. Some cities appear more than once because more than one appraisal district may appraise property for them. To assist the reader in locating a particular city, Table 23 provides an alphabetical list of cities.

Focus on Special-Purpose District Taxes

Special-purpose districts (SPDs) are units of local government that provide services to specific groups of constituents. Most Texas SPDs have the authority to levy taxes on personal and commercial property. The Legislature first authorized SPDs in the form of water districts in 1904, to provide irrigation services. Today, 1,433 SPDs assess and collect property taxes to provide services including city transit, crime control, county development and improvement, economic development, emergency services, fire prevention, health, hospitals, community colleges, library, municipal and town development and improvement, utilities, noxious weed control, ports and roads.

Property Tax Code Section 5.09 authorizes the Comptroller to provide detailed property tax information for special-purpose taxing units in its annual report. This chapter provides 2006 SPD property tax information from data reported to the Comptroller's office.

The average tax rate levied by SPDs was $0.4256 in 2006, 7.3 percent more than 2005's average of $0.3967. More than half of the tax rate average is dedicated to I&S, or debt service. In 2006, SPDs dedicated an average $0.2173 of their taxes to debt, compared to $0.2070 for M&O. In 2006, the Dallas County Flood Control District assessed the highest tax rate of all Texas SPDs, at $2.8355 per $100 of valuation. Almost all of this rate was dedicated to debt service ($2.8338). The Gillespie County Water Control and Improvement District only collects $0.0001 per $100 of valuation, all of which is dedicated to M&O. Eighty-four SPDs do not have an M&O tax, while 723 do not have one for I&S.

In 2006, these rates generated more than $3.9 billion in tax revenue for SPDs, $362.5 million more than in 2005. The largest SPD in terms of its tax levy was the Harris County Hospital District, with 2006 revenue of $434.2 million (Table 24). Four of the top ten SPDs are hospital or health-related districts; five are community college districts; and one is a flood control district. At the other end of the spectrum is the Brushy Creek Municipal Utility District – Cornerstone, with a 2006 tax levy of $40.

Table 25 groups the SPDs according to the appraisal districts in which they are located, and lists the appraisal districts in alphabetical order. Some SPDs appear more than once because more than one appraisal district may appraise property for them. Jasper CAD did not report rates and levies for six active SPDs; these are listed in Table 25 with zero values.
