

Pendulous Paperbark

Melaleuca fluviatilis

mel-luh-LOO-kuh floo-vee-AT-ih-liss

Category: Large Tree
(over 10m)

Height: 25 metres

Spread: 15 metres

Full sun

Drought tolerant
once established

Well-drained soil

Bee attracting

Butterfly attracting

A tree with papery bark, narrow leaves, and spikes of white or creamy-coloured flowers, usually found growing along streams and rivers.

The branches are pendulous and bear long, narrow leaves. The creamy flowers are borne in spikes (bottlebrush) and are followed by persistent woody capsules.

HOT TIP: This large, fast-growing tree is suitable for use in situations where its size and large spreading surface roots will not cause problems.